20TH YEAR. NO. 157. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, JULY 6, 1903. TWO CENTS.

PHYSICIAN SAYS SHE WILL RECOVER

Despondent as the result of many weeks' illness and disappointment in love, pretty Mary Brown, aged 19, made a desperate attempt to end her life in Wellsville yesterday morning by swallowing a large quantity of iodine. That she was not successful was due to the strenuous efforts of Dr. Hutchison, who was called immediately after her rash act became known.

Miss Brown is employed in the United States pottery in the west end of Wellsville. She moved to Wellsville several months ago from Van Port, Pa., where she was born and lived the most of her life. She has resided with the family of Robert Lomax, Steubenville and Twelfth streets, since her arrival in Wellsville and the members of the family state that for three weeks past she had acted queerly, sitting for hours looking vaguely into space. They were not, in consequence, much surprised upon hearing of the girl's deed.

Without giving notice as to where she was going, Miss Brown left the Lomax home yesterday morning and it has been learned went directly to an up town pharmacy, where she bought a bottle of iodine. She gave no reason for making the purchase, paying for the poison and departing.

Upon leaving the store the girl took a rather circuitous route toward her boarding house, going from Main street to Broadway, down Broadway to Fifth street, and thence into a rather deserted alley. She followed this route to Twelfth street where she stopped and, raising the bottle to her lips, swallowed the greater part of its contents. People living in the vicinity heard her scream as the fluid coursed down her throat and a score or more rushed to her. Before they reached the girl she had fallen to the pavement and was suffering so terribly that she could not give them any idea as to her place of abode. Finally some one happened on the scene who knew her and she was at once removed to the Lomax home.

Dr. Hutchison was summoned and, after an application of antidotes and many other remedies used in such cases, revived the young girl considerably.

Miss Brown suffered intensely throughout the hours of last night and, though some better today, she writhed continuously as the result of the agony. The physician thinks she will recover.

LIGHT BUSINESS FOR THE OFFICERS

Over the Fourth—One Victim Claimed He Had Been Doped—Other Cases.

RESISTED AN OFFICER

There was little doing in police circles on the Fourth. The officers were given orders to allow the people more rope than usual and only those who were unable to navigate or became bad were hauled to central station. The total number of arrests during the day was less than a dozen, and as a result Mayor Weaver's court this morning was rather tame.

Aaron Kountz, employed at the Vulcan brick yards, near Wellsville, was arrested in the East End by Officers Fisher and Wilson. He claims he was doped. He piled on a street car near the Diamond after drinking three small glasses of beer and eating two dishes of ice cream. The composition had a telling effect upon him. He does not even remember when the police got him and was greatly surprised when he awoke behind prison bars. When arraigned this morning he pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $5. Chief Wyman was requested by him to find $21.65 that was stolen from him while enroute to the East End.

While drunk and raising a free-for-all fight on the platform at the passenger depot Saturday evening, Carl Gaskill was arrested by Officer McDermott. He had been taking in the sights with a number of friends and relatives during the day and went to the depot to bid a visitor farewell. The booze than he had consumed got into his hair and he started a fight with about a dozen innocent bystanders. When the officer rushed into make the arrest several interfered and it was necessary to call citizens for assistance. A brother of Gaskill was taken in charge by Henry Bullock for attempting to break the officer's hold on the man he had in custody and both were taken to city hall. One of them placed $10 for his appearance this evening. Carl was fined $10 and costs this morning.

August Nelson was arrested by Officers Fisher and Wilson for being drunk. He will be arraigned this evening. Charles Figley paid $5 for being intoxicated. Three other men whose names could not be learned were arrested on a similar charge. They paid and were released.

JOHN BROADBENT SERIOUSLY WOUNDED

He Was Shot By a Friend Who Thought He Was a Burglar.

Salineville, July 6.—(Special)—John Boadbent, a deaf mute, of East Liverpool, was shot and seriously wounded here last night under peculiar circumstances.

He arrived here on a train early in the evening and went immediately in search of his grandparents, both of whom are dead, knowledge of which Broadbent did not possess. After running around over town for a couple of hours he went to the home of Walter Goddard and knocked on the back door for admission. Goddard answered the call and asked the mute who he was and what he wanted.

Of course Broadbent could not reply, and Goddard, thinking he was a burglar, fired a revolver at the intruder. Broadbent fell to the ground and Goddard, upon rushing to his side, recognized him and knew that he had made an awful mistake. A physician was called and dressed the wound. He will recover.

A YOUNG MAN FROM MONACA

"Touched" While Riding in a Local Street Car—The Job Was Neatly Done.

While riding on a street car from Chester to this city Saturday evening Frank Mackall, a young man of Monaca, who was sepnding the Fourth with relatives on Fifth street, was made the victim of a pickpocket. He was robbed of $8 and a valuable piece of jewelry.

Mackall states that the car was crowded and that he knew nothing of the theft until the next morning when he glanced at his trousers on a chair near his bed. He noticed a long slit in the fob pocket, and investigating discovered the loss. He remembers of several people pressing him tightly on the car and supposes that the job was done at that time. The matter was reported to central station, but the officers having no clue were unable to get a trace of the thief.

STATE TEACHERS' FINE CONVENTION

Those Attending from East Liverpool Have Returned—Delegates Got Pretty Badges.

Prof. R. E. Rayman has returned from the annual convention of the Ohio State Teachers' association, which was held in Put-in-Bay last week. He reports that the convention was one of the best ever held by the association. During the session a number of very able addresses were delivered and several interesting papers were read. The subjects were exceedingly well chosen, being of a practical, every-day nature. The program was prepared by the executive committee, of which Prof. Rayman is a member.

The badges worn by the delegates were the gift of the East Liverpool schools. They were pretty as well as appropriate, being a Buckeye tied with red, white and blue ribbon. On the buckeye were the dates "1803-1903" in gold.

The convention had one of the best attendances for years. From this city Prof. Rayman was accompanied by Miss Updegraff, whose paper on "The Ethical Value of Literature in the High School," was received with great favor by the convention. Miss Anna Gardner and Miss Carrie Gavers also attended.

The convention will meet at Put-in-Bay again next year. The exact date is not yet decided, but it will probably be the last week in June.

Court Adjourned.

Lisbon, July 6.—(Special.)—Court adjourned until Monday, July 14. In the case of the Beggs Manufacturing company of Chicago versus J. L. Lewis, of Kensington, the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff. The Beggs company sued for money alleged to be due on a bill of goods.

ITALIAN KILLED BY FAST TRAIN

SURVIVED BY 2 BROTHERS

New Galilee, July 6.—(Special)—Jimmie Trumbo, an Italian section hand, was killed here this morning by No. 24, a fast express on the P. F. W. & C. railroad.

Trumbo, with some 25 fellow laborers, were at work in the yards near the depot, and it is supposed the unfortunate man was too slow in moving away from the track. The engine struck the foreigner with such force as to break every bone in his body, and he was hurled over an embankment 20 feet away. When picked up by his comrades he was quite dead, and the services of a physician, who had been hastily summoned, were not needed.

The body was terribly mutilated, and his entire body was a mass of bruises. The body was carried to the depot and there prepared for burial. It was taken to Trenton Station this afternoon, and the funeral will be held tomorrow morning.

Trumbo was about 40 years of age, and single. He had two brothers in Galilee, one of whom was at his side when he was killed.

Attractive Fire Works—Many of the residents of Thompson hill made that locality attractive by setting off fire works on Saturday evening. Among those who made displays that attracted the attention of many spectators were J. H. Brookes and Joshua Poole, of Pennsylvania avenue; Louis Weaver, Ira Eells and Mr. McLaughlin, Thompson avenue.

ONE FATALITY ON THE FOURTH

CARELESSNESS AT FAULT

An East End Boy Shoots Himself Seriously With a Toy Pistol—Several Minor Mishaps Due to Careless Handling of Explosives.

As usual, accidents were more numerous in the city on Saturday, and though none of the victims were killed, a large number were so badly hurt that they will have something to remind them of the occasion for many a day to come.

The only casualty occurring in East Liverpool over the Fourth happened at an early hour on the morning of that day, the victim being Denver Easter, an elevator worker of Hazelwood, Pa., who was faltally injured by the midnight train at the local passenger station.

Easter had stopped off in this city on his way home. He had procured a lunch at a Second street restaurant, and afterward made his way to the station to await the arrival of the train. He did not attempt to board the train when it stopped, but sauntered about while the passengers were alighting. As the train was pulling out the man made a rush for it, and becoming confused, caught the hand rails of two cars instead of the regular handles of the smoker, and without being conscious of the fact swung between and was crushed beneath the wheels.

John Clark and Charles Loomis were eye witnesses to the terrible accident, and at once gave the alarm. The patrol arrived in a few minutes and the unfortunate man was gathered up and taken to city hall. The physicians who had been called had not put in an appearance, and the men in charge of the case conveyed the victim to the office of Dr. W. W. Hamilton, on Fifth street, where he was made as comfortable as the circumstances would permit. Officers McDermott, Dunn and Saulsberry accompanied the patrol and cared for the men as best they could. Easter was suffering terribly when he reached the city hall and soon afterwards broke down completely and wept like a child. He was rational, however, and gave the officers his name and address.

One of Easter's legs was terribly mangled from the ankle to the thigh, while the other was so badly mangled that it was plain if his life was saved at all he would lose both legs. The physicians worked with the victim until the arrival of the early train east, when he was put aboard and taken to Sewickley. He died there in terrible agony at about 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Dr. Hamilton had a very difficult task on his hands and it was performed in a skillful manner. The right leg was amputated about midway between the knee and the thigh. All of the toes of the left foot were found to be in such a condition that amputation was necessary. The physician also dressed a bad wound on the heel of the left foot. The operations were most successful, and had it not been for the difficulty experienced in finding a doctor and the length of time which elapsed before the victim was given attention, he could have easily recovered.

Little Dave Walker's celebration of the Fourth came very near proving fatal to him. Dave had a toy pistol and was making as much noise as the rest of them until something happened to his weapon. There was a blank shell in the chamber and as was to be expected the hammer got into action the instant Dave turned the gun on himself. The wad in the shell plowed through several layers of the muscle in Dave's abdomen, making a serious wound.

Dr. W. E. Mowen was called and spent several hours with the sufferer. For a time it was thought the wad had penetrated the abdominal cavity, but the physician's examination showed it had stopped in the muscles.

Otis Mount, aged 16, was shot in the left leg by a 22-caliber revolver on Friday evening and as a result will be laid up for some time. He was playing with a number of boys on Thompson hill when some unknown boy deliberately shot him. The bullet buried itself in the flesh after tearing a hole of about two inches. When Mount was struck he fell to the ground and several playmates carried him to the office of Dr. Bailey.

Willie Dewey, the bootblack, was assaulted by another colored man at a late hour Saturday night. His assailant struck him several times on the head with a cane. Both were out jollifying in celebration of the Fourth and after engaging in an argument started to fight. Dewey was carried to the office of Dr. Andrews, who dressed his wounds.

ANGEL OF DEATH HOVERS OVER LEO, AGED PONTIFF

"The Pope seems somewhat prostrated after a rather trying and exciting morning. He is now enjoying a deep and apparently peaceful sleep. The pulse is still weak and the temperature below normal. His heart seems to have been benefited by injections of digitalis and camphor. On the whole his condition is no worse than on yesterday."

Hovering between life and death, the earthly existence of Pope Leo XIII is being prolonged by means of great medical skill and concentrated nourishment. Although he is barely alive, his remarkable vitality may again conquer disease.

Last night, after the excitement of administering the last sacrament was over, the Pope seemed to rest easier, evidently soothed by the religious service. He is lying in a small room with the bed drawn up to a window overlooking the piazza of St Peters.

The vatican is thronged with cardinals and notables. The ante-chambers of the palace were filled during the night with princes of the church, members of the diplomatic corps, and high noblemen.

"Who shall succeed to St. Peter's throne?" is a question that has already been wired to Rome by several European monarchs. Opinions are much divided owing to the many interests that will be affected, according to the choice of the Sacred college. The candidates chiefly mentioned are Cardinal Rampollo and Cardinal Zerafino Vannutelli. Both are Italians and conservatives, though bitter antagonists of each other. The liberal candidates mentioned are Cardinal Bishop Agliardi and Cardinal Priest Satolli. All of the candidates live in Rome, but a strong party that may include many foreign cardinals advocates the selection of a cardinal who is not a member of the curia.

JOHN DENNIS IS NO MORE

End of a Wellsville Man Who Led a Stormy, But Eventful Career.

John Dennis, who cut his throat Friday afternoon, died Saturday morning at 1:30 o'clock and was buried this afternoon. He was 59 years old and had been a noted character for many years. In the early days of the town's history he was looked upon as the best man physically in the upper Ohio valley, and during his life time doubtless engaged in more fights than any other one man. He was a game man and in all his varied career he was never known to have shown the white feather.

Several years ago Dennis was badly injured in a street duel and it was thought that he could not live. He recovered, however, and after that appeared to quiet down and had been but little heard from of late.

A BOLD SON OF AFRICA CAUSED REIGN OF TERROR

WILL BE ARRAIGNED THIS EVENING

After imbibing in his favorite drugs, booze and dope, all day, Charles Brock, a notorious negro, whose name alone causes terror among the residents of the districts in which he roams, got his habits on again Saturday evening and in less than two hours committed enough crime to insure him the heaviest dose yet administered by Mayor Weaver. He will appear before the chief executive this evening to answer to three serious charges.

Commencing at dusk on the evening of his hilarity, Brock made his debut for the day by brutally assaulting his wife. He had been a guest at his favorite resorts for hours and his spouse becoming worried over his long absence, started out in search of him. They met at the intersection of Washington and Second streets. Brock saluted her with a blow from one of his sledge-hammer fists, knocked her down and repeated the trick three times before ceasing. He then asked her to go to her home, a shanty boat at the foot of Washington street. Fearing further brutality she refused and was knocked down again as the result. When she staggered to her feet the big negro picked up a cane and dealt her a terrific blow on the head. She reeled and fell backward to the ground. Her head was badly cut and for fully two minutes, it is said, she was unable to move. A large crowd witnessed the deed and interfered just as Brock was getting ready to make another attack. When the woman did recover she staggered down to her boat, followed closely by Brock. Upon their arrival at the home, Brock assaulted the woman again, knocking her off the boat into the river and following the terrific blow with a cook stove which he threw at her while she was floundering in the water.

Report of the bad negro's actions was telephoned to central police station, but Chief Wyman did not feel warranted to make an arrest with no charge preferred. He therefore allowed Brock to go free, intending to have a warrant issued for his arrest this morning. He did not have to wait so long, however. Brock did not stay long at the boat, returning to up-town districts. He was carrying a huge Colts revolver and flourished it time and again on the principal thoroughfares of the city, but was not arrested, the officers thinking that the gun contained only blank cartridges.

There Was No Regular Celebration, and Rock Springs Had the Big Crowd.

Aside from the indispensible fire cracker, which kept up a continual boom from Friday evening until late last night, and the noting of a number of minor injuries from burns and premature explosions of fireworks, the Fourth of July passed off very quietly in East Liverpool. There was no celebration of any kind, and the populace was left to pick out their own diversion as best suited them.

Many citizens left the city for towns where a regular program was to be carried out. Others packed their baskets and went to the woods, while by far the greater portion spent at least a part of the day at Rock Springs. This popular resort was in full blast and the attendance throughout the entire day was extraordinary. A very large crowd occupied the dancing floor, and other forms of amusement were indulged in until a late hour Saturday night.

It was noticeable that the celebration held in Wellsville did not attract the East Liverpool people, and but few attended. The rain interfered with the program to some extent.

Wright-Goodballet.

Miss Sarah E. Wright and Charles M. Goodballet were married at 11 o'clock this morning at the home of the bride in the East End by Rev. N. M. Crowe. Only a few relatives and immediate friends witnessed the ceremony. The groom is a railway employe, at present with the East Liverpool line as a motorman. The bride is a well known and popular young lady. They will go to housekeeping soon in the East End.

A HEAVY TRACK AND SLOW TIME

A VERY WARM FINISH

While the turf events at Columbian park Saturday afternoon were not up to expectations, the 500 spectators seemed very well satisfied. Rain began to fall after the first heat of the three-minute trot and before it ceased the track was too heavy to permit of anything like fast time until late in the day, when the sun partly counteracted the effect of the shower.

Nellie McNicol, owned by P. J. McNicol, walked away from Baker Boy, DeNultrac and Edith Wilkes in the first heat of the three-minute trot. The mare looked good to win the race, but in the second heat, which came off after the rain, she slipped so on the muddy track that P. J. McNicol pulled her up almost to a walk. Edith Wilkes won out by a nose in a hot finish with Baker Boy. Nellie McNicol was not shod properly for the mud and was drawn after the third heat. Following is the summary of the race:

Nellie McNicol, McNicol	1	4	4	*
DeNultrac, H. Rinehart	4	3	3	*

Best time, 2:59.

Monox and Ed White were the only starters in the three-minute pace. Both horses have marks 30 seconds better than the class, but they jogged around in 3:15. It was apparent to the judges that neither of the horses were being driven and they declared

A GREAT EXAMPLE TO ALL PEOPLE

HIS WISDOM AND MORALITY

His Stainless Record, His Christian Spirit Will All Cause His Name to Be Held in Reverence—Righteousness a Dominant Principle.

The minister deplores the degeneracy of the celebration of independence day into an orgy. It is wise and necessary, he thinks, for the exponents of Christianity to speak of the government along patriotic lines; nearly every man in his position does so and he would be no exception. The text, from Isaiah 60:20, "Thy son shall no more go down; neither shall thy moon withdraw itself; for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended," was most appropriate. Isaiah was a politician and statesman, as well as a prophet and his understanding included the necessities of surrounding nations as well as his own; some times the necessities of the entire world.

Isaiah uttered the text upon the basis that Israel one day would be true to God. If the history of nations teaches anything, it is that peace and prosperity is proportionate to the faith and fear of God. Nations cannot exist out of harmony with God. The 1,000 years of Rome was nothing as God counts time.

The declaration of independence upon paper, its abstract form, did nothing toward gaining liberty for the nation until crystalized into concrete form in patriotic hearts. The southern people were as eloquent as the people of the north in praising the declaration, but they accepted it only in the abstract, continuing to entertain slavery in their midst. In the north its sentiments were taken out of the abstract and made broadly concrete, to operate for the welfare of all mankind.

It might not be edifying, the minister thinks, if the sentiment of the public could be known at the time Samuel Adams was thundering in Fanieul hall. But there was crystalized in Adams' heart the love of liberty and humanity. God often takes control of human hearts and lives and they become leaders or messengers of God in concrete form. What might have happened had not Washington risen from the level of humanity? Had not Lincoln sprung up from among the virile westerners and incarnated in his heart the concrete spirit of the equal rights of men, as set forth in the declaration of the 13 states?

McKinley incarnated in his heart a principle that was uppermost in the minds of men in that day. In his alignment on the then supreme question he attached himself on the side which he could have given his life to support. His stand was taken upon highly moral grounds and refused to trim his sails to the wind of public opinion. Public opinion changed until the large majority coincided with his views, and there was a clamor for his elevation. McKinley stood moral in the presidential convention, where political immorality was literally in the air, and while contending factions were striving one against another he stood firm and hurled back the deserting legions to John Sherman. He saved his honor and showed to the world that his sense of righteousness was dominant.

McKinley, Dr. Pratt thinks, will be known more 100 years hence as a prophet, rather than a statesman. He is the prophet of the day when men can be honored regardless of wealth; when a man can be made the ruler of the nation without stain to his political record; when a poor man can become president and die a poor man. He is a prophet and example of a nobler relation to the home, fidelity to women and the marriage vow, to Christian principles and the church, modesty of demeanor. He is the prophet of all; he had the genius and the temperament of a prophet.

We have never needed more intellectuality disassociated from other qualities. The man who cultivates and maintains moral sentiments and consistency, whose public and private life is for Christianity, is most needed. Compared with the moral principles upon which the nation was founded McKinley was the supreme leader, possessed of the genius to perpetuate our principles. His star will go on forever, not because he was great, but because he was good.

GEORGE WASHINGTON AS A CHURCHMAN

"George Washington, the Statesman and the Churchman," was the subject of Rev. Edwin Weary's sermon at St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal church last evening. Politics and war was passed over without much comment, the rector confining his remarks to the statesmanship and religious tendencies of the great man. In part he said:

"We have just closed the celebration of the 127th anniversary of the independence of the American nation. We may now, in our calmer moments, after the smoke and noise of the Fourth have passed away, consider that day in another aspect and a day rolls around year after year one figure comes prominently and majestically to the front and we are brought once again in touch with the Father of his Country. The name is revered in every household. The 22d of February is a hallowed day to the smallest child in the land and George Washington and his position in American history is too well known to all to require any mention from me, so I pass from the political side of the man's life and will consider for the moment the religious side. No one will dare to question the honesty of the integrity of the man. Nothing that I can say can add to that, but there is one thing in the life of the man which I cannot allow to go unnoticed. That is his religious life, which has been questioned by some who have attempted to deteriorate his character. There are people who are not contented with slandering the character of the living, but they must ransack the ranks of the dead and attempt to injure the memory of the past.

"The religious life of George Washington has been disputed by a few. I proudly take up the defense of his character as a brother and fellow member of the church to which he belonged. He lived and died as a member of the Angelican church, and I am glad and proud to feel that he was a member of the church which you and I here represent. As he was 'first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen' he was first in the faith of the church, and every incident of his life shows that he was faithful to his creed. He was permitted to enter the world and live in it for 67 years to do the work subscribed for him and the nation has been blessed by his life."

Mr. Weary then read an abstract from an article in the Churchman, the church paper, wherein it was shown that Washington was not only a member of the Episcopal church, but that he was a member in good standing. He was no ascetic and he was not classed among the saints, but his religion was of that quiet nature which is lasting and enduring. The article told of his devotion and faithfulness to the church. It stated that no company ever kept Washington away from his pew, and with his majestic eloquence of both word and manner he gave expression to the fervent religion which was in him.

News and Notes About The Potteries

A change has been made in the management of the Black Horse paving brick works of the American Sewer Pipe company at New Cumberland, W. Va., for the past year under the superintendence of Samuel McAdoo, of Toronto, O., who also has charge of three other of the company's works located on the Ohio side of the river, where the product consists mostly of sewer pipe. It is understood that the varied duties of his position became so onerous that Mr. McAdoo was compelled to give up the Black Horse plant. Andrew Mathes, brick salesman for the American company, has been chosen to superintend the New Cumberland works.

NICHOLSON SELLS OUT.

Edward Nicholson, of Steubenville, hitherto the principal factor of the Toronto Fire Clay company, has sold his entire interest in that concern to another member of the company, and it is understood that James McCready, of Braddock, Pa., is the purchaser. Both plants of the Toronto company are running full capacity, but at the same time the yard is pretty well filled with a large stock of paving brick. One plant of this company is operated on face building brick and the other on pavers.

POTTERY NOTES.

The Chelsea plant, New Cumberland, is turning out a new line of dinner and toilet ware. The Union plant, in this city, belonging to the same company, will also have a new line.

Catarrh of the Stomach.

When the stomach is overloaded; when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secret mucin, instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called catarrh of the stomach. "For years I suffered with catarrh of the stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure."—J. R. 'A TALE OF TWO CITIES"

Leaving Detroit at 4 in the afternoon, aboard the palatial steamer "Eastern States" or "Western States" of the famous Detroit & Buffalo Line, passengers are afforded an interesting and panoramic view of Detroit's harbor, teeming with the commerce of the Great Lakes, and bordered with its countless evidences of manufacturing wealth and activity. Passing down the river, Fort Wayne appears, bristling with its war-like aspects, and crowned with "old glory" gently curling in the breeze, seemingly waving adieus to passing travelers.

Again, we are among scenes of simple country life—beautiful farms and artistic rural homes dotting the banks on either side and the verdant islands mid-stream—and, as we float peacefully out upon the bosom of "Old Erie," one feels that the cares of life have lagged behind.

Now the varying course of the ship from time to time brings to view the silvery moon and its rippling reflections in the vessel's wake, while the strains of some dreamy waltz, enchantingly rendered, soothes the ear, and cool, invigorating breezes fan the brow as the traveler is borne along, almost regretting that nature demands its sweet repose.

It is sunrise and we are soon to end our journey. As we pass the breakwater the harbor seems stretching out to welcome our noble vessel, and the tourist, to Buffalo's hospitable environs. Once again we are among scenes of activity, but so refreshed that our journey seems like a fairy's legend.

FATALITIES AT FIRE

HAMMOND PLANT DESTROYED

Entire Stock Yards Threatened—Loss Estimated at Million and Half, Covered by Insurance—Origin of Fire Unknown.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 6.—The main building of the Hammond packing plant was destroyed by fire Sunday. The loss is estimated as high as $1,500,000. It is entirely covered by insurance. Two men lost their lives in the flames. One of them is reported to be Charles Miller, fire marshal at the plant. This could not be verified. Three men were injured, one of them seriously.

For a time the entire stock yards district was threatened. By hard work the Nelson Morris plant, 300 feet north of the Hammond plant, was saved, and this saved the Swift plant, which is north of the Nelson Morris building.

The fire started a little after 2 o'clock. By 9 o'clock most of the building was gone. The greater danger was at 6 o'clock, when part of the north wall fell and the fierce flames were shot toward the Nelson Morris building. The carcasses of 4,500 hogs, 1,800 cattle and 800 sheep were burned. Nearly 100,000 pounds of oleomargarine were destroyed. The contents of the smokehouse were consumed.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. There was no fire in the casing department in the eastern part of the building, where the fire started.

Daniel Smalley, foreman of the car department, fell from the car sheds on the north of the building and suffered serious injury.

The fatalities occurred about 5 o'clock. By that time nearly the entire building was on fire. A man with a hose, said to have been Miller, was seen at one of the windows on the north side of the hog department. He walked back into the building and a few seconds later those on the outside heard terrible cries. The man did not appear again and is believed to have been killed.

Two young men who were in the room and left a few minutes before said that two failed to escape, but they did not give the names of the men, who were said to be employes of the company.

The buildings and machinery were covered by insurance to the amount of $550,000, and the stock was insured for about $600,000.

Cured His Mother of Rheumatism.

"My mother has been a sufferer for many years with rheumatism," says W. H. Howard, of Husband, Pa. "At times she was unable to move at all, while at all times walking was painful. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried. In fact, she is never without it now and is at all times able to walk. An occasional application of Pain Balm keeps away the pain that she was formerly troubled with." Sale by Alvin & Bulger.

ARMED NEGROES SEEK REVENGE

Threaten to Wipe Out Town of Norway on Account of Lynching. Militia En Route.

Columbia, S. C., July 6.—The little town of Norway, where Charles Evans, the negro assailant, was lynched a few days ago, is panic-stricken on account of increasing crowds of armed negroes who threaten vengeance.

An appeal has been sent to the governor for troops. In his absence the adjutant general has ordered a Columbia battalion to go in a special train to Norway at once.

Norway has only 200 inhabitants. As the negroes began to gather around the town, threatening to wipe out the population, a citizens' meeting was held and a committee appointed to act at once. Their appeal was wired to the governor immediately. Meanwhile every man in the town goes armed, and should the military not arrive in time they will fight the negroes to their best ability. Women and children have been counseled to keep indoors, and doors and windows are kept securely closed.

One Link Arranged For.

Newark, O., July 6.—J. F. Shrontz, Edward Kibler, Edward H. Everett, Frank Moore and F. E. Elliott have applied for incorporation papers at Columbus for the Newark, Martinsburg and Mt. Vernon Traction company. Ninety per cent of the private right of way has already been secured for the 33-mile road which will be built via Gambier. This will form a link in the line from Cleveland, and when constructed will give Newark four interurban roads.

EAST END

THE LAUGHLIN PLANTS RESUME TOMORROW

Order Was Given to Start Today, But a Shortage of Clay Prevented.

The result of the conference between the operatives and the manufacturers, while it brought cheer to the hearts of thousands, carried with it a tinge of regret to the employes of the Laughlin plants. Most of them had been counting on a vacation of at least a week, but they were notified to report for duty this morning. Many of them did so, but work was not resumed on account of a shortage of clay. Everything will be in readiness for resumption bright and early tomorrow morning.

Quite a number of men employed at Laughlin's have been in camp along the West Virginia shore, above Chester, and in order to resume work will cause a number of the camps to be abandoned.

The disappointment of the men will soon disappear as the prospect of a steady run of work is bright. The firm has a large number of orders on the files and more are coming in every day.

BOY BADLY HURT

Floyd Lafferty, aged 7 years, fell from a garret window at his home in Dixonville and sustained serious injuries. The boy was sitting in the window and in some way lost his balance, tumbling over backwards. In the descent he turned a somersault, alighting on his feet. The left leg was broken, and it is feared that internal injuries were sustained.

Dr. Shay was called and set the limb and rendered other medical attention. The lad seems to be in great pain and is very restless, apparently suffering from internal injuries.

Young Couple Wedded.

Miss Julia A. Petty and Major Brooks, two popular East End people, were united in marriage Saturday evening at the home of Edward McAfoe, a cousin of the bride.

The ceremony was performed by Justice L. W. Carman, in the presence of a few relatives and friends of the contracting parties. After the ceremony and congratulations an elegant wedding supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks have a host of friends, who wish them a long and prosperous life. They will go to housekeeping soon in the East End.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Major Reed and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shumway, relatives of the groom from Reedville, O.

Miss McBride Lectured.

The services yesterday at the Second Presbyterian church were of more than ordinary interest and large congregations were out both morning and evening. At the first named service the pastor preached a very eloquent and able sermon. The service in the evening was given over to Miss McBride, a niece of Rev. J. N. Swan, who has been a missionary in the mountains of Kentucky and Tenessee. She gave a very interesting lecture upon the habits and religious faith of the people of the mountains. Miss McBride has been visiting at the Swan home and returns to her work tomorrow.

Foot Pierced By Rusty Nail.

Missionary Meeting.

The ladies' missionary society of the Second Presbyterian church will hold its next regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Richard Laughlin, on Pennsylvania avenue. The hour for the meeting is 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Will Install Officers.

The recently elected officers of the Protected Home Circle will be inducted into office at the meeting tomorrow night. A large class of candidates for membership will be obligated and the meeting promises to be of more than ordinary interest. No social feature has been arranged for.

The proprietors of Mi-o-na, the marvelous flesh-forming food and digestion regulator, have made arrangements with Will Reed to sell this remarkable preparation in a new and hitherto unheard of way; furnishing a guarantee bond with every package.

GUARANTEE BOND.

In buying a package of Mi-o-na, the purchaser is requested to have this guarantee signed by Will Reed as his absolute agreement to refund the money, if Mi-o-na does not give an increase in weight, and cure dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

For years there has been a demand for a natural means of increasing the flesh and Mi-o-na has come to supply this need. It is not a cod liver oil preparation, but a combination of flesh-forming elements with remedies that regulate and aid digestion and restore health.

Everyone who is troubled with dyspepsia, headache, distress after eating, dizzy feeling or loss of appetite, or who is losing weight and in a rundown condition, should take the guarantee bond to Will Reed and commence the use of Mi-o-na at his risk, remembering that the treatment costs you nothing unless it does all that is claimed for it.

GIRLS WERE SENT TO THE REFORM SCHOOL

James Clark, of Beaver Falls, and Sadie Clark and Stella Hodge, of New Brighton, the trio who figured in a short escapade on Wednesday, were taken to New Brighton from East Liverpool and before 'Squire Calhoon, and the cases disposed of.

The charge of abduction against Clark was not sustained owing to the fact that the girls were past the "abduction" age, and the party who preferred the charge failed to appear. Clark paid all the costs in the case, amounting to $15, which included the costs at East Liverpool and Beaver Falls, and he was discharged.

He stated that he was on his way to visit relatives at Cambridge. He had intended to return in a few days and go to work in Rochester, where he had secured a position.

The father of the Hodge girl and also the mother of the Clark girl appeared later and preferred charges of incorrigibility against their daughters. After considering the matter the 'squire decided to commit the girls to Morganza reform school.

Sol Rogers, the negro who, it is claimed, committed robbery and assaulted one woman at the home of Mrs. Tweedy near Smithfield, several nights since, was arrested at a negro camp near Harrisville. He denies his guilt.

Joseph Stanley, for years a well known minister in the society of Friends, died several days ago at Brookhaven, Mass., where he had been living. He was born near Damascus in 1819, and is survived by a sister, Elizabeth Blackburn, of Beloit, and a brother living in Iowa.

Uncle Reuben's Opinion.

"They may say what they please, but listen—hear me; I've taken all kinds of laxatives, purgatives and cathartics but when it comes to one that is easy and pleasant to take, mild and gentle in its action, and that makes one want an extra slice of bacon for breakfast, just give me Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and you may have all the laxative syrups, dyspepsia medicines and pills, little or big, there is in this country. Them Tablets surely do make one feel joyful." For sale by Alvin & Bulger.

SCROFULA A DISEASE WE INHERIT.

Scrofula manifests itself in many ways. Swelling of the glands of the neck and throat, Catarrh, weak eyes, white swelling, offensive sores and abscesses, skin eruptions, loss of strength and weakness in muscles and joints.

It is a miserable disease and traceable in almost every instance to some family blood taint. Scrofula is bred in the bone, is transmitted from parent to child, the seeds are planted in infancy and unless the blood is purged and purified and every atom of the taint removed Scrofula is sure to develop at some period in your life.

Scrofula appeared on the head of my little grandchild when only 18 months old, and spread rapidly over her body. The disease next attacked the eyes and we feared she would lose her sight. Eminent physicians were consulted, but could do nothing to relieve the little innocent. It was then that we decided to try S. S. S. That medicine at once made a speedy and complete cure. She is now a young lady, and has never had a sign of the disease to return.

MRS. RUTH BERKLY,
150 South 5th Street. Salina, Kan.

No remedy equals S. S. S. as a cure for Scrofula. It cleanses and builds up the blood, makes it rich and pure, and under the tonic effects of this great Blood Remedy, the general health improves, the digestive organs are strengthened, and there is a gradual but sure return to health. The deposit of tubercular matter in the joints and glands is carried off as soon as the blood is restored to a normal condition, and the sores, eruptions, and other symptoms of Scrofula disappear.

SSS

S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and harmless; an ideal blood purifier and tonic that removes all blood taint and builds up weak constitutions. Our physicians will advise without charge, all who write us about their case. Book mailed free.

The decision of the manufacturing and operative potters in regard to the demands of the N. B. of O. P. convention is one that reflects credit upon the good sense of both. The News Review, although it has heard columns of strike talk, has printed none of it, not desiring to furnish discord or to unwarrantably disturb the current of local business. Past experience has shown that the men who manufacture pottery, as well as the men who work in the pottery, trade in East Liverpool, have the best interests of the city at heart and can be relied upon to adjust their differences without resorting to such unwarranted and ill-advised action as provoking a strike. They are both aware that such a course would be exceedingly unprofitable to them as well as to all of the city. The conference committees have acted with wisdom and discretion, and East Liverpool and the pottery towns in general owe them a debt of gratitude. The decision announced on Friday evening was hailed with joy by every person having the best interests of the city and of its chief industry at heart and inspired a Fourth of July celebration that was indeed joyous.

Our friend, the Cherry Picker, is much disturbed for fear Mayor Weaver has made a mistake in resolving to set people to work to whom useful occupation is unknown. We believe the mayor should be encouraged in his undertaking. It is a well known fact that there are a number of men in East Liverpool who serve jail sentences with great frequency. If they can be induced to work a little in return for free boarding and lodging the city will be the gainer. If they are put to work upon the streets and run away, as the Cherry Picker asserts that they will, the city will also profit by their absence. They can well be spared, and their departure will be regretted by no one. It is quite possible to make their work count more than it will cost to oversee them, and they are not likely to court a second and more severe sentence.

The first half of 1903 brought 537 less commercial failures than the same period of 1902. As long as the bankruptcy business is the only one that is on the decline the country is not likely to exhibit any unwonted desire for changed conditions.

The News Review extra, which gave the joyful news of the averting of a strike, was not got out in 21 minutes, but it could have been issued in half that time provided it had contained as little as our boastful contemporary, the Cherry Picker.

The small boy who passed through the perils of the Fourth without a scratch may be destined for greater triumphs. At least he should be encouraged to cultivate his bump of conservativeness.

College students have gone to the rescue of the Kansas wheat crop. Holding a diploma does not disqualify a man from making his brain and brawn useful in the west.

The czar may refuse to read a petition from America, but he will be likely to learn what the people think of him if he reads a good newspaper.

The new code is teaching the cities of Ohio that it is necessary to elect business men to office if they want good government.

The Fourth of July is 127 years old as an American institution and as popular now as it was in 1776.

Monetary Loss Caused by Strike.

Denver, July 6.—James B. Grant, chairman of the executive committee of the American Smelting and Refining company, estimates the damage at the Grant and Globe smelters, caused by the unexpected strike of the employes, at $25,000 to $30,000. All but two of the 11 furnaces in use were "frozen" and the ore will have to be cut out before the furnaces can again be used. President Charles F. Meyer, of the Western Federation of Miners, says that he does not think it will be necessary to call out the miners of the state in support of the smelter men. The failure of the legislature to pass an eight-hour law is given by the strikers as the cause of the trouble and the company is accused of using improper means to defeat legislation. A large force of police is guarding the smelters in this city and no serious disturbance has occurred, though 12 men have been arrested for disorderly conduct and making threats.

No Standing Still

This is not the same drug store that it was last year. It is constantly changing, always progressing, ever improving. We get new suggestions from our customers, new ideas from traveling men, new plans from visiting successful drug stores in other cities. Gradually these suggestions, ideas and plans get worked into our store. That is why it keeps growing and improving. It seems to be a pleasure for our customers to trade with us, and it certainly is a pleasure for us to conduct such a store. We invite your patronage.

Tooth Brush Economy

We have tooth brushes for ten cents that are sold for double the price in some places. Extra good ones for fifteen cents, splendid values for the money, but we do not urge the sale of any of these because real downright economy comes in buying something a little better. We would advise you to pick a brush costing 25 cents or more for two reasons:

First, your teeth are worthy of the best brush made. The better the brush the more perfect its work.

Second, the higher grade brushes are guaranteed to give long and perfect service.

ude of the Diamond and vicinity, he scampered down on Smoky Row and was not there long until he had started some lively doings. Meeting a negro, who gave his name as Spence Henderson, he unceremoniously pulled the gun and struck Henderson several times on the head with it. The latter did not retaliate, but went to Officer Dunn and filed a complaint. The officer found Brock without trouble and placed him under arrest. He was taken to the city hall where he gave security for his appearance this morning at 10 o'clock.

Attorney James F. McGarry appeared for the defendant and had the hearing in the case postponed until this evening at 7 o'clock. He will then answer to a charge of carrying concealed weapons, assaulting his wife and also Henderson.

Seriously Injured Schooling Horse.

Killed in Collision.

Marine City, Mich., July 6.—As the result of a rear-end collision on the Rapid railway, an interurban electric line, three miles from here, one man was so seriously crushed that he died a short time after. The dead man's name is George Oxford and his residence is given as Sombrae township, Ontario. John Brahmer, of this city, escaped with a broken leg. Both men were standing on the platform of the forward car. The accident is said to have resulted from brakes failing to work.

Mine Fire Under Control.

Hanna, Wyo., July 6.—It is believed the fire in the mine, which was the scene of the recent explosions and consequent heavy loss of life, has been brought under control. The work of removing the debris from the slope is progressing favorably. It is not believed, however, that an attempt will be made to remove the bodies of the entombed miners for several days to come.

Drowned Trying to Save Boy.

Wilkesbarre, July 6.—Elias D. Trimble, an old and well-known resident of West Nanticoke, and Wesley Kyttle, aged 14 years, were drowned in the canal near Harveys creek. The former made an attempt to rescue the boy and both were caught in underbrush and drowned.

WELLSVILLE

WELLSVILLE OBSERVED THE FOURTH IN GRAND STYLE.

Everything Passed Off Happily And Most Creditably to the City.

The Fourth of July celebration here was the greatest ever seen in Wellsville and would have been a credit to any city three times as large. Thousands of visitors were entertained in a most lavish manner, and Mayor Fogo and the various committees are being highly praised for the great success of the patriotic affair.

The city was profusely decorated from Yellow creek to the rolling mill, and early Friday night the stock of flags and bunting here became exhausted and a rush was made on the stores of Pittsburg and East Liverpool.

The parade was magnificent in every particular and over a mile in length. General Garfield camp No. 3, of East Liverpool, was the escort of honor. Manley's band, of the same city, headed the parade, with five other bands stationed at intervals throughout the column.

General James W. Reilly, who was mayor here in 1854, being the oldest living ex-chief executive, rode with Mayor Fogo in a carriage, the venerable soldier attracting much attention. He was mayor of Wellsville just 15 years before the birth of the present mayor.

The long march from the public square to Eighteenth street and back was made without accident, Chief Marshal Lloyd and his aides having the various divisions so well in hand. Three hundred boys in red, white and blue suits, and half a dozen immense floats with little girls in white singing national airs were features of the imposing pageant.

The program of sports took place as scheduled and at night $300 worth of fire works, from a barge anchored in the middle of the Ohio river, ended in a burst of glory the day's festivities.

ACCIDENTS WERE FEW IN WELLSVILLE

AND NONE OF A SERIOUS CHARACTER REPORTED.

Accidents in Wellsville on the Fourth were few and comparatively slight in view of the immense crowd and the wonderful amount of fireworks exploded from early morning until late at night.

The most serious was that of the bursting of a small cannon on Third street and Broadway at noon Saturday which tore off the end of the third finger of Charles Pickering's left hand. He is only 11 years old. A fragment of the cannon also struck him in the abdomen, inflicting injuries that may terminate seriously. Harold Poole, aged 8, was also injured slightly in the same accident. Dr. F. K. Hutchison attended the Pickering boy.

George Wilson and wife were slightly injured by being thrown from their buggy early Saturday morning on Broadway. The horses became frightened at some waving decorations and ran away, smashing the buggy. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson reside near Bethel church and came to town to see the parade.

STRANGER CALLED AND STOLE MONEY

A stranger applied for room and board at the boarding house of Mrs. Ella McClellan, on Eighth street, Friday. He asked to be shown some of the rooms and after taking a look at them promised to return for dinner. He never came back and it developed late in the day that $14 had been taken from the pockets of clothing of William Orr, a boarder. Just how the trick was turned is not clear, for the reason that one of the servants accompanied him on his inspection of the rooms.

The same morning the kitchen of the same house caught fire from a gas stove, but the flames were subdued before any serious damage was done.

While on her way to church Sunday morning with Miss Lucy Parsons, Miss Frances Robinson, daughter of William Robinson, residing on Liverpool street, near the rolling mill, was struck and knocked down by a street car and severely injured. The young ladies were walking close to the track to keep out of the mud, and although the motorman sounded the alarm gong and called out to Miss Robinson to get out of the way, she seemed to think that she was safe, and before the car could be stopped was struck and hurled to the ground. She was carried to the residence of Alfred Clark by the conductor, Mr. Clark and Mr. Betsing, and Drs. Hutcheson and Robinson were hastily summoned.

An examination revealed that her shoulder and back were painfully injured. She was conveyed to her own home, a short distance up the street, on a stretcher, where she is resting fairly well today. If not internally injured the physicians state that she will recover.

Many Matters of Importance Were Disposed of—Light Question Not Settled.

Messrs. Hobbs, Cunningham, Dunn and Mercer were present at the regular meeting of the Chester council Friday night, and much business was transacted. The members barely constituted a quorum, but this did not interfere with the matters taken up.

When the report of the light committee was called for Councilman Dunn shook his head in a knowing way, which was taken to signify that nothing had been done toward relieving the town from its perpetual gloom.

Mr. Hobbs, who was interested in having the nuisance at the big elm tree abated, desired to know if anything had been done, but no one knew and the matter was dropped.

Ordinances establishing grade lines on several thoroughfares were passed, and bills aggregating nearly $500 were ordered paid.

Sergeant Allison, who had been hired to tend the street lights, presented his bill, but several of the members objected to paying it because the tender had done no work. Allison took the stand that he had been employed to do the work; he had been on the ground ready to do it, and the fact that there was no lights to look after was no fault of his. This staggered the solons, who allowed the bill, but laid off the light tender until the light question was settled.

On motion it was decided to grade Fairview avenue from the Fairview road to the state line. Bids will be advertised for at once. Under this head Sergeant Allison, after some discussion, was instructed to collect the road tax.

Councilman Hobbs called attention to the fact that teamsters persisted in driving over the curbing on streets after it had been set. In his opinion, it would only be a question of time until the stone would either be destroyed or displaced. The ordinance on the subject will be enforced.

VAUDEVILLE BILL OF HIGHEST ORDER

ATTRACTION AT ROCK SPRINGS THEATRE THIS WEEK.

The Several Specialty Artists Are the Best to Be Had and Their Acts Will Please.

Beginning tonight the attractions at the Rock Springs theatre will be high class vaudeville, which will continue throughout the week. Manager F. N. Strauss has been compelled, on account of ill health, to abandon his work at the theatre temporarily. Mr. Strauss has been very successful since taking charge here and his friends hope he will recover rapidly. He will go to Cleveland today, where he will be under the care of his physician for several weeks. During his absence, or until Manager McCallem sends a substitute, the theatre will be in charge of Mr. Franklin, the musical director.

The vaudeville bill for the week is unusually strong, and will doubtless please the patrons of the resort. The list is headed by Emile Chevriel, comedian, who has by hard work and close application succeeded in winning a high place up among the best men in the profession.

"Our Country Cousin" is a sketch created and being staged by Lones & Walton, two of the cleverest vaudeville artists in the business. The lovers of good comedy cannot but appreciate this turn.

The Dorothea Sisters, who have been working in several of the biggest and best vaudeville houses in the country, will appear here during the week, and have prepared all of the latest coon songs in their most attractive form.

Koppe, humorist and hoopnologist, has a turn that is novel and entertaining, being one of the most original acts on the specialty stage this season.

The bill is completed in a most satisfactory manner with Delmore & Oneida, a clever team of artists, in their extremely funny turn. Taken all together, the attraction this week is far above the average and is bound to please.

BILL M'BEE

William McBee, who shot a man named Bruce near Asbury chapel several months ago, was arrested in Rochester on Saturday. The authorities there were not aware that he was wanted in Chester until they had communicated with the officers, and he will probably be held in the Pennsylvania town until papers can be secured.

McBee was arrested in Rochester on a charge of drunkenness and afterward information was made against him for carrying concealed weapons. He has not been in Chester since the shooting, and though his victim has fully recovered, having received but slight injuries, it is probable he will be prosecuted to the limit when he is brought back.

Injured in a Ball Game.

Visited New Oil Field.

A number of Chester people paid a visit to the new oil field of the Chester Oil & Gas company on the Edward Hadley farm yesterday. The test well recently begun gives promise of good results, and the members of the company are greatly encouraged. The visitors were pleased with the manner in which they were entertained by Mr. Hadley, who is a prime cook and a royal good fellow.

ENDEAVOR HOSTS ASSEMBLING

Biennial Convention Opens Thursday. Christian Workers from All Sections Will Be Present.

Denver, July 6.—Christian Endeavor hosts already have begun to assemble in this city, and until next Thursday, when the international biennial convention will open, large delegations from all parts of the country will arrive daily. Plans have been made to care for 25,000 visitors. Fifteen acres of ground near the city park have been set aside as a convention camp and the general meetings will be held in a large tent, which will give seating room for 10,000. The opening session will be held Thursday, following a meeting of the trustees. Officers for the ensuing two years will be elected. Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark, who organized the first Christian Endeavor society at Portland, Me., Feb. 22, 1881, will be re-elected president and W. Shaw treasurer.

REV. FRANCIS E. CLARK.

President Clark will open the convention and addresses of welcome will be delivered by Governor Peabody for the state and Rev. Robert F. Coyle for the churches. On Thursday evening President Clark will read his annual address, after which a platform reception will be held by the officers, trustees and state presidents.

The four days following will be crowded with religious services, missionary rallies and addresses on topics of interest to the societies by prominent clergymen and other Christian workers from all parts of the country. The official program gives an honored place to Chuco Ogawa, of Japan, who will represent officially the Endeavorers of that kingdom.

Fatal Trolley Accident.

Warren, Pa., July 6.—An appalling accident happened on the Electric Traction company's road at Irvindale park, three miles outside this city, shortly after 12 o'clock Saturday morning. Arch Stricters, aged 20, is dead; John Jenson, aged 20, will die and Alfred Graham, aged 20, is seriously injured. A heavily loaded car on which the men were riding collided with another coming in an opposite direction. Stricters, Jenson and Graham were standing on the forward fender. Graham jumped and his action saved his life, although he was severely injured. Stricters and Jenson were caught between the cars and their bodies crushed. The former died before reaching the city and the latter is injured internally and cannot recover.

Negro Woman Escapes Lynching.

Peoria, Ill., July 6.—A mob of 300 white people sought the life of Minnie Pearl, colored, who beat Perry Combs, a white boy, aged 11 years, with a club until his body was covered with deep cuts and welts. The woman was arrested and taken to the police station before the mob could reach the house. When the mob discovered that she was gone they tore down her house and threw the furnishings into the river. The attack on the boy was made because he led a mule across the woman's lot.

Woman in the Case as Usual.

Lekington, Ky., July 6.—Another killing is reported from Magoffin county, in which Reb Keeton, aged 20 years, shot and killed Sam Brown, aged 24 years, in a quarrel over a woman. They met at the woman's house, where the shooting took place. The friends of the dead man have offered a reward of $200 for his arrest and a posse has been in the mountains after him.

REALM OF SPORTS

The Visitors Made Desperate But Ineffectual Attempts to Win Both.

LOTS OF KNOCKING DONE

By the Crowd That Attended the Morning Game—Base Ball Was in Full Blast All Day And No Diamond Was Unoccupied Long.

From a baseball standpoint, the Fourth of July in East Liverpool was a grand success. In West End park two of the prettiest games ever played in the vicinity were witnessed by large crowds and there was not a park or a diamond in or about the city that was not occupied by teams ranging from the Sixth street Bums to the least aggregations of the Crockery City league. Many of the teams, a number of which no reports could be gained, played both morning and afternoon.

A deadening feature of the first battle of the locals and the Fairbanks in West End park was the sweltering heat. Old Sol seemed to be in his glory while shining with awful torridity over the play-ground. The fans suffered much but the boys on the diamond were so heated that their every muscle and nerve was exerted to the utmost in their effort to stay in the game. Their wearing apparel, soaked with prespiration, hung to them like a wet rag. In the afternoon, however, the park was in superb condition. A heavy rain of short duration had cooled the atmosphere and throughout the afternoon threatening clouds intercepted and the sun's rays, which together with a gentle northerly wind, converted the ball ground into a cool and comfortable state.

The Fairbanks made a desperate effort to win both of the games. The shutout on the preceding day was the first that had been dealt them in four years and before the morning battle, Yoedt, the little German pitcher, said he would win the game or die in the attempt. He did neither, but made a creditable showing and hed he had support might have carried out his assertion. A few more such games as the morning contest, however, will kill baseball in this city.

What possessed about 75 of the fans is hard to determine. They certainly gained a reputation for "knocking" that will be long remembered. It seemed to be their fondest hope that the locals would suffer defeat and they took special delight in howling themselves hoarse upon a good play of a visitor and upon a poor one of a local. Their knocks did them little good further than securing for themselves a record that will stay with them.

It was another scrappy game, the visitors kicking on every decision, fair or otherwise, and what they made out but such demonstrations was evidenced when they got their only run and were saved another shutout through a big howl in the sixth inning. Mangold made the run. He stepped up and fanned viciously at the ball twice and when he saw a wild one coming at him, knowing that Emmerling could not stop it he struck at it and before Emmerling fielded the ball had reached third base. Capt. Reark rushed into the diamond and objected strenuously to the umpire allowing him to remain at third, stating that the ground rule was that only one base can be taken on a passed ball. This agreement was also made before the first game on Thursday.

The visitors kicked and pawed around until Mangold was permitted to hold the bag. Bardelang went out to Gibson and while Webb was throwing Volbright out at first Mangold scored. Gitzen, the next up, got a pretty single, and the following two players walked. The bases were full and for the first time in the series the visitors had a fighting chance to tie the score or possibly win. Gitzen obliterated the opportunity, however, by attempting to make it home and being called out for interfering with a ball thrown by Emmerling to third. He jumped in the air and blocked the ball. The Fairbanks put up another howl on this decision, but to no avail.

The locals did their scoring in the first inning, three men reaching the goal in rapid succession on four hits, one of them a three-bagger by Wallace. The latter made a home run of it by running past third into the catcher and knocking the ball from his hand. The remainder of the game was very closely played, neither side making an error and hits being scattered.

The afternoon game was considered the best of the series. And that the locals won again was due to their superiority, not luck or favoritism on the part of the umpire. The twirlers were evenly matched, the hits being 8 and 7. It was in this game as in the morning, the locals made their jump in the first inning. Three men scored on three hits and an error. Nolan got first on Yoedt's error and made the goal on Wallace's single. The latter was advanced to third on a hit by Brown and both of them went bounding over the plate on a two-bagger by Webb. The next run was scored in the fifth. Wallace landed for three bases and was sent home on a two bagger by Brown.

The only run scored by the visitors was made through an error by Gibson. Gitzen singled, stole second, advanced to third when Lippert walked and when Yoedt popped a little one to Gibson the latter became confused owing to some antics made by Brown and dropped it, allowing the runner to score. At no other time in the game did they have an opportunity to score, but they played with their might throughout. The score:

NO SOLUTION FOR THE DIVORCE EVIL

By MARCEL PREVOST, French Litterateur

AS society is built up from and rests on the family, there are no questions of greater importance than those which concern the family, and just now the question of divorce or no divorce, of divorce for one or for more reasons, is agitating the minds of the most eminent thinkers, lawmakers and sociologists all over the world.

From articles in the American press one gets the impression that the general opinion is that those who suffer most in unhappy marriages and who strongly favor liberal divorce laws are the women.

And, still, when a French magazine sent a list of questions to prominent French women we saw the surprising result that MOST OF THEM CAME OUT VERY STRONGLY IN FAVOR OF INDISSOLUBLE MARRIAGE.

Public opinion has always treated man very leniently. A man may get a divorce, he may figure as corespondent in a divorce suit, or his wife may get a divorce from him on statutory grounds, and we will always find plenty of excuses for him; we will smilingly call his escapades trifles that ought to be forgiven, AND HIS REPUTATION AND STANDING IN SOCIETY WILL NOT SUFFER.

A man that transgresses and breaks his marriage vows is and always has been considered interesting by the weaker sex, except when they happened to be personally interested in the case.

BUT IF WOMAN SINS EVERYTHING IS CHANGED. If she commits only one error and is found out, she is never forgiven, and her own sex will judge her much more harshly than men will. A divorced woman has no friends. She finds every door closed against her, and no matter how hard she tries she can never build up her lost reputation. She may be as pure and innocent as a child; she may go to live in a strange city. THE VERY MINUTE IT IS FOUND OUT THAT SHE IS A DIVORCED WOMAN SHE IS DOOMED AND DROPPED FROM THE LISTS OF GOOD SOCIETY.

This is the reason why woman, who formerly was always anxious to have liberal divorce laws passed, is now firmly arrayed against anything that will make a dissolution of marriage easier.

RACE WAR MAY BE PRECIPITATED

Evansville, Ind., July 6.—Twenty-five policemen twice prevented a lynching at the jail in this city, but their bravery was not sufficient to avert a bitter race war between negroes and the white mobs that sought the life of Lee Brown, the negro slayer of Patrolman Louis N. Massey.

The mobs smashed down iron gates and were part way into the jail before they were repulsed by the policemen. Their efforts to lynch Brown aroused the enmity of the negroes of the city, who gathered about the jail and made a threatening demonstration. The negroes were chased away by a crowd of white men. Mutterings of revenge are heard and a clash may be precipitated at any time.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

POPE LEO'S END NEAR

Life Still Prolonged by Stimulants and Concentrated Nourishment—Speculation Rife as to Successor—Inquiries from Europe's Monarchs.

Rome, July 6—3 a. m.—"God's will be done. Who would have believed it, when only 10 days ago I was presiding over a public consistory?" murmured feebly Pope Leo as he felt himself, late last evening, sinking into a sleep which lasted about three hours until excruciating pain brought the dying pontiff back to consciousness. He groaned and complained of pains on both sides of the thorax. Tenderly Dr. Lapponi, assisted by Pope Leo's valet, Pio Centra, and the physician's second assistant, De Castro, lifted the frail form and changing the position, succeeded in giving the patient some relief.

Though hovering on the brink of death, the life of the pontiff is still prolonged by means of strong stimulants and concentrated nourishment, and while he is still alive his wonderful vitality may again resist and conquer the attack of this illness.

Last Sacrament Administered.

The solemn yet gorgeous ceremony of administering the last sacrament took place at the bedside of Pope Leo. The central figure was the dying pontiff, whose long life's journey is nearly over, calmly preparing to enter the dark valley. His pale and emaciated face, almost as white as the pillows on which it rested showed little sign of life, except the keen glittering eyes, always his most striking feature.

Around the bed were grouped the noble guards, in the glittering uniform, the knights of the cloak and sword, their picturesque medieval costume of black with white ruffles; 25 cardinals, all the members of the sacred college who were present in Rome, stately and venerable figures in their sweeping crimson robes, the whole forming a scene of rich yet subdued coloring, a fit subject for the pencil of Rembrandt. The whole of what is called the pontifical family, headed by Cardinal Rampolla and including all the private chamberlains, were there. Nearest to the bed stood the imposing, tall figure of the cardinal grand penitentiary, Serafino Vannutelli, with the pope's confessor, to hear the last confession of the departing pontiff. Then the priest apostolic approached bearing the viaticum to give the last communion and administer the extreme unction, assisted by the grand penitentiary. Pope Leo feebly recited the confession of faith, as formulated by the council of Trent, and finally the words of absolution and the formula of indulgence in articulo mortis were solemnly pronounced by the grand penitentiary.

Pope Pronounced Benediction.

The heads of the great religious orders who were present granted the pope the special indulgences which they have the privilege of conferring. Then came the touching prayers for a passing soul and part of the gospel, the Lord's passion. As the last words died away all fell on their knees. The pontiff, raising his almost transparent fingers with a feeble effort, pronounced in scarcely audible words his benediction on the sacred college and on all present and then sank back on the pillows. There was scarcely a tearless eye in the whole assemblage: the sobs of the pope's relatives were plainly heard. Deep silence followed, only broken now and again by a murmured prayer or a pious ejaculation.

In the portion of the loggia of Raphael, adjoining the papal apartments, were the families of Count Riccardo Pecci and Count Moroni, the pope's nephews.

Late last evening after the excitement of the ceremony of the last sacraments was over, the pope seemed less restless, partly soothed by the religious service and partly by a dose of chloral, which was given to him in considerable quantities.

End Is Near.

The pontiff is lying on a small bed drawn up to a window overlooking the piazza of St. Peter's. The only picture in the room is an antique Madonna and the sole ornament a great ivory crucifix.

The interior of the vatican during the early hours of this morning testifies to the conviction that the passing of Pope Leo is very near. The courtyard of St. Damasco is filled with the carriages of the cardinals. Cardinal Satolli drove to Rome from Frascati, the beautiful carriage horses covered with dust and perspiration. In the cortile are drawn up the carriages of the cardinals and of many notables. Servants and messengers hurry across the court with bundles of huge wax tapers and with the robes of the ecclesiastical dignitaries who are waiting within the palace. The ante chambers of the palace were all through the night thronged with princes of the church, high noblemen and members of the diplomatic corps. Telegrams of inquiry have been received from several of the monarchs of Europe.

Probable Successor.

All kinds of speculation are already in circulation as to the probable successor to the throne of St. Peter. Opinions are much divided owing to the many interests which will be affected according to the choice made by the sacred college. The first question the cardinals will have to solve will be whether the conclave shall be held in Rome or outside of Italy. It is believed that the supporters of the idea of abandoning Rome will be even fewer than in the conclave held in favor of Rome. The second question will be whether the next pope must be an Italian or a foreigner. It is generally believed that he will be an Italian because in view of the struggle between the church and the state since the fall of the temporal power and the constitution of united Italy all the clergy, as well as the clerical party and even foreigners, think that an Italian pope can protect better than a stranger the advance of the religious and political interests of the church.

The candidates chiefly spoken of are Cardinal Rampolla and Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli. They are both representatives of the conservative policy, but are bitter antagonists.

IT MATTERS NOT

How Sick You Are or How Many Physicians Have Failed to Help You.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy will Cure You if a Cure is Possible.

Doctors are not infallible and there are many instances where they have decided a case was hopeless and then the patients astonished everyone by getting well and the sole cause of their cure was Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. A case in point is that of James Lettuce of Canajoharie, N. Y., who writes:

"Some years ago I was attacked with pains in my back and side that were fearful in the extreme. I could not control my kidneys at all and what came from them was mucous and blood. I was in a terrible state and suffered intensely. A prominent physician of Albany, N. Y., decided that an operation was all that would save me. I dreaded that and commenced to take Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. I felt better almost instantly. When I had taken about two bottles, the flow from the bladder was much cleaner, the pain stopped, and I was saved from the surgeon's knife and am now well."

Dr. W. H. Morse, the famous physician of Westfield, N. J., has this to say of this great medicine:

No form of kidney, liver, bladder or blood disease, or the distressing sicknesses so common to women, can long withstand the great curative power of this famous specific. Its record of cures has made it famous in medical circles everywhere.

HANNA TO VISIT SAGAMORE HILL

Will Lunch With President and Mrs. Roosevelt—Call Has No Political Significance.

Oyster Bay, July 6.—Senator Hanna, accompanied by Mrs. Hanna and a small party of friends, is expected at Sagamore Hill early this week. The party will arrive in a yacht in which Mr. Hanna proposes to take a short cruise, and will take luncheon with the president and Mrs. Roosevelt and their house guests. Assurance is given that the senator's call will be purely social and will have no political significance.

President Roosevelt, the members of his family and his guests attended services Sunday at Christ Episcopal church. When the carriages reached the outskirts of the village at the conclusion of the service the president and one of his friends alighted and walked home across the country.

Clarence H. Mackey has presented to President Roosevelt a small section of the new Pacific cable. It is beautifully mounted and rests in a handsome morocco case.

Hanna Disposes of Business Interests.

Cleveland, July 6.—According to a story printed by the Leader Senator M. A. Hanna has disposed of all his business interests which necessitated his personal oversight and is now merely a stockholder in but one or two of the several large concerns in which he was largely interested. The reason for this, the Leader states, is to give the senator more time to devote to politics, having come to the conclusion that he cannot do justice to both business and politics at the same time. Senator Hanna has left for the east and will take an extended trip on the private yacht of C. A. Griscom, beginning within a day or two. Mrs. Hanna and Miss Phelps, the latter a relative, accompanied him east.

City Secretary Shot by Son.

Dallas, Tex., July 6.—L. A. Moore, secretary of the city of Dallas, was shot and almost instantly killed by his son Ernest, aged 22 years. Moore, it is alleged, had been drinking and had attacked his younger son. The other son, Ernest, was remonstrating with the father, who turned upon him, when the son fired the fatal shot. Moore was well known in Texas, having been a deputy sheriff of Dallas county in the early history of the city.

American League Gossip

The winner of this season's race in the American league looks even harder to pick than last. Larry La Joie's Cleveland club, on account of its wonderful spurt in the closing days of last year's season, is the popular choice of the fans, but the more conservative critics agree that any one of six clubs has a good chance at the bunting and that no one of the entire eight can be counted out of the competition.

CAPTAIN-MANAGER JIMMY COLLINS OF THE BOSTON AMERICANS.

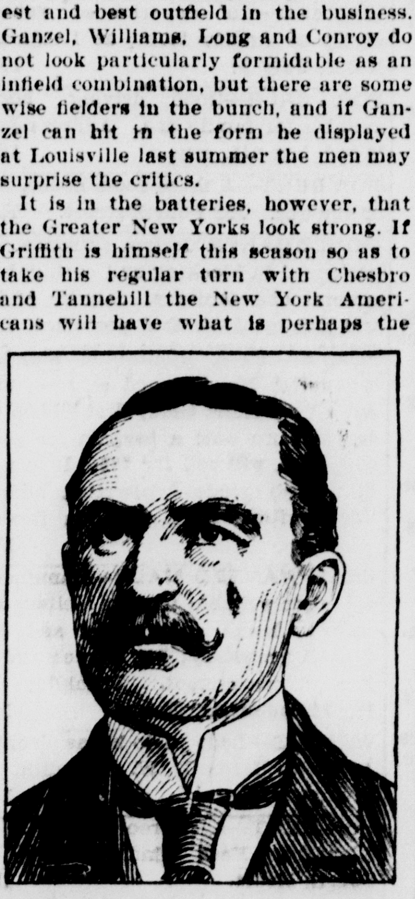
Cleveland has an aggregation of individual stars and as a batting team is one of the strongest that have ever been gathered together. Toward the end of last season the club made a spurt that indicated it to be the superior of any of the other clubs in the American league. It is essentially a team of stars, however, and only after this season's test will it be known just how steady the team will be in a long, grueling race. The unfortunate illness of La Joie early in the season has undoubtedly been a big handicap to the Clevelanders.

Jimmy Collins' Boston and St. Louis Americans are generally ranked next by the critics. These two clubs have run neck and neck for the past two seasons, and either one is dangerous in any company. Both are strong in pitchers, both have fast working infields and hard hitting outfields. But, more than all this, they are seasoned teams, with team work figured down to a fine point.

In New York Clark Griffith has a team whose elements of strength are much the same as those possessed by the White Sox of last year. Its infield is not a tried one such as played on the south side grounds in Chicago last summer, but it is essentially a "wise" team.

With Keeler, Fultz, Davis and McFarland "Grif" has perhaps the fastest and best outfield in the business. Ganzel, Williams, Long and Conroy do not look particularly formidable as an infield combination, but there are some wise fielders in the bunch, and if Ganzel can hit in the form he displayed at Louisville last summer the men may surprise the critics.

It is in the batteries, however, that the Greater New Yorks look strong. If Griffith is himself this season so as to take his regular turn with Chesbro and Tannehill the New York Americans will have what is perhaps the strongest pitching staff of any of the teams, and Jack O'Connor is one of the wisest and most clever catchers in the business.



MANAGER TOM LOFTUS OF WASHINGTON.

The champion Athletics, despite their remarkable showing last season, are not strongly favored as repeaters. Last year when they went to the top they were favored by the fact that the Chicago, Cleveland and Washington teams were weakened whenever they met the Athletics on their home grounds through the ruling of the Philadelphia courts, and with this handicap it was only the wonderful pitching of Rube Waddell and the generalship of Connie Mack that brought them the championship.

This year they have lost Fultz, their best run getter, and, while Mack may again surprise the wise ones, his team does not look so strong as New York, Cleveland, Boston or St. Louis.

Tom Loftus still has a team of sluggers at Washington, and, with the infield strengthened by the addition of Demontreville, he will always be dangerous, no matter with what team he is playing. The Detroit team, too, with a new manager and a team strengthened both in the outfield and in the pitching department, is strong, although still somewhat of an unknown quantity.

While all seven of the clubs named can see where they have a chance for first honors, Chicago fans are particularly interested in the White Sox. Comiskey and Callahan admittedly have a "dark horse" aggregation this season as compared with that of last year, but no owner more than the "Old Roman" is better prepared to get the winners out of just that sort of material.

Isbell is bigger than ever this year and hopes to hit in better form than last season. As a fielding first base man he is almost in a class by himself, and Daly at second is one of the most reliable and "wisest" players in the business.

Tannehill made a good record as a shortstop with George Tebeau's crack Louisville team last year, and he has all the earmarks of the natural ball player. He can cover lots of ground, always gets the ball in a position to throw it and was credited with being a good man at the bat in the American association.

The catching department of the White Sox is the same as last year, and that means that it is the best there is. No catcher has much on either Sullivan or McFarland, and this year "Mac" is hitting in his old time form and should be even more valuable than last season.

With Hallman making good in the outfield, Davis reporting, Gleason and Tannehill filling the vacancy left by Strang and both catchers back, it is up to the pitching department to make the team as strong as it was last season.

As to whether or not the young twirlers can do this the season's games only will show. Griffith's departure is indeed a loss, but it must be remembered that he was practically absent from the game so far as the pitcher's box was concerned for more than half of last season.

LAVE CROSS, CAPTAIN PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS.

Of the old twirlers Callahan and Patterson are both back. If the managerial berth does as much for Callahan as it did for "Grif" the new manager should also be a new pitcher this year. Last season he, too, was out of form a good share of the time, but this season there is a good prospect that he will not only keep in condition, but be in the best form of his life.

Patterson is always reliable and is reported to be farther along in conditioning than usual this year. White, the new south paw, has already proved his worth with the Philadelphia National league team. He will be a strong man as the season advances.

NERVOUS HEADACHE BREEDS INSANITY

Many a person's whole pleasure in life is ruined by the fear of nervous headaches. Any little excitement, no matter what, business or social, brings them on. The feet and hands grow cold, the head is hot, the eyes stiff, the temples throb, and only in the quiet of a darkened room is relief found. This condition must be checked or it means complete mental ruin. To those people Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills come as a blessing. They do not stop, they cure the headaches. They do not blanket, they build up. They put the nervous system in a strong, vigorous, sturdy condition—a condition that gives one resistive power and enables them to again enjoy life's pleasures.

Mrs. George Hall, of No. 389 West Market Street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "I was bilious—had nervous headaches, hard and constant—there was a general feeling of weakness and depression. I was asked to try Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and did so, getting them at Larkins' drug store. The result was very good indeed as the biliousness overcome—the headaches cured and bodily and nerve strength furnished."

the heat off. Sam Growe, who held the ribbons on Ed White, became angry and got back at the judges before the afternoon was over. Ed White won easily in straight heats, the best time being 2:59¼.

The half-mile race for three-year-olds was the best event on the card and five local horses responded to the bell. Congressman, owned and driven by young Lewis Brunt, won easily in the first heat, with John Rinehart's Jesse James leading the rest of the field. Congressman went off his feet in the second heat and finished third to Jesse James and Manila D. In the third heat Congressman made a game race, but was cut out twice by other drivers. Manila D. just escaped being set back and before the next heat all the drivers were warned. Congressman took the fourth heat and the race in a close finish. Manila D. in spite of her lameness had led to the quarter, when she broke, Congressman pushing ahead. The mare went up again on the home stretch and ran nearly all the way in, finishing second to Congressman. She was set back to third place by the judges and thus lost second money. Bertville and Tom Spruceby were not better than fourth and fifth. Best time, 1:34.

Redmond and Ikey Boy were the entries in the free-for-all pace, but Sam Growe, the trainer of the latter, was sore at the calling down he had received from the judges, and did not want to start. He brought Ikey Boy to the track, but delayed a start half an hour to the disgust of the judges and the spectators. Finally he scored down with Redmond and they were sent away. It was apparent to all that he was pulling the head off his horse, as the pace was not even fast enough to give Redmond a working out. The time given for the heat was 2:38.

The 2:30 mixed race, with two starters, George Brunt's Adolphus and H. S. Rinehart's LaFrance, was called off.

MORE EVIDENCE FOR COOPER

W. J. Watson Tells What Cooper's Remedies Have Done For Him. Free Show Tonight.

Cooper's Fourth of July show and concert was largely attended Saturday night despite the multiplicity of attractions elsewhere. The fact is that the people appreciate Cooper and his efforts to entertain as well as cure them, and the attractions he presented Saturday night were on a scale of magnificence seldom seen in this part of the country. That they were enjoyed and appreciated was evidenced by the applause given the performers and musicians.

Cooper added to his laurels in the way of strong evidence as to the value of Dr. Cooper's New Discovery as a great and marvelous restorer of the afflicted human system to healthful and normal conditions. W. J. Watson, a well known resident of the East End, has been troubled for years with stomach disorder and rheumatism. His tongue was coated; he couldn't eat with a relish; he was restless at night and he never felt like going to work. One bottle of Dr. Cooper's New Discovery cured the ailment and made a new man of him. He was also cured of the rheumatism by two applications of Dr. Cooper's Quick Relief. Nothing like these two great remedies and now is the time to buy, as the supply for this place is limited. Salesrooms open all day and every day at 301 Lincoln avenue.

An entire change of program tonight on Brunt's hill. Everything is absolutely free, and you are invited. You miss an entertainment of merit if you miss Cooper's.

CLOUDBURST AT PARK

SIMILAR TO JOHNSTOWN HORROR

Jeanette, Pa., July 6.—Fifty to 75 men, women and children perished by a cloudbust in Oakford park. The majority were drowned or their lives beaten out against the rocks in Brush creek, but quite a number were electrocuted.

Brush creek is dammed at this point. The dam is 200 feet wide, backs the water for 1,000 feet and is usually 20 feet deep at the breast.

It was almost exactly 4 o'clock when a cloud bust directly over the still waters of the dam.

At the base of the hillside, upon which the park is laid out, is the car barns and a large frame restaurant, the latter being constructed mainly with a view of sheltering the park visitors from the rays of the sun and from summer showers. Those who were in the neighborhood of these buildings ran for them for shelter from the sudden downpour, while others, and, of course, the greater number, sought the hillside.

Rising Waters Bust Dam.

The dam began rising ominously and it was but a few minutes later when 40 feet of the dam gave way, and a solid wall of water, 20 feet high, rushed down and completely filled the narrow ravine, with its car tracks, car barn and restaurant.

In front of the car barn stood a car containing from 50 to 70 passengers, many of them seeking to return to Jeannette, others using it as a temporary shelter.

With the immense body of water behind it, the crest of the flood bore down with irresistible force. As it swept down the narrow ravine it carried with it the loaded car and the crowded restaurant. The flood was filled with men, women and children struggling for their lives.

The poles carrying the heavily charged trolley wires were uprooted and strewn along the grounds. In a number of instances—how many is not yet known—the victims of the flood, grasping for anything that might save them from the fury of the water, seized the trolley wires and met death by being electrocuted instead of being drowned. Several bodies have already been recovered that show that death was the result of this cause.

Number Drowned Unknown.

Forty persons were in the restaurant when it collapsed. A much greater number were in the car barn when it was flooded, and it is not known how many were drowned there. The car, with its 50 to 75 passengers, was swept into Brush creek. The first estimate of 50 to 75 lives lost seems inadequate, but the excitement and sorrow is so intense that it cannot be determined how many managed to escape what seemed to inevitable death.

Among those known to be lost, although it is very difficult to secure names, is one party composed of Henry Fink and wife and the Misses Gertrude Keefer and Lucy Crum, all of Jeannette.

The flood kept on down Brush creek to about 300 yards east of Jeannette. Here the Pennsylvania railroad embankment checked the torrent, now a deep and comparatively quiet lake covering over 20 acres of ground. It is here, as the water swirled and eddied before losing its torrential force, that it is expected the greater number of the bodies of victims will be found. It will be several days before the flood subsides sufficiently to allow a satisfactory exploration.

Ruin Wrought by Flood.

There was no staying the flood. The torrent coursed down through Jeannette and flooded the south end of the town. No lives were lost here, however, although many had narrow escapes. There were a great number of heroic rescues from flooded homes.

Penn, but a short distance from Jeannette, was the next victim. Here, in part of this busy glass town, the water was 20 feet and there are known to be three victims. Mrs. Liga, colored, with her four children, occupied a small frame house. The building was carried away and but two of the children saved.

Great destruction of property resulted at Manor and Larimer, and Greensburg suffered still more severely. The greater part of the latter little city was under water, but no human lives are reported lost. At the Greensburg race track 25 valuable race horses were drowned.

At Irwin the freight depot was washed away, entailing a loss of several thousand dollars.

When the news of the disaster reached Jeannette the mayor and other city officials took prompt action looking toward the recovery of the dead and the relief of the living.

The fire bells were rung to call the firemen together, warning was sent out to the police to gather at headquarters, and it was but a short time before a large and thoroughly equipped rescue party was organized.

DEAD OF THE DAY.

Mrs. Calhary Morris.

Cleveland, July 6.—Mrs. Calhary Morris, wife of the well-known financier, is dead at the family summer home in Wickliffe, a suburb of this city. Death followed an operation for appendicitis.

Dr. C. S. Fahnestock.

Laporte, Ind., July 6.—Dr. Camillus S. Fahnestock, a member of the faculty of Hahneman medical college, Chicago, died at Laporte of apoplexy and stomach hemorrhage. He was born in Ohio in 1847.

A. C. Cass.

Denver, July 6.—A. C. Cass, first vice president and traffic manager of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, died at Redstone, Cal., at the summer home of John C. Osgood, where Mr. Cass had been visiting. Death was due to a general breaking down of the system and from overwork. Mr. Cass was born in Wisconsin in 1850.

A PRETTY WELLSVILLE GIRL TRIED THE IODINE

PHYSICIAN SAYS SHE WILL RECOVER

Despondent as the result of many weeks' illness and disappointment in love, pretty Mary Brown, aged 19, made a desperate attempt to end her life in Wellsville yesterday morning by swallowing a large quantity of iodine. That she was not successful was due to the strenuous efforts of Dr. Hutchison, who was called immediately after her rash act became known.

Miss Brown is employed in the United States pottery in the west end of Wellsville. She moved to Wellsville several months ago from Van Port, Pa., where she was born and lived the most of her life. She has resided with the family of Robert Lomax, Steubenville and Twelfth streets, since her arrival in Wellsville and the members of the family state that for three weeks past she had acted queerly, sitting for hours looking vaguely into space. They were not, in consequence, much surprised upon hearing of the girl's deed.

Without giving notice as to where she was going, Miss Brown left the Lomax home yesterday morning and it has been learned went directly to an up town pharmacy, where she bought a bottle of iodine. She gave no reason for making the purchase, paying for the poison and departing.

Upon leaving the store the girl took a rather circuitous route toward her boarding house, going from Main street to Broadway, down Broadway to Fifth street, and thence into a rather deserted alley. She followed this route to Twelfth street where she stopped and, raising the bottle to her lips, swallowed the greater part of its contents. People living in the vicinity heard her scream as the fluid coursed down her throat and a score or more rushed to her. Before they reached the girl she had fallen to the pavement and was suffering so terribly that she could not give them any idea as to her place of abode. Finally some one happened on the scene who knew her and she was at once removed to the Lomax home.

Dr. Hutchison was summoned and, after an application of antidotes and many other remedies used in such cases, revived the young girl considerably.

Miss Brown suffered intensely throughout the hours of last night and, though some better today, she writhed continuously as the result of the agony. The physician thinks she will recover.

LIGHT BUSINESS FOR THE OFFICERS

RESISTED AN OFFICER

There was little doing in police circles on the Fourth. The officers were given orders to allow the people more rope than usual and only those who were unable to navigate or became bad were hauled to central station. The total number of arrests during the day was less than a dozen, and as a result Mayor Weaver's court this morning was rather tame.

Aaron Kountz, employed at the Vulcan brick yards, near Wellsville, was arrested in the East End by Officers Fisher and Wilson. He claims he was doped. He piled on a street car near the Diamond after drinking three small glasses of beer and eating two dishes of ice cream. The composition had a telling effect upon him. He does not even remember when the police got him and was greatly surprised when he awoke behind prison bars. When arraigned this morning he pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $5. Chief Wyman was requested by him to find $21.65 that was stolen from him while enroute to the East End.

While drunk and raising a free-for-all fight on the platform at the passenger depot Saturday evening, Carl Gaskill was arrested by Officer McDermott. He had been taking in the sights with a number of friends and relatives during the day and went to the depot to bid a visitor farewell. The booze than he had consumed got into his hair and he started a fight with about a dozen innocent bystanders. When the officer rushed into make the arrest several interfered and it was necessary to call citizens for assistance. A brother of Gaskill was taken in charge by Henry Bullock for attempting to break the officer's hold on the man he had in custody and both were taken to city hall. One of them placed $10 for his appearance this evening. Carl was fined $10 and costs this morning.

August Nelson was arrested by Officers Fisher and Wilson for being drunk. He will be arraigned this evening. Charles Figley paid $5 for being intoxicated. Three other men whose names could not be learned were arrested on a similar charge. They paid and were released.

He Was Shot By a Friend Who Thought He Was a Burglar.

Salineville, July 6.—(Special)—John Boadbent, a deaf mute, of East Liverpool, was shot and seriously wounded here last night under peculiar circumstances.

He arrived here on a train early in the evening and went immediately in search of his grandparents, both of whom are dead, knowledge of which Broadbent did not possess. After running around over town for a couple of hours he went to the home of Walter Goddard and knocked on the back door for admission. Goddard answered the call and asked the mute who he was and what he wanted.

Of course Broadbent could not reply, and Goddard, thinking he was a burglar, fired a revolver at the intruder. Broadbent fell to the ground and Goddard, upon rushing to his side, recognized him and knew that he had made an awful mistake. A physician was called and dressed the wound. He will recover.

A YOUNG MAN FROM MONACA

While riding on a street car from Chester to this city Saturday evening Frank Mackall, a young man of Monaca, who was sepnding the Fourth with relatives on Fifth street, was made the victim of a pickpocket. He was robbed of $8 and a valuable piece of jewelry.

Mackall states that the car was crowded and that he knew nothing of the theft until the next morning when he glanced at his trousers on a chair near his bed. He noticed a long slit in the fob pocket, and investigating discovered the loss. He remembers of several people pressing him tightly on the car and supposes that the job was done at that time. The matter was reported to central station, but the officers having no clue were unable to get a trace of the thief.

Prof. R. E. Rayman has returned from the annual convention of the Ohio State Teachers' association, which was held in Put-in-Bay last week. He reports that the convention was one of the best ever held by the association. During the session a number of very able addresses were delivered and several interesting papers were read. The subjects were exceedingly well chosen, being of a practical, every-day nature. The program was prepared by the executive committee, of which Prof. Rayman is a member.

The badges worn by the delegates were the gift of the East Liverpool schools. They were pretty as well as appropriate, being a Buckeye tied with red, white and blue ribbon. On the buckeye were the dates "1803-1903" in gold.

The convention had one of the best attendances for years. From this city Prof. Rayman was accompanied by Miss Updegraff, whose paper on "The Ethical Value of Literature in the High School," was received with great favor by the convention. Miss Anna Gardner and Miss Carrie Gavers also attended.

The convention will meet at Put-in-Bay again next year. The exact date is not yet decided, but it will probably be the last week in June.

Court Adjourned.

Lisbon, July 6.—(Special.)—Court adjourned until Monday, July 14. In the case of the Beggs Manufacturing company of Chicago versus J. L. Lewis, of Kensington, the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff. The Beggs company sued for money alleged to be due on a bill of goods.

ITALIAN KILLED BY FAST TRAIN

New Galilee, July 6.—(Special)—Jimmie Trumbo, an Italian section hand, was killed here this morning by No. 24, a fast express on the P. F. W. & C. railroad.

Trumbo, with some 25 fellow laborers, were at work in the yards near the depot, and it is supposed the unfortunate man was too slow in moving away from the track. The engine struck the foreigner with such force as to break every bone in his body, and he was hurled over an embankment 20 feet away. When picked up by his comrades he was quite dead, and the services of a physician, who had been hastily summoned, were not needed.

The body was terribly mutilated, and his entire body was a mass of bruises. The body was carried to the depot and there prepared for burial. It was taken to Trenton Station this afternoon, and the funeral will be held tomorrow morning.

Trumbo was about 40 years of age, and single. He had two brothers in Galilee, one of whom was at his side when he was killed.

ANGEL OF DEATH HOVERS OVER LEO, AGED PONTIFF

"The Pope seems somewhat prostrated after a rather trying and exciting morning. He is now enjoying a deep and apparently peaceful sleep. The pulse is still weak and the temperature below normal. His heart seems to have been benefited by injections of digitalis and camphor. On the whole his condition is no worse than on yesterday."

Hovering between life and death, the earthly existence of Pope Leo XIII is being prolonged by means of great medical skill and concentrated nourishment. Although he is barely alive, his remarkable vitality may again conquer disease.

Last night, after the excitement of administering the last sacrament was over, the Pope seemed to rest easier, evidently soothed by the religious service. He is lying in a small room with the bed drawn up to a window overlooking the piazza of St Peters.

The vatican is thronged with cardinals and notables. The ante-chambers of the palace were filled during the night with princes of the church, members of the diplomatic corps, and high noblemen.

"Who shall succeed to St. Peter's throne?" is a question that has already been wired to Rome by several European monarchs. Opinions are much divided owing to the many interests that will be affected, according to the choice of the Sacred college. The candidates chiefly mentioned are Cardinal Rampollo and Cardinal Zerafino Vannutelli. Both are Italians and conservatives, though bitter antagonists of each other. The liberal candidates mentioned are Cardinal Bishop Agliardi and Cardinal Priest Satolli. All of the candidates live in Rome, but a strong party that may include many foreign cardinals advocates the selection of a cardinal who is not a member of the curia.

CARELESSNESS AT FAULT

As usual, accidents were more numerous in the city on Saturday, and though none of the victims were killed, a large number were so badly hurt that they will have something to remind them of the occasion for many a day to come.

The only casualty occurring in East Liverpool over the Fourth happened at an early hour on the morning of that day, the victim being Denver Easter, an elevator worker of Hazelwood, Pa., who was faltally injured by the midnight train at the local passenger station.

Easter had stopped off in this city on his way home. He had procured a lunch at a Second street restaurant, and afterward made his way to the station to await the arrival of the train. He did not attempt to board the train when it stopped, but sauntered about while the passengers were alighting. As the train was pulling out the man made a rush for it, and becoming confused, caught the hand rails of two cars instead of the regular handles of the smoker, and without being conscious of the fact swung between and was crushed beneath the wheels.

John Clark and Charles Loomis were eye witnesses to the terrible accident, and at once gave the alarm. The patrol arrived in a few minutes and the unfortunate man was gathered up and taken to city hall. The physicians who had been called had not put in an appearance, and the men in charge of the case conveyed the victim to the office of Dr. W. W. Hamilton, on Fifth street, where he was made as comfortable as the circumstances would permit. Officers McDermott, Dunn and Saulsberry accompanied the patrol and cared for the men as best they could. Easter was suffering terribly when he reached the city hall and soon afterwards broke down completely and wept like a child. He was rational, however, and gave the officers his name and address.

One of Easter's legs was terribly mangled from the ankle to the thigh, while the other was so badly mangled that it was plain if his life was saved at all he would lose both legs. The physicians worked with the victim until the arrival of the early train east, when he was put aboard and taken to Sewickley. He died there in terrible agony at about 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Dr. Hamilton had a very difficult task on his hands and it was performed in a skillful manner. The right leg was amputated about midway between the knee and the thigh. All of the toes of the left foot were found to be in such a condition that amputation was necessary. The physician also dressed a bad wound on the heel of the left foot. The operations were most successful, and had it not been for the difficulty experienced in finding a doctor and the length of time which elapsed before the victim was given attention, he could have easily recovered.

Little Dave Walker's celebration of the Fourth came very near proving fatal to him. Dave had a toy pistol and was making as much noise as the rest of them until something happened to his weapon. There was a blank shell in the chamber and as was to be expected the hammer got into action the instant Dave turned the gun on himself. The wad in the shell plowed through several layers of the muscle in Dave's abdomen, making a serious wound.

Dr. W. E. Mowen was called and spent several hours with the sufferer. For a time it was thought the wad had penetrated the abdominal cavity, but the physician's examination showed it had stopped in the muscles.

Otis Mount, aged 16, was shot in the left leg by a 22-caliber revolver on Friday evening and as a result will be laid up for some time. He was playing with a number of boys on Thompson hill when some unknown boy deliberately shot him. The bullet buried itself in the flesh after tearing a hole of about two inches. When Mount was struck he fell to the ground and several playmates carried him to the office of Dr. Bailey.

Willie Dewey, the bootblack, was assaulted by another colored man at a late hour Saturday night. His assailant struck him several times on the head with a cane. Both were out jollifying in celebration of the Fourth and after engaging in an argument started to fight. Dewey was carried to the office of Dr. Andrews, who dressed his wounds.

JOHN DENNIS IS NO MORE

John Dennis, who cut his throat Friday afternoon, died Saturday morning at 1:30 o'clock and was buried this afternoon. He was 59 years old and had been a noted character for many years. In the early days of the town's history he was looked upon as the best man physically in the upper Ohio valley, and during his life time doubtless engaged in more fights than any other one man. He was a game man and in all his varied career he was never known to have shown the white feather.

Several years ago Dennis was badly injured in a street duel and it was thought that he could not live. He recovered, however, and after that appeared to quiet down and had been but little heard from of late.

A BOLD SON OF AFRICA CAUSED REIGN OF TERROR

WILL BE ARRAIGNED THIS EVENING

After imbibing in his favorite drugs, booze and dope, all day, Charles Brock, a notorious negro, whose name alone causes terror among the residents of the districts in which he roams, got his habits on again Saturday evening and in less than two hours committed enough crime to insure him the heaviest dose yet administered by Mayor Weaver. He will appear before the chief executive this evening to answer to three serious charges.

Commencing at dusk on the evening of his hilarity, Brock made his debut for the day by brutally assaulting his wife. He had been a guest at his favorite resorts for hours and his spouse becoming worried over his long absence, started out in search of him. They met at the intersection of Washington and Second streets. Brock saluted her with a blow from one of his sledge-hammer fists, knocked her down and repeated the trick three times before ceasing. He then asked her to go to her home, a shanty boat at the foot of Washington street. Fearing further brutality she refused and was knocked down again as the result. When she staggered to her feet the big negro picked up a cane and dealt her a terrific blow on the head. She reeled and fell backward to the ground. Her head was badly cut and for fully two minutes, it is said, she was unable to move. A large crowd witnessed the deed and interfered just as Brock was getting ready to make another attack. When the woman did recover she staggered down to her boat, followed closely by Brock. Upon their arrival at the home, Brock assaulted the woman again, knocking her off the boat into the river and following the terrific blow with a cook stove which he threw at her while she was floundering in the water.

Report of the bad negro's actions was telephoned to central police station, but Chief Wyman did not feel warranted to make an arrest with no charge preferred. He therefore allowed Brock to go free, intending to have a warrant issued for his arrest this morning. He did not have to wait so long, however. Brock did not stay long at the boat, returning to up-town districts. He was carrying a huge Colts revolver and flourished it time and again on the principal thoroughfares of the city, but was not arrested, the officers thinking that the gun contained only blank cartridges.

There Was No Regular Celebration, and Rock Springs Had the Big Crowd.

Aside from the indispensible fire cracker, which kept up a continual boom from Friday evening until late last night, and the noting of a number of minor injuries from burns and premature explosions of fireworks, the Fourth of July passed off very quietly in East Liverpool. There was no celebration of any kind, and the populace was left to pick out their own diversion as best suited them.

Many citizens left the city for towns where a regular program was to be carried out. Others packed their baskets and went to the woods, while by far the greater portion spent at least a part of the day at Rock Springs. This popular resort was in full blast and the attendance throughout the entire day was extraordinary. A very large crowd occupied the dancing floor, and other forms of amusement were indulged in until a late hour Saturday night.

It was noticeable that the celebration held in Wellsville did not attract the East Liverpool people, and but few attended. The rain interfered with the program to some extent.

Wright-Goodballet.

Miss Sarah E. Wright and Charles M. Goodballet were married at 11 o'clock this morning at the home of the bride in the East End by Rev. N. M. Crowe. Only a few relatives and immediate friends witnessed the ceremony. The groom is a railway employe, at present with the East Liverpool line as a motorman. The bride is a well known and popular young lady. They will go to housekeeping soon in the East End.

A VERY WARM FINISH

While the turf events at Columbian park Saturday afternoon were not up to expectations, the 500 spectators seemed very well satisfied. Rain began to fall after the first heat of the three-minute trot and before it ceased the track was too heavy to permit of anything like fast time until late in the day, when the sun partly counteracted the effect of the shower.

Nellie McNicol, owned by P. J. McNicol, walked away from Baker Boy, DeNultrac and Edith Wilkes in the first heat of the three-minute trot. The mare looked good to win the race, but in the second heat, which came off after the rain, she slipped so on the muddy track that P. J. McNicol pulled her up almost to a walk. Edith Wilkes won out by a nose in a hot finish with Baker Boy. Nellie McNicol was not shod properly for the mud and was drawn after the third heat. Following is the summary of the race:

DeNultrac, H. Rinehart	4	3	3	*

Best time, 2:59.

Monox and Ed White were the only starters in the three-minute pace. Both horses have marks 30 seconds better than the class, but they jogged around in 3:15. It was apparent to the judges that neither of the horses were being driven and they declared

A GREAT EXAMPLE TO ALL PEOPLE

The minister deplores the degeneracy of the celebration of independence day into an orgy. It is wise and necessary, he thinks, for the exponents of Christianity to speak of the government along patriotic lines; nearly every man in his position does so and he would be no exception. The text, from Isaiah 60:20, "Thy son shall no more go down; neither shall thy moon withdraw itself; for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended," was most appropriate. Isaiah was a politician and statesman, as well as a prophet and his understanding included the necessities of surrounding nations as well as his own; some times the necessities of the entire world.

Isaiah uttered the text upon the basis that Israel one day would be true to God. If the history of nations teaches anything, it is that peace and prosperity is proportionate to the faith and fear of God. Nations cannot exist out of harmony with God. The 1,000 years of Rome was nothing as God counts time.

The declaration of independence upon paper, its abstract form, did nothing toward gaining liberty for the nation until crystalized into concrete form in patriotic hearts. The southern people were as eloquent as the people of the north in praising the declaration, but they accepted it only in the abstract, continuing to entertain slavery in their midst. In the north its sentiments were taken out of the abstract and made broadly concrete, to operate for the welfare of all mankind.

It might not be edifying, the minister thinks, if the sentiment of the public could be known at the time Samuel Adams was thundering in Fanieul hall. But there was crystalized in Adams' heart the love of liberty and humanity. God often takes control of human hearts and lives and they become leaders or messengers of God in concrete form. What might have happened had not Washington risen from the level of humanity? Had not Lincoln sprung up from among the virile westerners and incarnated in his heart the concrete spirit of the equal rights of men, as set forth in the declaration of the 13 states?

McKinley incarnated in his heart a principle that was uppermost in the minds of men in that day. In his alignment on the then supreme question he attached himself on the side which he could have given his life to support. His stand was taken upon highly moral grounds and refused to trim his sails to the wind of public opinion. Public opinion changed until the large majority coincided with his views, and there was a clamor for his elevation. McKinley stood moral in the presidential convention, where political immorality was literally in the air, and while contending factions were striving one against another he stood firm and hurled back the deserting legions to John Sherman. He saved his honor and showed to the world that his sense of righteousness was dominant.

McKinley, Dr. Pratt thinks, will be known more 100 years hence as a prophet, rather than a statesman. He is the prophet of the day when men can be honored regardless of wealth; when a man can be made the ruler of the nation without stain to his political record; when a poor man can become president and die a poor man. He is a prophet and example of a nobler relation to the home, fidelity to women and the marriage vow, to Christian principles and the church, modesty of demeanor. He is the prophet of all; he had the genius and the temperament of a prophet.

We have never needed more intellectuality disassociated from other qualities. The man who cultivates and maintains moral sentiments and consistency, whose public and private life is for Christianity, is most needed. Compared with the moral principles upon which the nation was founded McKinley was the supreme leader, possessed of the genius to perpetuate our principles. His star will go on forever, not because he was great, but because he was good.

GEORGE WASHINGTON AS A CHURCHMAN

Rev. Edwin Weary on the Religious Character of the Father of His Country.

"George Washington, the Statesman and the Churchman," was the subject of Rev. Edwin Weary's sermon at St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal church last evening. Politics and war was passed over without much comment, the rector confining his remarks to the statesmanship and religious tendencies of the great man. In part he said:

"We have just closed the celebration of the 127th anniversary of the independence of the American nation. We may now, in our calmer moments, after the smoke and noise of the Fourth have passed away, consider that day in another aspect and a day rolls around year after year one figure comes prominently and majestically to the front and we are brought once again in touch with the Father of his Country. The name is revered in every household. The 22d of February is a hallowed day to the smallest child in the land and George Washington and his position in American history is too well known to all to require any mention from me, so I pass from the political side of the man's life and will consider for the moment the religious side. No one will dare to question the honesty of the integrity of the man. Nothing that I can say can add to that, but there is one thing in the life of the man which I cannot allow to go unnoticed. That is his religious life, which has been questioned by some who have attempted to deteriorate his character. There are people who are not contented with slandering the character of the living, but they must ransack the ranks of the dead and attempt to injure the memory of the past.

"The religious life of George Washington has been disputed by a few. I proudly take up the defense of his character as a brother and fellow member of the church to which he belonged. He lived and died as a member of the Angelican church, and I am glad and proud to feel that he was a member of the church which you and I here represent. As he was 'first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen' he was first in the faith of the church, and every incident of his life shows that he was faithful to his creed. He was permitted to enter the world and live in it for 67 years to do the work subscribed for him and the nation has been blessed by his life."

Mr. Weary then read an abstract from an article in the Churchman, the church paper, wherein it was shown that Washington was not only a member of the Episcopal church, but that he was a member in good standing. He was no ascetic and he was not classed among the saints, but his religion was of that quiet nature which is lasting and enduring. The article told of his devotion and faithfulness to the church. It stated that no company ever kept Washington away from his pew, and with his majestic eloquence of both word and manner he gave expression to the fervent religion which was in him.

News and Notes About The Potteries

A change has been made in the management of the Black Horse paving brick works of the American Sewer Pipe company at New Cumberland, W. Va., for the past year under the superintendence of Samuel McAdoo, of Toronto, O., who also has charge of three other of the company's works located on the Ohio side of the river, where the product consists mostly of sewer pipe. It is understood that the varied duties of his position became so onerous that Mr. McAdoo was compelled to give up the Black Horse plant. Andrew Mathes, brick salesman for the American company, has been chosen to superintend the New Cumberland works.

NICHOLSON SELLS OUT.

Edward Nicholson, of Steubenville, hitherto the principal factor of the Toronto Fire Clay company, has sold his entire interest in that concern to another member of the company, and it is understood that James McCready, of Braddock, Pa., is the purchaser. Both plants of the Toronto company are running full capacity, but at the same time the yard is pretty well filled with a large stock of paving brick. One plant of this company is operated on face building brick and the other on pavers.

POTTERY NOTES.

The Chelsea plant, New Cumberland, is turning out a new line of dinner and toilet ware. The Union plant, in this city, belonging to the same company, will also have a new line.

When the stomach is overloaded; when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secret mucin, instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called catarrh of the stomach. "For years I suffered with catarrh of the stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure."—J. R. 'A TALE OF TWO CITIES"

Leaving Detroit at 4 in the afternoon, aboard the palatial steamer "Eastern States" or "Western States" of the famous Detroit & Buffalo Line, passengers are afforded an interesting and panoramic view of Detroit's harbor, teeming with the commerce of the Great Lakes, and bordered with its countless evidences of manufacturing wealth and activity. Passing down the river, Fort Wayne appears, bristling with its war-like aspects, and crowned with "old glory" gently curling in the breeze, seemingly waving adieus to passing travelers.

Again, we are among scenes of simple country life—beautiful farms and artistic rural homes dotting the banks on either side and the verdant islands mid-stream—and, as we float peacefully out upon the bosom of "Old Erie," one feels that the cares of life have lagged behind.

Now the varying course of the ship from time to time brings to view the silvery moon and its rippling reflections in the vessel's wake, while the strains of some dreamy waltz, enchantingly rendered, soothes the ear, and cool, invigorating breezes fan the brow as the traveler is borne along, almost regretting that nature demands its sweet repose.

It is sunrise and we are soon to end our journey. As we pass the breakwater the harbor seems stretching out to welcome our noble vessel, and the tourist, to Buffalo's hospitable environs. Once again we are among scenes of activity, but so refreshed that our journey seems like a fairy's legend.

FATALITIES AT FIRE

St. Joseph, Mo., July 6.—The main building of the Hammond packing plant was destroyed by fire Sunday. The loss is estimated as high as $1,500,000. It is entirely covered by insurance. Two men lost their lives in the flames. One of them is reported to be Charles Miller, fire marshal at the plant. This could not be verified. Three men were injured, one of them seriously.

For a time the entire stock yards district was threatened. By hard work the Nelson Morris plant, 300 feet north of the Hammond plant, was saved, and this saved the Swift plant, which is north of the Nelson Morris building.

The fire started a little after 2 o'clock. By 9 o'clock most of the building was gone. The greater danger was at 6 o'clock, when part of the north wall fell and the fierce flames were shot toward the Nelson Morris building. The carcasses of 4,500 hogs, 1,800 cattle and 800 sheep were burned. Nearly 100,000 pounds of oleomargarine were destroyed. The contents of the smokehouse were consumed.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. There was no fire in the casing department in the eastern part of the building, where the fire started.

Daniel Smalley, foreman of the car department, fell from the car sheds on the north of the building and suffered serious injury.

The fatalities occurred about 5 o'clock. By that time nearly the entire building was on fire. A man with a hose, said to have been Miller, was seen at one of the windows on the north side of the hog department. He walked back into the building and a few seconds later those on the outside heard terrible cries. The man did not appear again and is believed to have been killed.

Two young men who were in the room and left a few minutes before said that two failed to escape, but they did not give the names of the men, who were said to be employes of the company.

The buildings and machinery were covered by insurance to the amount of $550,000, and the stock was insured for about $600,000.

Cured His Mother of Rheumatism.

"My mother has been a sufferer for many years with rheumatism," says W. H. Howard, of Husband, Pa. "At times she was unable to move at all, while at all times walking was painful. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried, in fact, she is never without it now and is at all times able to walk. An occasional application of Pain Balm keeps away the pain that she was formerly troubled with." For sale by Alvin & Bulger.

ARMED NEGROES SEEK REVENGE

Threaten to Wipe Out Town of Norway on Account of Lynching. Militia En Route.

Columbia, S. C., July 6.—The little town of Norway, where Charles Evans, the negro assailant, was lynched a few days ago, is panic-stricken on account of increasing crowds of armed negroes who threaten vengeance.

An appeal has been sent to the governor for troops. In his absence the adjutant general has ordered a Columbia battalion to go in a special train to Norway at once.

Norway has only 200 inhabitants. As the negroes began to gather around the town, threatening to wipe out the population, a citizens' meeting was held and a committee appointed to act at once. Their appeal was wired to the governor immediately. Meanwhile every man in the town goes armed, and should the military not arrive in time they will fight the negroes to their best ability. Women and children have been counseled to keep indoors, and doors and windows are kept securely closed.

One Link Arranged For.

Vernon Traction company. Ninety per cent of the private right of way has already been secured for the 33-mile road which will be built via Gambier. This will form a link in the line from Cleveland, and when constructed will give Newark four interurban roads.

EAST END

THE LAUCHLIN PLANTS RESUME TOMORROW

The result of the conference between the operatives and the manufacturers, while it brought cheer to the hearts of thousands, carried with it a tinge of regret to the employes of the Laughlin plants. Most of them had been counting on a vacation of at least a week, but they were notified to report for duty this morning. Many of them did so, but work was not resumed on account of a shortage of clay. Everything will be in readiness for resumption bright and early tomorrow morning.

Quite a number of men employed at Laughlin's have been in camp along the West Virginia shore, above Chester, and in order to resume work will cause a number of the camps to be abandoned.

The disappointment of the men will soon disappear as the prospect of a steady run of work is bright. The firm has a large number of orders on the files and more are coming in every day.

BOY BADLY HURT

Floyd Lafferty, aged 7 years, fell from a garret window at his home in Dixonville and sustained serious injuries. The boy was sitting in the window and in some way lost his balance, tumbling over backwards. In the descent he turned a somersault, alighting on his feet. The left leg was broken, and it is feared that internal injuries were sustained.

Dr. Shay was called and set the limb and rendered other medical attention. The lad seems to be in great pain and is very restless, apparently suffering from internal injuries.

Young Couple Wedded.

Miss Julia A. Petty and Major Brooks, two popular East End people, were united in marriage Saturday evening at the home of Edward McAfoe, a cousin of the bride.

The ceremony was performed by Justice L. W. Carman, in the presence of a few relatives and friends of the contracting parties. After the ceremony and congratulations an elegant wedding supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks have a host of friends, who wish them a long and prosperous life. They will go to housekeeping soon in the East End.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Major Reed and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shumway, relatives of the groom from Reedville, O.

Miss McBride Lectured.

The services yesterday at the Second Presbyterian church were of more than ordinary interest and large congregations were out both morning and evening. At the first named service the pastor preached a very eloquent and able sermon. The service in the evening was given over to Miss McBride, a niece of Rev. J. N. Swan, who has been a missionary in the mountains of Kentucky and Tenessee. She gave a very interesting lecture upon the habits and religious faith of the people of the mountains. Miss McBride has been visiting at the Swan home and returns to her work tomorrow.

Foot Pierced By Rusty Nail.

Missionary Meeting.

The ladies' missionary society of the Second Presbyterian church will hold its next regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Richard Laughlin, on Pennsylvania avenue. The hour for the meeting is 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Will Install Officers.

The recently elected officers of the Protected Home Circle will be inducted into office at the meeting tomorrow night. A large class of candidates for membership will be obligated and the meeting promises to be of more than ordinary interest. No social feature has been arranged for.

GIRLS WERE SENT TO THE REFORM SCHOOL

James Clark, of Beaver Falls, and Sadie Clark and Stella Hodge, of New Brighton, the trio who figured in a short escapade on Wednesday, were taken to New Brighton from East Liverpool and before 'Squire Calhoon, and the cases disposed of.

The charge of abduction against Clark was not sustained owing to the fact that the girls were past the "abduction" age, and the party who preferred the charge failed to appear. Clark paid all the costs in the case, amounting to $15, which included the costs at East Liverpool and Beaver Falls, and he was discharged.

He stated that he was on his way to visit relatives at Cambridge. He had intended to return in a few days and go to work in Rochester, where he had secured a position.

The father of the Hodge girl and also the mother of the Clark girl appeared later and preferred charges of incorrigibility against their daughters. After considering the matter the 'squire decided to commit the girls to Morganza reform school.

Sol Rogers, the negro who, it is claimed, committed robbery and assaulted one woman at the home of Mrs. Tweedy near Smithfield, several nights since, was arrested at a negro camp near Harrisville. He denies his guilt.

Joseph Stanley, for years a well known minister in the society of Friends, died several days ago at Brookhaven, Mass., where he had been living. He was born near Damascus in 1819, and is survived by a sister, Elizabeth Blackburn, of Beloit, and a brother living in Iowa.

Uncle Reuben's Opinion.

"They may say what they please, but listen—hear me; I've taken all kinds of laxatives, purgatives and cathartics but when it comes to one that is easy and pleasant to take, mild and gentle in its action, and that makes one want an extra slice of bacon for breakfast, just give me Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and you may have all the laxative syrups, dyspepsia medicines and pills, little or big, there is in this country. Them Tablets surely do make one feel joyful." For sale by Alvin & Bulger.

SCROFULA A DISEASE WE INHERIT.

Scrofula manifests itself in many ways. Swelling of the glands of the neck and throat, Catarrh, weak eyes, white swelling, offensive sores and abscesses, skin eruptions, loss of strength and weakness in muscles and joints.

It is a miserable disease and traceable in almost every instance to some family blood taint. Scrofula is bred in the bone, is transmitted from parent to child, the seeds are planted in infancy and unless the blood is purged and purified and every atom of the taint removed Scrofula is sure to develop at some period in your life.

Scrofula appeared on the head of my little grandchild when only 18 months old, and spread rapidly over her body. The disease next attacked the eyes and we feared she would lose her sight. Eminent physicians were consulted, but could do nothing to relieve the little innocent. It was then that we decided to try S. S. S. That medicine at once made a speedy and complete cure. She is now a young lady, and has never had a sign of the disease to return.

MRS. RUTH BERKLY,
150 South 5th Street. Salina, Kan.

No remedy equals S. S. S. as a cure for Scrofula. It cleanses and builds up the blood, makes it rich and pure, and under the tonic effects of this great Blood Remedy, the general health improves, the digestive organs are strengthened, and there is a gradual but sure return to health. The deposit of tubercular matter in the joints and glands is carried off as soon as the blood is restored to a normal condition, and the sores, eruptions, and other symptoms of Scrofula disappear.

SSS

S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and harmless; an ideal blood purifier and tonic that removes all blood taint and builds up weak constitutions. Our physicians will advise without charge, all who write us about their case. Book mailed free.

The decision of the manufacturing and operative potters in regard to the demands of the N. B. of O. P. convention is one that reflects credit upon the good sense of both. The News Review, although it has heard columns of strike talk, has printed none of it, not desiring to furnish discord or to unwarrantably disturb the current of local business. Past experience has shown that the men who manufacture pottery, as well as the men who work in the pottery, trade in East Liverpool, have the best interests of the city at heart and can be relied upon to adjust their differences without resorting to such unwarranted and ill-advised action as provoking a strike. They are both aware that such a course would be exceedingly unprofitable to them as well as to all of the city. The conference committees have acted with wisdom and discretion, and East Liverpool and the pottery towns in general owe them a debt of gratitude. The decision announced on Friday evening was hailed with joy by every person having the best interests of the city and of its chief industry at heart and inspired a Fourth of July celebration that was indeed joyous.

Our friend, the Cherry Picker, is much disturbed for fear Mayor Weaver has made a mistake in resolving to set people to work to whom useful occupation is unknown. We believe the mayor should be encouraged in his undertaking. It is a well known fact that there are a number of men in East Liverpool who serve jail sentences with great frequency. If they can be induced to work a little in return for free boarding and lodging the city will be the gainer. If they are put to work upon the streets and run away, as the Cherry Picker asserts that they will, the city will also profit by their absence. They can well be spared, and their departure will be regretted by no one. It is quite possible to make their work count more than it will cost to oversee them, and they are not likely to court a second and more severe sentence.

The first half of 1903 brought 537 less commercial failures than the same period of 1902. As long as the bankruptcy business is the only one that is on the decline the country is not likely to exhibit any unwonted desire for changed conditions.

The News Review extra, which gave the joyful news of the averting of a strike, was not got out in 21 minutes, but it could have been issued in half that time provided it had contained as little as our boastful contemporary, the Cherry Picker.

The small boy who passed through the perils of the Fourth without a scratch may be destined for greater triumphs. At least he should be encouraged to cultivate his bump of conservativeness.

College students have gone to the rescue of the Kansas wheat crop. Holding a diploma does not disqualify a man from making his brain and brawn useful in the west.

The czar may refuse to read a petition from America, but he will be likely to learn what the people think cf him if he reads a good newspaper.

The new code is teaching the cities of Ohio that it is necessary to elect business men to office if they want good government.

The Fourth of July is 127 years old as an American institution and as popular now as it was in 1776.

Frank Hoff.

Frank Hoff, aged 35, died Friday afternoon at his home on Erie street, after a lingering illness from consumption. The body was shipped to Marietta, the former home, Saturday night on the steamer Lorena. The funeral services were held at that city yesterday. Mr. Hoff was a carpenter by trade and was well and favorably known. He is survived in this city by a wife and four children.

An Infant's Death.

No Standing Still

This is not the same drug store that it was last year. It is constantly changing, always progressing, ever improving. We get new suggestions from our customers, new ideas from traveling men, new plans from visiting successful drug stores in other cities. Gradually these suggestions, ideas and plans get worked into our store. That is why it keeps growing and improving. It seems to be a pleasure for our customers to trade with us, and it certainly is a pleasure for us to conduct such a store. We invite your patronage.

Tooth Brush Economy

We have tooth brushes for ten cents that are sold for double the price in some places. Extra good ones for fifteen cents, splendid values for the money, but we do not urge the sale of any of these because real downright economy comes in buying something a little better. We would advise you to pick a brush costing 25 cents or more for two reasons:

First, your teeth are worthy of the best brush made. The better the brush the more perfect its work.

Denver, July 6.—James B. Grant, chairman of the executive committee of the American, Smelting and Refining company, estimates the damage at the Grant and Globe smelters, caused by the unexpected strike of the employes, at $25,000 to $30,000. All but two of the 11 furnaces in use were "frozen" and the ore will have to be cut out before the furnaces can again be used. President Charles F. Meyer, of the Western Federation of Miners, says that he does not think it will be necessary to call out the miners of the state in support of the smelter men. The failure of the legislature to pass an eight-hour law is given by the strikers as the cause of the trouble and the company is accused of using improper means to defeat legislation. A large force of police is guarding the smelters in this city and no serious disturbance has occurred, though 12 men have been arrested for disorderly conduct and making threats.

ude of the Diamond and vicinity, he scampered down on Smoky Row and was not there long until he had started some lively doings. Meeting a negro, who gave his name as Spence Henderson, he unceremoniously pulled the gun and struck Henderson several times on the head with it. The latter did not retaliate, but went to Officer Dunn and filed a complaint. The officer found Brock without trouble and placed him under arrest. He was taken to the city hall where he gave security for his appearance this morning at 10 o'clock.

Attorney James F. McGarry appeared for the defendant and had the hearing in the case postponed until this evening at 7 o'clock. He will then answer to a charge of carrying concealed weapons, assaulting his wife and also Henderson.

Seriously Injured Schooling Horse.

Killed in Collision.

Marine City, Mich., July 6.—As the result of a rear-end collision on the Rapid railway, an interurban electric line, three miles from here, one man was so seriously crushed that he died a short time after. The dead man's name is George Oxford and his residence is given as Sombrae township, Ontario. John Brahmer, of this city, escaped with a broken leg. Both men were standing on the platform of the forward car. The accident is said to have resulted from brakes failing to work.

Mine Fire Under Control.

Hanna, Wyo., July 6.—It is believed the fire in the mine, which was the scene of the recent explosions and consequent heavy loss of life, has been brought under control. The work of removing the debris from the slope is progressing favorably. It is not believed, however, that an attempt will be made to remove the bodies of the entombed miners for several days to come.

Drowned Trying to Save Boy.

Wilkesbarre, July 6.—Elias D. Trimble, an old and well-known resident of West Nanticoke, and Wesley Kyttle, aged 14 years, were drowned in the canal near Harveys creek. The former made an attempt to rescue the boy and both were caught in underbrush and drowned.

WELLSVILLE

WELLSVILLE OBSERVED THE FOURTH IN GRAND STYLE.

Everything Passed Off Happily And Most Creditably to the City.

The Fourth of July celebration here was the greatest ever seen in Wellsville and would have been a credit to any city three times as large. Thousands of visitors were entertained in a most lavish manner, and Mayor Fogo and the various committees are being highly praised for the great success of the patriotic affair.

The city was profusely decorated from Yellow creek to the rolling mill, and early Friday night the stock of flags and bunting here became exhausted and a rush was made on the stores of Pittsburg and East Liverpool.

The parade was magnificent in every particular and over a mile in length. General Garfield camp No. 3, of East Liverpool, was the escort of honor. Manley's band, of the same city, headed the parade, with five other bands stationed at intervals throughout the column.

General James W. Reilly, who was mayor here in 1854, being the oldest living ex-chief executive, rode with Mayor Fogo in a carriage, the venerable soldier attracting much attention. He was mayor of Wellsville just 15 years before the birth of the present mayor.

The long march from the public square to Eighteenth street and back was made without accident, Chief Marshal Lloyd and his aides having the various divisions so well in hand. Three hundred boys in red, white and blue suits, and half a dozen immense floats with little girls in white singing national airs were features of the imposing pageant.

The program of sports took place as scheduled and at night $300 worth of fire works, from a barge anchored in the middle of the Ohio river, ended in a burst of glory the day's festivities.

ACCIDENTS WERE FEW IN WELLSVILLE

AND NONE OF A SERIOUS CHARACTER REPORTED.

Accidents in Wellsville on the Fourth were few and comparatively slight in view of the immense crowd and the wonderful amount of fireworks exploded from early morning until late at night.

The most serious was that of the bursting of a small cannon on Third street and Broadway at noon Saturday which tore off the end of the third finger of Charles Pickering's left hand. He is only 11 years old. A fragment of the cannon also struck him in the abdomen, inflicting injuries that may terminate seriously. Harold Poole, aged 8, was also injured slightly in the same accident. Dr. F. K. Hutchison attended the Pickering boy.

George Wilson and wife were slightly injured by being thrown from their buggy early Saturday morning on Broadway. The horses became frightened at some waving decorations and ran away, smashing the buggy. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson reside near Bethel church and came to town to see the parade.

STRANGER CALLED AND STOLE MONEY

A stranger applied for room and board at the boarding house of Mrs. Ella McClellan, on Eighth street, Friday. He asked to be shown some of the rooms and after taking a look at them promised to return for dinner. He never came back and it developed late in the day that $14 had been taken from the pockets of clothing of William Orr, a boarder. Just how the trick was turned is not clear, for the reason that one of the servants accompanied him on his inspection of the rooms.

The same morning the kitchen of the same house caught fire from a gas stove, but the flames were subdued before any serious damage was done.

While on her way to church Sunday morning with Miss Lucy Parsons, Miss Frances Robinson, daughter of William Robinson, residing on Liverpool street, near the rolling mill, was struck and knocked down by a street car and severely injured. The young ladies were walking close to the track to keep out of the mud, and although the motorman sounded the alarm gong and called out to Miss Robinson to get out of the way, she seemed to think that she was safe, and before the car could be stopped was struck and hurled to the ground. She was carried to the residence of Alfred Clark by the conductor, Mr. Clark and Mr. Betsing, and Drs. Hutcheson and Robinson were hastily summoned.

An examination revealed that her shoulder and back were painfully injured. She was conveyed to her own home, a short distance up the street, on a stretcher, where she is resting fairly well today. If not internally injured the physicians state that she will recover.

Fell Down Stairs.

Helen, the 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Wallace, on Second streets, fell down stairs early Sunday morning and sustained severe injuries, although no bones were broken.

Many Matters of Importance Were Disposed of—Light Question Not Settled.

Messrs. Hobbs, Cunningham, Dunn and Mercer were present at the regular meeting of the Chester council Friday night, and much business was transacted. The members barely constituted a quorum, but this did not interfere with the matters taken up.

When the report of the light committee was called for Councilman Dunn shook his head in a knowing way, which was taken to signify that nothing had been done toward relieving the town from its perpetual gloom.

Mr. Hobbs, who was interested in having the nuisance at the big elm tree abated, desired to know if anything had been done, but no one knew and the matter was dropped.

Ordinances establishing grade lines on several thoroughfares were passed, and bills aggregating nearly $500 were ordered paid.

Sergeant Allison, who had been hired to tend the street lights, presented his bill, but several of the members objected to paying it because the tender had done no work. Allison took the stand that he had been employed to do the work; he had been on the ground ready to do it, and the fact that there was no lights to look after was no fault of his. This staggered the solons, who allowed the bill, but laid off the light tender until the light question was settled.

On motion it was decided to grade Fairview avenue from the Fairview road to the state line. Bids will be advertised for at once. Under this head Sergeant Allison, after some discussion, was instructed to collect the road tax.

Councilman Hobbs called attention to the fact that teamsters persisted in driving over the curbing on streets after it had been set. In his opinion, it would only be a question of time until the stone would either be destroyed or displaced. The ordinance on the subject will be enforced.

ATTRACTION AT ROCK SPRINGS THEATRE THIS WEEK.

The Several Specialty Artists Are the Best to Be Had and Their Acts Will Please.

Beginning tonight the attractions at the Rock Springs theatre will be high class vaudeville, which will continue throughout the week. Manager F. N. Strauss has been compelled, on account of ill health, to abandon his work at the theatre temporarily. Mr. Strauss has been very successful since taking charge here and his friends hope he will recover rapidly. He will go to Cleveland today, where he will be under the care of his physician for several weeks. During his absence, or until Manager McCallem sends a substitute, the theatre will be in charge of Mr. Franklin, the musical director.

The vaudeville bill for the week is unusually strong, and will doubtless please the patrons of the resort. The list is headed by Emile Chevriel, comedian, who has by hard work and close application succeeded in winning a high place up among the best men in the profession.

"Our Country Cousin" is a sketch created and being staged by Lones & Walton, two of the cleverest vaudeville artists in the business. The lovers of good comedy cannot but appreciate this turn.

The Dorothea Sisters, who have been working in several of the biggest and best vaudeville houses in the country, will appear here during the week, and have prepared all of the latest coon songs in their most attractive form.

Koppe, humorist and hoopnologist, has a turn that is novel and entertaining, being one of the most original acts on the specialty stage this season.

BILL M'BEE

William McBee, who shot a man named Bruce near Asbury chapel several months ago, was arrested in Rochester on Saturday. The authorities there were not aware that he was wanted in Chester until they had communicated with the officers, and he will probably be held in the Pennsylvania town until papers can be secured.

McBee was arrested in Rochester on a charge of drunkenness and afterward information was made against him for carrying concealed weapons. He has not been in Chester since the shooting, and though his victim has fully recovered, having received but slight injuries, it is probable he will be prosecuted to the limit when he is brought back.

Injured in a Ball Game.

Visited New Oil Field.

A number of Chester people paid a visit to the new oil field of the Chester Oil & Gas company on the Edward Hadley farm yesterday. The test well recently begun gives promise of good results, and the members of the company are greatly encouraged. The visitors were pleased with the manner in which they were entertained by Mr. Hadley, who is a prime cook and a royal good fellow.

ENDEAVOR HOSTS ASSEMBLING

Biennial Convention Opens Thursday. Christian Workers from All Sections Will Be Present.

Denver, July 6.—Christian Endeavor hosts already have begun to assemble in this city, and until next Thursday, when the international biennial convention will open, large delegations from all parts of the country will arrive daily. Plans have been made to care for 25,000 visitors. Fifteen acres of ground near the city park have been set aside as a convention camp and the general meetings will be held in a large tent, which will give seating room for 10,000. The opening session will be held Thursday, following a meeting of the trustees. Officers for the ensuing two years will be elected. Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark, who organized the first Christian Endeavor society at Portland, Me., Feb. 22, 1881, will be re-elected president and W. Shaw treasurer.

REV. FRANCIS E. CLARK.

President Clark will open the convention and addresses of welcome will be delivered by Governor Peabody for the state and Rev. Robert F. Coyle for the churches. On Thursday evening President Clark will read his annual address, after which a platform reception will be held by the officers, trustees and state presidents.

The four days following will be crowded with religious services, missionary rallies and addresses on topics of interest to the societies by prominent clergymen and other Christian workers from all parts of the country. The official program gives an honored place to Chuco Ogawa, of Japan, who will represent officially the Endeavorers of that kingdom.

Fatal Trolley Accident.

Warren, Pa., July 6.—An appalling accident happened on the Electric Traction company's road at Irvindale park, three miles outside this city, shortly after 12 o'clock Saturday morning. Arch Stricters, aged 20, is dead; John Jenson, aged 20, will die and Alfred Graham, aged 20, is seriously injured. A heavily loaded car on which the men were riding collided with another coming in an opposite direction. Stricters, Jenson and Graham were standing on the forward fender. Graham jumped and his action saved his life, although he was severely injured. Stricters and Jenson were caught between the cars and their bodies crushed. The former died before reaching the city and the latter is injured internally and cannot recover.

Negro Woman Escapes Lynching.

Peoria, Ill., July 6.—A mob of 300 white people sought the life of Minnie Pearl, colored, who beat Perry Combs, a white boy, aged 11 years, with a club until his body was covered with deep cuts and welts. The woman was arrested and taken to the police station before the mob could reach the house. When the mob discovered that she was gone they tore down her house and threw the furnishings into the river. The attack on the boy was made because he led a mule across the woman's lot.

Woman in the Case as Usual.

Lekington, Ky., July 6.—Anothe. killing is reported from Magoffin county, in which Reb Keeton, aged 20 years, shot and killed Sam Brown, aged 24 years, in a quarrel over a woman. They met at the woman's house, where the shooting took place. The friends of the dead man have offered a reward of $200 for his arrest and a posse has been in the mountains after him.

The Visitors Made Desperate But Ineffectual Attempts to Win Both.

LOTS OF KNOCKING DONE

By the Crowd That Attended the Morning Game—Base Ball Was in Full Blast All Day And No Diamond Was Unoccupied Long.

From a baseball standpoint, the Fourth of July in East Liverpool was a grand success. In West End park two of the prettiest games ever played in the vicinity were witnessed by large crowds and there was not a park or a diamond in or about the city that was not occupied by teams ranging from the Sixth street Bums to the least aggregations of the Crockery City league. Many of the teams, a number of which no reports could be gained, played both morning and afternoon.

A deadening feature of the first battle of the locals and the Fairbanks in West End park was the sweltering heat. Old Sol seemed to be in his glory while shining with awful torridity over the play-ground. The fans suffered much but the boys on the diamond were so heated that their every muscle and nerve was exerted to the utmost in their effort to stay in the game. Their wearing apparel, soaked with prespiration, hung to them like a wet rag. In the afternoon, however, the park was in superb condition. A heavy rain of short duration had cooled the atmosphere and throughout the afternoon threatening clouds intercepted and the sun's rays, which together with a gentle northerly wind, converted the ball ground into a cool and comfortable state.

The Fairbanks made a desperate effort to win both of the games. The shutout on the preceding day was the first that had been dealt them in four years and before the morning battle, Yoedt, the little German pitcher, said he would win the game or die in the attempt. He did neither, but made a creditable showing and hed he had support might have carried out his assertion. A few more such games as the morning contest, however, will kill baseball in this city.

What possessed about 75 of the fans is hard to determine. They certainly gained a reputation for "knocking" that will be long remembered. It seemed to be their fondest hope that the locals would suffer defeat and they took special delight in howling themselves hoarse upon a good play of a visitor and upon a poor one of a local. Their knocks did them little good further than securing for themselves a record that will stay with them.

It was another scrappy game, the visitors kicking on every decision, fair or otherwise, and what they made out but such demonstrations was evidenced when they got their only run and were saved another shutout through a big howl in the sixth inning. Mangold made the run. He stepped up and fanned viciously at the ball twice and when he saw a wild one coming at him, knowing that Emmerling could not stop it he struck at it and before Emmerling fielded the ball had reached third base. Capt. Reark rushed into the diamond and objected strenuously to the umpire allowing him to remain at third, stating that the ground rule was that only one base can be taken on a passed ball. This agreement was also made before the first game on Thursday.

The visitors kicked and pawed around until Mangold was permitted to hold the bag. Bardelang went out to Gibson and while Webb was throwing Volbright out at first Mangold scored. Gitzen, the next up, got a pretty single, and the following two players walked. The bases were full and for the first time in the series the visitors had a fighting chance to tie the score or possibly win. Gitzen obliterated the opportunity, however, by attempting to make it home and being called out for interfering with a ball thrown by Emmerling to third. He jumped in the air and blocked the ball. The Fairbanks put up another howl on this decision, but to no avail.

The locals did their scoring in the first inning, three men reaching the goal in rapid succession on four hits, one of them a three-bagger by Wallace. The latter made a home run of it by running past third into the catcher and knocking the ball from his hand. The remainder of the game was very closely played, neither side making an error and hits being scattered.

The afternoon game was considered the best of the series. And that the locals won again was due to their superiority, not luck or favoritism on the part of the umpire. The twirlers were evenly matched, the hits being 8 and 7. It was in this game as in the morning, the locals made their jump in the first inning. Three men scored on three hits and an error. Nolan got first on Yoedt's error and made the goal on Wallace's single. The latter was advanced to third on a hit by Brown and both of them went bounding over the plate on a two-bagger by Webb. The next run was scored in the fifth. Wallace landed for three bases and was sent home on a two bagger by Brown.

The only run scored by the visitors was made through an error by Gibson. Gitzen singled, stole second, advanced to third when Lippert walked and when Yoedt popped a little one to Gibson the latter became confused owing to some antics made by Brown and dropped it, allowing the runner to score. At no other time in the game did they have an opportunity to score, but they played with their might throughout. The score:

As society is built up from and rests on the family, there are no questions of greater importance than those which concern the family, and just now the question of divorce or no divorce, of divorce for one or for more reasons, is agitating the minds of the most eminent thinkers, lawmakers and sociologists all over the world.

From articles in the American press one gets the impression that the general opinion is that those who suffer most in unhappy marriages and who strongly favor liberal divorce laws are the women.

And, still, when a French magazine sent a list of questions to prominent French women we saw the surprising result that MOST OF THEM CAME OUT VERY STRONGLY IN FAVOR OF INDISSOLUBLE MARRIAGE.

Public opinion has always treated man very leniently. A man may get a divorce, he may figure as corespondent in a divorce suit, or his wife may get a divorce from him on statutory grounds, and we will always find plenty of excuses for him; we will smilingly call his escapades trifles that ought to be forgiven, AND HIS REPUTATION AND STANDING IN SOCIETY WILL NOT SUFFER.

A man that transgresses and breaks his marriage vows is and always has been considered interesting by the weaker sex, except when they happened to be personally interested in the case.

BUT IF WOMAN SINS EVERYTHING IS CHANGED. If she commits only one error and is found out, she is never forgiven, and her own sex will judge her much more harshly than men will. A divorced woman has no friends. She finds every door closed against her, and no matter how hard she tries she can never build up her lost reputation. She may be as pure and innocent as a child; she may go to live in a strange city. THE VERY MINUTE IT IS FOUND OUT THAT SHE IS A DIVORCED WOMAN SHE IS DOOMED AND DROPPED FROM THE LISTS OF GOOD SOCIETY.

This is the reason why woman, who formerly was always anxious to have liberal divorce laws passed, is now firmly arrayed against anything that will make a dissolution of marriage easier.

RACE WAR MAY BE PRECIPITATED

Evansville, Ind., July 6.—Twenty-five policemen twice prevented a lynching at the jail in this city, but their bravery was not sufficient to avert a bitter race war between negroes and the white mobs that sought the life of Lee Brown, the negro slayer of Patrolman Louis N. Massey.

The mobs smashed down iron gates and were part way into the jail before they were repulsed by the policemen. Their efforts to lynch Brown aroused the enmity of the negroes of the city, who gathered about the jail and made a threatening demonstration. The negroes were chased away by a crowd of white men. Mutterings of revenge are heard and a clash may be precipitated at any time.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

POPE LEO'S END NEAR

Life Still Prolonged by Stimulants and Concentrated Nourishment—Speculation Rife as to Successor—Inquiries from Europe's Monarchs.

Rome, July 6—3 a. m.—"God's will be done. Who would have believed it, when only 10 days ago I was presiding over a public consistory?" murmured feebly Pope Leo as he felt himself, late last evening, sinking into a sleep which lasted about three hours until excruciating pain brought the dying pontiff back to consciousness. He groaned and complained of pains on both sides of the thorax. Tenderly Dr. Lapponi, assisted by Pope Leo's valet, Pio Centra, and the physician's second assistant, De Castro, lifted the frail form and changing the position, succeeded in giving the patient some relief.

Though hovering on the brink of death, the life of the pontiff is still prolonged by means of strong stimulants and concentrated nourishment, and while he is still alive his wonderful vitality may again resist and conquer the attack of this illness.

Last Sacrament Administered.

The solemn yet gorgeous ceremony of administering the last sacrament took place at the bedside of Pope Leo. The central figure was the dying pontiff, whose long life's journey is nearly over, calmly preparing to enter the dark valley. His pale and emaciated face, almost as white as the pillows on which it rested showed little sign of life, except the keen glittering eyes, always his most striking feature.

Around the bed were grouped the noble guards, in the glittering uniform, the knights of the cloak and sword, their picturesque medieval costume of black with white ruffles; 25 cardinals, all the members of the sacred college who were present in Rome, stately and venerable figures in their sweeping crimson robes, the whole forming a scene of rich yet subdued coloring, a fit subject for the pencil of Rembrandt. The whole of what is called the pontifical family, headed by Cardinal Rampolla and including all the private chamberlains, were there. Nearest to the bed stood the imposing, tall figure of the cardinal grand penitentiary, Serafino Vannutelli, with the pope's confessor, to hear the last confession of the departing pontiff. Then the priest apostolic approached bearing the viaticum to give the last communion and administer the extreme unction, assisted by the grand penitentiary. Pope Leo feebly recited the confession of faith, as formulated by the council of Trent, and finally the words of absolution and the formula of indulgence in articulo mortis were solemnly pronounced by the grand penitentiary.

Pope Pronounced Benediction.

The heads of the great religious orders who were present granted the pope the special indulgences which they have the privilege of conferring. Then came the touching prayers for a passing soul and part of the gospel, the Lord's passion. As the last words died away all fell on their knees. The pontiff, raising his almost transparent fingers with a feeble effort, pronounced in scarcely audible words his benediction on the sacred college and on all present and then sank back on the pillows. There was scarcely a tearless eye in the whole assemblage; the sobs of the pope's relatives were plainly heard. Deep silence followed, only broken now and again by a murmured prayer or a pious ejaculation.

In the portion of the loggia of Raphael, adjoining the papal apartments, were the families of Count Riccardo Pecci and Count Moroni, the pope's nephews.

Late last evening after the excitement of the ceremony of the last sacraments was over, the pope seemed less restless, partly soothed by the religious service and partly by a dose of chloral, which was given to him in considerable quantities.

End Is Near.

The interior of the vatican during the early hours of this morning testifies to the conviction that the passing of Pope Leo is very near. The courtyard of St. Damasco is filled with the carriages of the cardinals. Cardinal Satolli drove to Rome from Frascati, the beautiful carriage horses covered with dust and perspiration. In the cortile are drawn up the carriages of the cardinals and of many notables. Servants and messengers hurry across the court with bundles of huge wax tapers and with the robes of the ecclesiastical dignitaries who are waiting within the palace. The ante chambers of the palace were all through the night thronged with princes of the church, high noblemen and members of the diplomatic corps. Telegrams of inquiry have been received from several of the monarchs of Europe.

Probable Successor.

All kinds of speculation are already in circulation as to the probable successor to the throne of St. Peter. Opinions are much divided owing to the many interests which will be affected according to the choice made by the sacred college. The first question the cardinals will have to solve will be whether the conclave shall be held in Rome or outside of Italy. It is believed that the supporters of the idea of abandoning Rome will be even fewer than in the conclave held in favor of Rome. The second question will be whether the next pope must be an Italian or a foreigner. It is generally believed that he will be an Italian because in view of the struggle between the church and the state since the fall of the temporal power and the constitution of united Italy all the clergy, as well as the clerical party and even foreigners, think that an Italian pope can protect better than a stranger the advance of the religious and political interests of the church.

The candidates chiefly spoken of are Cardinal Rampolla and Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli. They are both representatives of the conservative policy, but are bitter antagonists.

How Sick You Are or How Many Physicians Have Failed to Help You.
Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy will Cure You if a Cure is Possible.

Doctors are not infallible and there are many instances where they have decided a case was hopeless and then the patients astonished everyone by getting well and the sole cause of their cure was Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. A case in point is that of James Lettuce of Canajoharie, N. Y., who writes:

"Some years ago I was attacked with pains in my back and side that were fearful in the extreme. I could not control my kidneys at all and what came from them was mucous and blood. I was in a terrible state and suffered intensely. A prominent physician of Albany, N. Y., decided that an operation was all that would save me. I dreaded that and commenced to take Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. I felt better almost instantly. When I had taken about two bottles, the flow from the bladder was much cleaner, the pain stopped, and I was saved from the surgeon's knife and am now well."

Dr. W. H. Morse, the famous physician of Westfield, N. J., has this to say of this great medicine:

No form of kidney, liver, bladder or blood disease, or the distressing sicknesses so common to women, can long withstand the great curative power of this famous specific. Its record of cures has made it famous in medical circles everywhere.

HANNA TO VISIT SAGAMORE HILL

Will Lunch With President and Mrs. Roosevelt—Call Has No Political Significance.

Oyster Bay, July 6.—Senator Hanna, accompanied by Mrs. Hanna and a small party of friends, is expected at Sagamore Hill early this week. The party will arrive in a yacht in which Mr. Hanna proposes to take a short cruise, and will take luncheon with the president and Mrs. Roosevelt and their house guests. Assurance is given that the senator's call will be purely social and will have no political significance.

President Roosevelt, the members of his family and his guests attended services Sunday at Christ Episcopal church. When the carriages reached the outskirts of the village at the conclusion of the service the president and one of his friends alighted and walked home across the country.

Clarence H. Mackey has presented to President Roosevelt a small section of the new Pacific cable. It is beautifully mounted and rests in a handsome morocco case.

Hanna Disposes of Business Interests.

Cleveland, July 6.—According to a story printed by the Leader Senator M. A. Hanna has disposed of all his business interests which necessitated his personal oversight and is now merely a stockholder in but one or two of the several large concerns in which he was largely interested. The reason for this, the Leader states, is to give the senator more time to devote to politics, having come to the conclusion that he cannot do justice to both business and politics at the same time. Senator Hanna has left for the east and will take an extended trip on the private yacht of C. A. Griscom, beginning within a day or two. Mrs. Hanna and Miss Phelps, the latter a relative, accompanied him east.

City Secretary Shot by Son.

Dallas, Tex., July 6.—L. A. Moore, secretary of the city of Dallas, was shot and almost instantly killed by his son Ernest, aged 22 years. Moore, it is alleged, had been drinking and had attacked his younger son. The other son, Ernest, was remonstrating with the father, who turned upon him, when the son fired the fatal shot. Moore was well known in Texas, having been a deputy sheriff of Dallas county in the early history of the city.

The winner of this season's race in the American league looks even harder to pick than last. Larry La Joie's Cleveland club, on account of its wonderful spurt in the closing days of last year's season, is the popular choice of the fans, but the more conservative critics agree that any one of six clubs has a good chance at the bunting and that no one of the entire eight can be counted out of the competition.

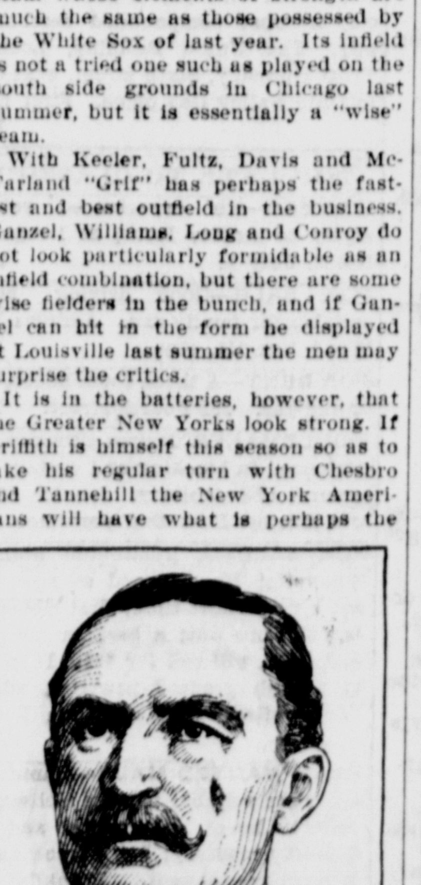
Cleveland has an aggregation of individual stars and as a batting team is one of the strongest that have ever been gathered together. Toward the end of last season the club made a spurt that indicated it to be the superior of any of the other clubs in the American league. It is essentially a team of stars, however, and only after this season's test will it be known just how steady the team will be in a long, grueling race. The unfortunate illness of La Joie early in the season has undoubtedly been a big handicap to the Clevelanders.

Jimmy Collins' Boston and St. Louis Americans are generally ranked next by the critics. These two clubs have run neck and neck for the past two seasons, and either one is dangerous in any company. Both are strong in pitchers, both have fast working infields and hard hitting outfields. But, more than all this, they are seasoned teams, with team work figured down to a fine point.

In New York Clark Griffith has a team whose elements of strength are much the same as those possessed by the White Sox of last year. Its infield is not a tried one such as played on the south side grounds in Chicago last summer, but it is essentially a "wise" team.

With Keeler, Fultz, Davis and McFarland "Grif" has perhaps the fastest and best outfield in the business. Ganzel, Williams, Long and Conroy do not look particularly formidable as an infield combination, but there are some wise fielders in the bunch, and if Ganzel can hit in the form he displayed at Louisville last summer the men may surprise the critics.

It is in the batteries, however, that the Greater New Yorks look strong. If Griffith is himself this season so as to take his regular turn with Chesbro and Tannehill the New York Americans will have what is perhaps the strongest pitching staff of any of the teams, and Jack O'Connor is one of the wisest and most clever catchers in the business.



MANAGER TOM LOFTUS OF WASHINGTON.

The champion Athletics, despite their remarkable showing last season, are not strongly favored as repeaters. Last year when they went to the top they were favored by the fact that the Chicago, Cleveland and Washington teams were weakened whenever they met the Athletics on their home grounds through the ruling of the Philadelphia courts, and with this handicap it was only the wonderful pitching of Rube Waddell and the generalship of Connie Mack that brought them the championship.

This year they have lost Fultz, their best run getter, and, while Mack may again surprise the wise ones, his team does not look so strong as New York, Cleveland, Boston or St. Louis.

Tom Loftus still has a team of sluggers at Washington, and, with the infield strengthened by the addition of Demontreville, he will always be dangerous, no matter with what team he is playing. The Detroit team, too, with a new manager and a team strengthened both in the outfield and in the pitching department, is strong, although still somewhat of an unknown quantity.

While all seven of the clubs named can see where they have a chance for first honors, Chicago fans are particularly interested in the White Sox. Comiskey and Callahan admittedly have a "dark horse" aggregation this season as compared with that of last year, but no owner more than the "Old Roman" is better prepared to get the winners out of just that sort of material.

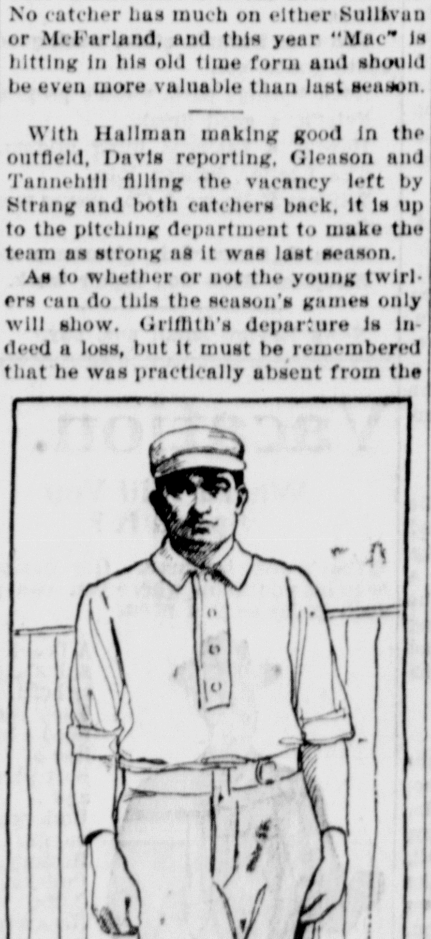
Isbell is bigger than ever this year and hopes to hit in better form than last season. As a fielding first base man he is almost in a class by himself, and Daly at second is one of the most reliable and "wisest" players in the business.

Tannehill made a good record as a shortstop with George Tebeau's crack Louisville team last year, and he has all the earmarks of the natural ball player. He can cover lots of ground, always gets the ball in a position to throw it and was credited with being a good man at the bat in the American association.

The catching department of the White Sox is the same as last year, and that means that it is the best there is. No catcher has much on either Sullivan or McFarland, and this year "Mac" is hitting in his old time form and should be even more valuable than last season.

With Hallman making good in the outfield, Davis reporting, Gleason and Tannehill filling the vacancy left by Strang and both catchers back, it is up to the pitching department to make the team as strong as it was last season.

As to whether or not the young twirlers can do this the season's games only will show. Griffith's departure is indeed a loss, but it must be remembered that he was practically absent from the game so far as the pitcher's box was concerned for more than half of last season.



LAVE CROSS, CAPTAIN PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS.

Of the old twirlers Callahan and Patterson are both back. If the managerial berth does as much for Callahan as it did for "Grif" the new manager should also be a new pitcher this year. Last season he, too, was out of form a good share of the time, but this season there is a good prospect that he will not only keep in condition, but be in the best form of his life.

Patterson is always reliable and is reported to be farther along in condition than usual this year. White, the new south paw, has already proved his worth with the Philadelphia National league team. He will be a strong man as the season advances.

Many a person's whole pleasure in life is ruined by the fear of nervous headaches. Any little excitement, no matter what, business or social, brings them on. The feet and hands grow cold, the head is hot, the eyes stiff, the temples throb, and only in the quiet of a darkened room is relief found. This condition must be checked or it means complete mental ruin. To those people Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills come as a blessing. They do not stop, they cure the headaches. They do not blanket, they build up. They put the nervous system in a strong, vigorous, sturdy condition—a condition that gives one resistive power and enables them to again enjoy life's pleasures.

Mrs. George Hall, of No. 389 West Market Street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "I was bilious—had nervous headaches, hard and constant—there was a general feeling of weakness and depression. I was asked to try Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and did so, getting them at Larkins' drug store. The result was very good indeed as the biliousness overcome—the headaches cured and bodily and nerve strength furnished."

The Visitors Made Desperate But Ineffectual Attempts to Win Both.

By the Crowd That Attended the Morning Game—Base Ball Was in Full Blast All Day And No Diamond Was Unoccupied Long.

From a baseball standpoint, the Fourth of July in East Liverpool was a grand success. In West End park two of the prettiest games ever played in the vicinity were witnessed by large crowds and there was not a park or a diamond in or about the city that was not occupied by teams ranging from the Sixth street Bums to the least aggregations of the Crockery City league. Many of the teams, a number of which no reports could be gained, played both morning and afternoon.

A deadening feature of the first battle of the locals and the Fairbanks in West End park was the sweltering heat. Old Sol seemed to be in his glory while shining with awful torridity over the play-ground. The fans suffered much but the boys on the diamond were so heated that their every muscle and nerve was exerted to the utmost in their effort to stay in the game. Their wearing apparel, soaked with prespiration, hung to them like a wet rag. In the afternoon, however, the park was in superb condition. A heavy rain of short duration had cooled the atmosphere and throughout the afternoon threatening clouds intercepted and the sun's rays, which together with a gentle northerly wind, converted the ball ground into a cool and comfortable state.

The Fairbanks made a desperate effort to win both of the games. The shutout on the preceding day was the first that had been dealt them in four years and before the morning battle, Yoedt, the little German pitcher, said he would win the game or die in the attempt. He did neither, but made a creditable showing and hed he had support might have carried out his assertion. A few more such games as the morning contest, however, will kill baseball in this city.

What possessed about 75 of the fans is hard to determine. They certainly gained a reputation for "knocking" that will be long remembered. It seemed to be their fondest hope that the locals would suffer defeat and they took special delight in howling themselves hoarse upon a good play of a visitor and upon a poor one of a local. Their knocks did them little good further than securing for themselves a record that will stay with them.

It was another scrappy game, the visitors kicking on every decision, fair or otherwise, and what they made out but such demonstrations was evidenced when they got their only run and were saved another shutout through a big howl in the sixth inning. Mangold made the run. He stepped up and fanned viciously at the ball twice and when he saw a wild one coming at him, knowing that Emmerling could not stop it he struck at it and before Emmerling fielded the ball had reached third base. Capt. Reark rushed into the diamond and objected strenuously to the umpire allowing him to remain at third, stating that the ground rule was that only one base can be taken on a passed ball. This agreement was also made before the first game on Thursday.

The visitors kicked and pawed around until Mangold was permitted to hold the bag. Bardelang went out to Gibson and while Webb was throwing Volbright out at first Mangold scored. Gitzen, the next up, got a pretty single, and the following two players walked. The bases were full and for the first time in the series the visitors had a fighting chance to tie the score or possibly win. Gitzen obliterated the opportunity, however, by attempting to make it home and being called out for interfering with a ball thrown by Emmerling to third. He jumped in the air and blocked the ball. The Fairbanks put up another howl on this decision, but to no avail.

The locals did their scoring in the first inning, three men reaching the goal in rapid succession on four hits, one of them a three-bagger by Wallace. The latter made a home run of it by running past third into the catcher and knocking the ball from his hand. The remainder of the game was very closely played, neither side making an error and hits being scattered.

The afternoon game was considered the best of the series. And that the locals won again was due to their superiority, not luck or favoritism on the part of the umpire. The twirlers were evenly matched, the hits being 8 and 7. It was in this game as in the morning, the locals made their jump in the first inning. Three men scored on three hits and an error. Nolan got first on Yoedt's error and made the goal on Wallace's single. The latter was advanced to third on a hit by Brown and both of them went bounding over the plate on a two-bagger by Webb. The next run was scored in the fifth. Wallace landed for three bases and was sent home on a two bagger by Brown.

The only run scored by the visitors was made through an error by Gibson. Gitzen singled, stole second, advanced to third when Lippert walked and when Yoedt popped a little one to Gibson the latter became confused owing to some antics made by Brown and dropped it, allowing the runner to score. At no other time in the game did they have an opportunity to score, but they played with their might throughout. The score:

AS society is built up from and rests on the family, there are no questions of greater importance than those which concern the family, and just now the question of divorce or no divorce, of divorce for one or for more reasons, is agitating the minds of the most eminent thinkers, lawmakers and sociologists all over the world.

From articles in the American press one gets the impression that the general opinion is that those who suffer most in unhappy marriages and who strongly favor liberal divorce laws are the women.

And, still, when a French magazine sent a list of questions to prominent French women we saw the surprising result that MOST OF THEM CAME OUT VERY STRONGLY IN FAVOR OF INDISSOLUBLE MARRIAGE.

Public opinion has always treated man very leniently. A man may get a divorce, he may figure as corespondent in a divorce suit, or his wife may get a divorce from him on statutory grounds, and we will always find plenty of excuses for him; we will smilingly call his escapades trifles that ought to be forgiven, AND HIS REPUTATION AND STANDING IN SOCIETY WILL NOT SUFFER.

A man that transgresses and breaks his marriage vows is and always has been considered interesting by the weaker sex, except when they happened to be personally interested in the case.

BUT IF WOMAN SINS EVERYTHING IS CHANGED. If she commits only one error and is found out, she is never forgiven, and her own sex will judge her much more harshly than men will. A divorced woman has no friends. She finds every door closed against her, and no matter how hard she tries she can never build up her lost reputation. She may be as pure and innocent as a child; she may go to live in a strange city. THE VERY MINUTE IT IS FOUND OUT THAT SHE IS A DIVORCED WOMAN SHE IS DOOMED AND DROPPED FROM THE LISTS OF GOOD SOCIETY.

This is the reason why woman, who formerly was always anxious to have liberal divorce laws passed, is now firmly arrayed against anything that will make a dissolution of marriage easier.

RACE WAR MAY BE PRECIPITATED

Evansville, Ind., July 6.—Twenty-five policemen twice prevented a lynching at the jail in this city, but their bravery was not sufficient to avert a bitter race war between negroes and the white mobs that sought the life of Lee Brown, the negro slayer of Patrolman Louis N. Massey.

The mobs smashed down iron gates and were part way into the jail before they were repulsed by the policemen. Their efforts to lynch Brown aroused the enmity of the negroes of the city, who gathered about the jail and made a threatening demonstration. The negroes were chased away by a crowd of white men. Mutterings of revenge are heard and a clash may be precipitated at any time.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

POPE LEO'S END NEAR

Rome, July 6—3 a. m.—"God's will be done. Who would have believed it, when only 10 days ago I was presiding over a public consistory?" murmured feebly Pope Leo as he felt himself, late last evening, sinking into a sleep which lasted about three hours until excruciating pain brought the dying pontiff back to consciousness. He groaned and complained of pains on both sides of the thorax. Tenderly Dr. Lapponi, assisted by Pope Leo's valet, Pio Centra, and the physician's second assistant, De Castro, lifted the frail form and changing the position, succeeded in giving the patient some relief.

Though hovering on the brink of death, the life of the pontiff is still prolonged by means of strong stimulants and concentrated nourishment, and while he is still alive his wonderful vitality may again resist and conquer the attack of this illness.

Last Sacrament Administered.

The solemn yet gorgeous ceremony of administering the last sacrament took place at the bedside of Pope Leo. The central figure was the dying pontiff, whose long life's journey is nearly over, calmly preparing to enter the dark valley. His pale and emaciated face, almost as white as the pillows on which it rested showed little sign of life, except the keen glittering eyes, always his most striking feature.

Around the bed were grouped the noble guards, in the glittering uniform, the knights of the cloak and sword, their picturesque medieval costume of black with white ruffles; 25 cardinals, all the members of the sacred college who were present in Rome, stately and venerable figures in their sweeping crimson robes, the whole forming a scene of rich yet subdued coloring, a fit subject for the pencil of Rembrandt. The whole of what is called the pontifical family, headed by Cardinal Rampolla and including all the private chamberlains, were there. Nearest to the bed stood the imposing, tall figure of the cardinal grand penitentiary, Serafino Vannutelli, with the pope's confessor, to hear the last confession of the departing pontiff. Then the priest apostolic approached bearing the viaticum to give the last communion and administer the extreme unction, assisted by the grand penitentiary. Pope Leo feebly recited the confession of faith, as formulated by the council of Trent, and finally the words of absolution and the formula of indulgence in articulo mortis were solemnly pronounced by the grand penitentiary.

Pope Pronounced Benediction.

The heads of the great religious orders who were present granted the pope the special indulgences which they have the privilege of conferring. Then came the touching prayers for a passing soul and part of the gospel, the Lord's passion. As the last words died away all fell on their knees. The pontiff, raising his almost transparent fingers with a feeble effort, pronounced in scarcely audible words his benediction on the sacred college and on all present and then sank back on the pillows. There was scarcely a tearless eye in the whole assemblage; the sobs of the pope's relatives were plainly heard. Deep silence followed, only broken now and again by a murmured prayer or a pious ejaculation.

In the portion of the loggia of Raphael, adjoining the papal apartments, were the families of Count Riccardo Pecci and Count Moroni, the pope's nephews.

Late last evening after the excitement of the ceremony of the last sacraments was over, the pope seemed less restless, partly soothed by the religious service and partly by a dose of chloral, which was given to him in considerable quantities.

End Is Near.

The interior of the vatican during the early hours of this morning testifies to the conviction that the passing of Pope Leo is very near. The courtyard of St. Damasco is filled with the carriages of the cardinals. Cardinal Satolli drove to Rome from Frascati, the beautiful carriage horses covered with dust and perspiration. In the cortile are drawn up the carriages of the cardinals and of many notables. Servants and messengers hurry across the court with bundles of huge wax tapers and with the robes of the ecclesiastical dignitaries who are waiting within the palace. The ante chambers of the palace were all through the night thronged with princes of the church, high noblemen and members of the diplomatic corps. Telegrams of inquiry have been received from several of the monarchs of Europe.

Probable Successor.

All kinds of speculation are already in circulation as to the probable successor to the throne of St. Peter. Opinions are much divided owing to the many interests which will be affected according to the choice made by the sacred college. The first question the cardinals will have to solve will be whether the conclave shall be held in Rome or outside of Italy. It is believed that the supporters of the idea of abandoning Rome will be even fewer than in the conclave held in favor of Rome. The second question will be whether the next pope must be an Italian or a foreigner. It is generally believed that he will be an Italian because in view of the struggle between the church and the state since the fall of the temporal power and the constitution of united Italy all the clergy, as well as the clerical party and even foreigners, think that an Italian pope can protect better than a stranger the advance of the religious and political interests of the church.

The candidates chiefly spoken of are Cardinal Rampolla and Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli. They are both representatives of the conservative policy, but are bitter antagonists.

How Sick You Are or How Many Physicians Have Failed to Help You.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy will Cure You if a Cure is Possible.

Doctors are not infallible and there are many instances where they have decided a case was hopeless and then the patients astonished everyone by getting well and the sole cause of their cure was Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. A case in point is that of James Lettuce of Canajoharie, N. Y., who writes:

"Some years ago I was attacked with pains in my back and side that were fearful in the extreme. I could not control my kidneys at all and what came from them was mucous and blood. I was in a terrible state and suffered intensely. A prominent physician of Albany, N. Y., decided that an operation was all that would save me. I dreaded that and commenced to take Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. I felt better almost instantly. When I had taken about two bottles, the flow from the bladder was much cleaner, the pain stopped, and I was saved from the surgeon's knife and am now well."

Dr. W. H. Morse, the famous physician of Westfield, N. J., has this to say of this great medicine:

No form of kidney, liver, bladder or blood disease, or the distressing sicknesses so common to women, can long withstand the great curative power of this famous specific. Its record of cures has made it famous in medical circles everywhere.

It is for sale by all druggists in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles—less than a cent a dose.

Will Lunch With President and Mrs. Roosevelt—Call Has No Political Significance.

Oyster Bay, July 6.—Senator Hanna, accompanied by Mrs. Hanna and a small party of friends, is expected at Sagamore Hill early this week. The party will arrive in a yacht in which Mr. Hanna proposes to take a short cruise, and will take luncheon with the president and Mrs. Roosevelt and their house guests. Assurance is given that the senator's call will be purely social and will have no political significance.

President Roosevelt, the members of his family and his guests attended services Sunday at Christ Episcopal church. When the carriages reached the outskirts of the village at the conclusion of the service the president and one of his friends alighted and walked home across the country.

Hanna Disposes of Business Interests.

Cleveland, July 6.—According to a story printed by the Leader Senator M. A. Hanna has disposed of all his business interests which necessitated his personal oversight and is now merely a stockholder in but one or two of the several large concerns in which he was largely interested. The reason for this, the Leader states, is to give the senator more time to devote to politics, having come to the conclusion that he cannot do justice to both business and politics at the same time. Senator Hanna has left for the east and will take an extended trip on the private yacht of C. A. Griscom, beginning within a day or two. Mrs. Hanna and Miss Phelps, the latter a relative, accompanied him east.

City Secretary Shot by Son.

Dallas, Tex., July 6.—L. A. Moore, secretary of the city of Dallas, was shot and almost instantly killed by his son Ernest, aged 22 years. Moore, it is alleged, had been drinking and had attacked his younger son. The other son, Ernest, was remonstrating with the father, who turned upon him, when the son fired the fatal shot. Moore was well known in Texas, having been a deputy sheriff of Dallas county in the early history of the city.

The winner of this season's race in the American league looks even harder to pick than last. Larry La Joie's Cleveland club, on account of its wonderful spurt in the closing days of last year's season, is the popular choice of the fans, but the more conservative critics agree that any one of six clubs has a good chance at the bunting and that no one of the entire eight can be counted out of the competition.

Cleveland has an aggregation of individual stars and as a batting team is one of the strongest that have ever been gathered together. Toward the end of last season the club made a spurt that indicated it to be the superior of any of the other clubs in the American league. It is essentially a team of stars, however, and only after this season's test will it be known just how steady the team will be in a long, grueling race. The unfortunate illness of La Joie early in the season has undoubtedly been a big handicap to the Clevelanders.

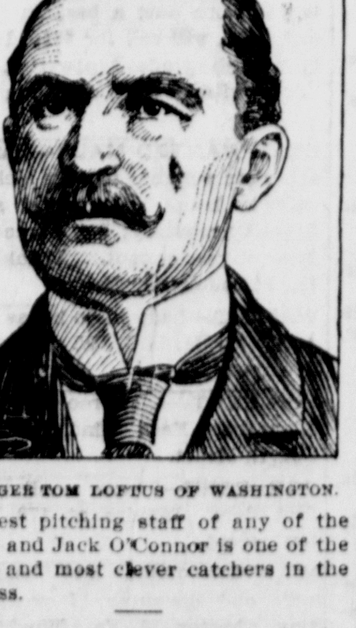
Jimmy Collins' Boston and St. Louis Americans are generally ranked next by the critics. These two clubs have run neck and neck for the past two seasons, and either one is dangerous in any company. Both are strong in pitchers, both have fast working infields and hard hitting outfields. But, more than all this, they are seasoned teams, with team work figured down to a fine point.

In New York Clark Griffith has a team whose elements of strength are much the same as those possessed by the White Sox of last year. Its infield is not a tried one such as played on the south side grounds in Chicago last summer, but it is essentially a "wise" team.

With Keeler, Fultz, Davis and McFarland "Grif" has perhaps the fastest and best outfield in the business. Ganzel, Williams, Long and Conroy do not look particularly formidable as an infield combination, but there are some wise fielders in the bunch, and if Ganzel can hit in the form he displayed at Louisville last summer the men may surprise the critics.

It is in the batteries, however, that the Greater New Yorks look strong. If Griffith is himself this season so as to take his regular turn with Chesbro and Tannehill the New York Americans will have what is perhaps the strongest pitching staff of any of the teams, and Jack O'Connor is one of the wisest and most clever catchers in the business.



MANAGER TOM LOFTUS OF WASHINGTON.

The champion Athletics, despite their remarkable showing last season, are not strongly favored as repeaters. Last year when they went to the top they were favored by the fact that the Chicago, Cleveland and Washington teams were weakened whenever they met the Athletics on their home grounds through the ruling of the Philadelphia courts, and with this handicap it was only the wonderful pitching of Rube Waddell and the generalship of Connie Mack that brought them the championship.

This year they have lost Fultz, their best run getter, and, while Mack may again surprise the wise ones, his team does not look so strong as New York, Cleveland, Boston or St. Louis.

Tom Loftus still has a team of sluggers at Washington, and, with the infield strengthened by the addition of Demontreville, he will always be dangerous, no matter with what team he is playing. The Detroit team, too, with a new manager and a team strengthened both in the outfield and in the pitching department, is strong, although still somewhat of an unknown quantity.

While all seven of the clubs named can see where they have a chance for first honors, Chicago fans are particularly interested in the White Sox. Comiskey and Callahan admittedly have a "dark horse" aggregation this season as compared with that of last year, but no owner more than the "Old Roman" is better prepared to get the winners out of just that sort of material.

Isbell is bigger than ever this year and hopes to hit in better form than last season. As a fielding first base man he is almost in a class by himself, and Daly at second is one of the most reliable and "wisest" players in the business.

Tannehill made a good record as a shortstop with George Tebeau's crack Louisville team last year, and he has all the earmarks of the natural ball player. He can cover lots of ground, always gets the ball in a position to throw it and was credited with being a good man at the bat in the American association.

The catching department of the White Sox is the same as last year, and that means that it is the best there is. No catcher has much on either Sullivan or McFarland, and this year "Mac" is hitting in his old time form and should be even more valuable than last season.

With Hallman making good in the outfield, Davis reporting, Gleason and Tannehill filling the vacancy left by Strang and both catchers back, it is up to the pitching department to make the team as strong as it was last season.

As to whether or not the young twirlers can do this the season's games only will show. Griffith's departure is indeed a loss, but it must be remembered that he was practically absent from the game so far as the pitcher's box was concerned for more than half of last season.

LAVE CROSS, CAPTAIN PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS.

Of the old twirlers Callahan and Patterson are both back. If the managerial berth does as much for Callahan as it did for "Grif" the new manager should also be a new pitcher this year. Last season he, too, was out of form a good share of the time, but this season there is a good prospect that he will not only keep in condition, but be in the best form of his life.

Patterson is always reliable and is reported to be farther along in conditioning than usual this year. White, the new south paw, has already proved his worth with the Philadelphia National league team. He will be a strong man as the season advances.

This condition must be checked or it means complete mental ruin. To those people Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills come as a blessing. They do not stop, they cure the headaches. They do not blanket, they build up. They put the nervous system in a strong, vigorous, sturdy condition—a condition that gives one resistive power and enables them to again enjoy life's pleasures.

Mrs. George Hall, of No. 389 West Market Street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "I was bilious—had nervous headaches, hard and constant—there was a general feeling of weakness and depression. I was asked to try Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and did so, getting them at Larkins' drug store. The result was very good indeed as the biliousness overcome—the headaches cured and bodily and nerve strength furnished."

the heat off. Sam Growe, who held the ribbons on Ed White, became angry and got back at the judges before the afternoon was over. Ed White won easily in straight heats, the best time being 2:59¼.

The half-mile race for three-year-olds was the best event on the card and five local horses responded to the bell. Congressman, owned and driven by young Lewis Brunt, won easily in the first heat, with John Rinehart's Jesse James leading the rest of the field. Congressman went off his feet in the second heat and finished third to Jesse James and Manila D. In the third heat Congressman made a game race, but was cut out twice by other drivers. Manila D. just escaped being set back and before the next heat all the drivers were warned. Congressman took the fourth heat and the race in a close finish. Manila D. in spite of her lameness had led to the quarter, when she broke, Congressman pushing ahead. The mare went up again on the home stretch and ran nearly all the way in, finishing second to Congressman. She was set back to third place by the judges and thus lost second money. Bertville and Tom Spruceby were not better than fourth and fifth. Best time, 1:34.

Redmond and Ikey Boy were the entries in the free-for-all pace, but Sam Growe, the trainer of the latter, was sore at the calling down he had received from the judges, and did not want to start. He brought Ikey Boy to the track, but delayed a start half an hour to the disgust of the judges and the spectators. Finally he scored down with Redmond and they were sent away. It was apparent to all that he was pulling the head off his horse, as the pace was not even fast enough to give Redmond a working out. The time given for the heat was 2:38.

W. J. Watson Tells What Cooper's Remedies Have Done For Him. Free Show Tonight.

Cooper's Fourth of July show and concert was largely attended Saturday night despite the multiplicity of attractions elsewhere. The fact is that the people appreciate Cooper and his efforts to entertain as well as cure them, and the attractions he presented Saturday night were on a scale of magnificence seldom seen in this part of the country. That they were enjoyed and appreciated was evidenced by the applause given the performers and musicians.

Cooper added to his laurels in the way of strong evidence as to the value of Dr. Cooper's New Discovery as a great and marvelous restorer of the afflicted human system to healthful and normal conditions. W. J. Watson, a well known resident of the East End, has been troubled for years with stomach disorder and rheumatism. His tongue was coated; he couldn't eat with a relish; he was restless at night and he never felt like going to work. One bottle of Dr. Cooper's New Discovery cured the ailment and made a new man of him. He was also cured of the rheumatism by two applications of Dr. Cooper's Quick Relief. Nothing like these two great remedies and now is the time to buy, as the supply for this place is limited. Salesrooms open all day and every day at 301 Lincoln avenue.

An entire change of program tonight on Brunt's hill. Everything is absolutely free, and you are invited. You miss an entertainment of merit if you miss Cooper's.

CLOUDBURST AT PARK

SIMILAR TO JOHNSTOWN HORROR

Jeanette, Pa., July 6.—Fifty to 75 men, women and children perished by a cloudbust in Oakford park. The majority were drowned or their lives beaten out against the rocks in Brush creek, but quite a number were electrocuted.

At the base of the hillside, upon which the park is laid out, is the car barns and a large frame restaurant, the latter being constructed mainly with a view of sheltering the park visitors from the rays of the sun and from summer showers. Those who were in the neighborhood of these buildings ran for them for shelter from the sudden downpour, while others, and, of course, the greater number, sought the hillside.

Rising Waters Bust Dam.

The dam began rising ominously and it was but a few minutes later when 40 feet of the dam gave way, and a solid wall of water, 20 feet high, rushed down and completely filled the narrow ravine, with its car tracks, car barn and restaurant.

In front of the car barn stood a car containing from 50 to 70 passengers, many of them seeking to return to Jeannette, others using it as a temporary shelter.

With the immense body of water behind it, the crest of the flood bore down with irresistible force. As it swept down the narrow ravine it carried with it the loaded car and the crowded restaurant. The flood was filled with men, women and children struggling for their lives.

The poles carrying the heavily charged trolley wires were uprooted and strewn along the grounds. In a number of instances—how many is not yet known—the victims of the flood, grasping for anything that might save them from the fury of the water, seized the trolley wires and met death by being electrocuted instead of being drowned. Several bodies have already been recovered that show that death was the result of this cause.

Number Drowned Unknown.

Forty persons were in the restaurant when it collapsed. A much greater number were in the car barn when it was flooded, and it is not known how many were drowned there. The car, with its 50 to 75 passengers, was swept into Brush creek. The first estimate of 50 to 75 lives lost seems inadequate, but the excitement and sorrow is so intense that it cannot be determined how many managed to escape what seemed to inevitable death.

Among those known to be lost, although it is very difficult to secure names, is one party composed of Henry Fink and wife and the Misses Gertrude Keefer and Lucy Crum, all of Jeannette.

The flood kept on down Brush creek to about 300 yards east of Jeannette. Here the Pennsylvania railroad embankment checked the torrent, now a deep and comparatively quiet lake covering over 20 acres of ground. It is here, as the water swirled and eddied before losing its torrential force, that it is expected the greater number of the bodies of victims will be found. It will be several days before the flood subsides sufficiently to allow a satisfactory exploration.

Ruin Wrought by Flood.

There was no staying the flood. The torrent coursed down through Jeannette and flooded the south end of the town. No lives were lost here, however, although many had narrow escapes. There were a great number of heroic rescues from flooded homes.

Penn, but a short distance from Jeannette, was the next victim. Here, in part of this busy glass town, the water was 20 feet and there are known to be three victims. Mrs. Liga, colored, with her four children, occupied a small frame house. The building was carried away and but two of the children saved.

When the news of the disaster reached Jeannette the mayor and other city officials took prompt action looking toward the recovery of the dead and the relief of the living.

The fire bells were rung to call the firemen together, warning was sent out to the police to gather at headquarters, and it was but a short time before a large and thoroughly equipped rescue party was organized.

DEAD OF THE DAY.

Mrs. Calhary Morris.

Dr. C. S. Fahnestock.

Laporte, Ind., July 6.—Dr. Camillus S. Fahnestock, a member of the faculty of Hahneman medical college, Chicago, died at Laporte of apoplexy and stomach hemorrhage. He was born in Ohio in 1847.

A. C. Cass.

Denver, July 6.—A. C. Cass, first vice president and traffic manager of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, died at Redstone, Cal., at the summer home of John C. Osgood, where Mr. Cass had been visiting. Death was due to a general breaking down of the system and from overwork. Mr. Cass was born in Wisconsin in 1850.

A PRETTY WELLSVILLE GIRL TRIED THE IODINE

PHYSICIAN SAYS SHE WILL RECOVER

Despondent as the result of many weeks' illness and disappointment in love, pretty Mary Brown, aged 19, made a desperate attempt to end her life in Wellsville yesterday morning by swallowing a large quantity of iodine. That she was not successful was due to the strenuous efforts of Dr. Hutchison, who was called immediately after her rash act became known.

Miss Brown is employed in the United States pottery in the west end of Wellsville. She moved to Wellsville several months ago from Van Port, Pa., where she was born and lived the most of her life. She has resided with the family of Robert Lomax, Steubenville and Twelfth streets, since her arrival in Wellsville and the members of the family state that for three weeks past she had acted queerly, sitting for hours looking vaguely into space. They were not, in consequence, much surprised upon hearing of the girl's deed.

Without giving notice as to where she was going, Miss Brown left the Lomax home yesterday morning and it has been learned went directly to an up town pharmacy, where she bought a bottle of iodine. She gave no reason for making the purchase, paying for the poison and departing.

Upon leaving the store the girl took a rather circuitous route toward her boarding house, going from Main street to Broadway, down Broadway to Fifth street, and thence into a rather deserted alley. She followed this route to Twelfth street where she stopped and, raising the bottle to her lips, swallowed the greater part of its contents. People living in the vicinity heard her scream as the fluid coursed down her throat and a score or more rushed to her. Before they reached the girl she had fallen to the pavement and was suffering so terribly that she could not give them any idea as to her place of abode. Finally some one happened on the scene who knew her and she was at once removed to the Lomax home.

Dr. Hutchison was summoned and, after an application of antidotes and many other remedies used in such cases, revived the young girl considerably.

Miss Brown suffered intensely throughout the hours of last night and, though some better today, she writhed continuously as the result of the agony. The physician thinks she will recover.

LIGHT BUSINESS FOR THE OFFICERS

There was little doing in police circles on the Fourth. The officers were given orders to allow the people more rope than usual and only those who were unable to navigate or became bad were hauled to central station. The total number of arrests during the day was less than a dozen, and as a result Mayor Weaver's court this morning was rather tame.

Aaron Kountz, employed at the Vulcan brick yards, near Wellsville, was arrested in the East End by Officers Fisher and Wilson. He claims he was doped. He piled on a street car near the Diamond after drinking three small glasses of beer and eating two dishes of ice cream. The composition had a telling effect upon him. He does not even remember when the police got him and was greatly surprised when he awoke behind prison bars. When arraigned this morning he pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $5. Chief Wyman was requested by him to find $21.65 that was stolen from him while enroute to the East End.

While drunk and raising a free-for-all fight on the platform at the passenger depot Saturday evening, Carl Gaskill was arrested by Officer McDermott. He had been taking in the sights with a number of friends and relatives during the day and went to the depot to bid a visitor farewell. The booze than he had consumed got into his hair and he started a fight with about a dozen innocent bystanders. When the officer rushed into make the arrest several interfered and it was necessary to call citizens for assistance. A brother of Gaskill was taken in charge by Henry Bullock for attempting to break the officer's hold on the man he had in custody and both were taken to city hall. One of them placed $10 for his appearance this evening. Carl was fined $10 and costs this morning.

August Nelson was arrested by Officers Fisher and Wilson for being drunk. He will be arraigned this evening. Charles Figley paid $5 for being intoxicated. Three other men whose names could not be learned were arrested on a similar charge. They paid and were released.

He Was Shot By a Friend Who Thought He Was a Burglar.

He arrived here on a train early in the evening and went immediately in search of his grandparents, both of whom are dead, knowledge of which Broadbent did not possess. After running around over town for a couple of hours he went to the home of Walter Goddard and knocked on the back door for admission. Goddard answered the call and asked the mute who he was and what he wanted.

Of course Broadbent could not reply, and Goddard, thinking he was a burglar, fired a revolver at the intruder. Broadbent fell to the ground and Goddard, upon rushing to his side, recognized him and knew that he had made an awful mistake. A physician was called and dressed the wound. He will recover.

While riding on a street car from Chester to this city Saturday evening Frank Mackall, a young man of Monaca, who was sepnding the Fourth with relatives on Fifth street, was made the victim of a pickpocket. He was robbed of $8 and a valuable piece of jewelry.

Mackall states that the car was crowded and that he knew nothing of the theft until the next morning when he glanced at his trousers on a chair near his bed. He noticed a long slit in the fob pocket, and investigating discovered the loss. He remembers of several people pressing him tightly on the car and supposes that the job was done at that time. The matter was reported to central station, but the officers having no clue were unable to get a trace of the thief.

Prof. R. E. Rayman has returned from the annual convention of the Ohio State Teachers' association, which was held in Put-in-Bay last week. He reports that the convention was one of the best ever held by the association. During the session a number of very able addresses were delivered and several interesting papers were read. The subjects were exceedingly well chosen, being of a practical, every-day nature. The program was prepared by the executive committee, of which Prof. Rayman is a member.

The badges worn by the delegates were the gift of the East Liverpool schools. They were pretty as well as appropriate, being a Buckeye tied with red, white and blue ribbon. On the buckeye were the dates "1803-1903" in gold.

The convention had one of the best attendances for years. From this city Prof. Rayman was accompanied by Miss Updegraff, whose paper on "The Ethical Value of Literature in the High School," was received with great favor by the convention. Miss Anna Gardner and Miss Carrie Gavers also attended.

The convention will meet at Put-in-Bay again next year. The exact date is not yet decided, but it will probably be the last week in June.

Court Adjourned.

Lisbon, July 6.—(Special.)—Court adjourned until Monday, July 14. In the case of the Beggs Manufacturing company of Chicago versus J. L. Lewis, of Kensington, the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff. The Beggs company sued for money alleged to be due on a bill of goods.

ITALIAN KILLED BY FAST TRAIN

New Galilee, July 6.—(Special)—Jimmie Trumbo, an Italian section hand, was killed here this morning by No. 24, a fast express on the P. F. W. & C. railroad.

Trumbo, with some 25 fellow laborers, were at work in the yards near the depot, and it is supposed the unfortunate man was too slow in moving away from the track. The engine struck the foreigner with such force as to break every bone in his body, and he was hurled over an embankment 20 feet away. When picked up by his comrades he was quite dead, and the services of a physician, who had been hastily summoned, were not needed.

The body was terribly mutilated, and his entire body was a mass of bruises. The body was carried to the depot and there prepared for burial. It was taken to Trenton Station this afternoon, and the funeral will be held tomorrow morning.

Trumbo was about 40 years of age, and single. He had two brothers in Galilee, one of whom was at his side when he was killed.

Attractive Fire Works—Many of the residents of Thompson hill made that locality attractive by setting off fire works on Saturday evening. Among those who made displays that attracted the attention of many spectators were J. H. Brookes and Joshua Poole, of Pennsylvania avenue; Louis Weaver, Ira Eells and Mr. McLaughlin, Thompson avenue.

As usual, accidents were more numerous in the city on Saturday, and though none of the victims were killed, a large number were so badly hurt that they will have something to remind them of the occasion for many a day to come.

The only casualty occurring in East Liverpool over the Fourth happened at an early hour on the morning of that day, the victim being Denver Easter, an elevator worker of Hazelwood, Pa., who was faltally injured by the midnight train at the local passenger station.

Easter had stopped off in this city on his way home. He had procured a lunch at a Second street restaurant, and afterward made his way to the station to await the arrival of the train. He did not attempt to board the train when it stopped, but sauntered about while the passengers were alighting As the train was pulling out the man made a rush for it, and becoming confused, caught the hand rails of two cars instead of the regular handles of the smoker, and without being conscious of the fact swung between and was crushed beneath the wheels.

John Clark and Charles Loomis were eye witnesses to the terrible accident, and at once gave the alarm. The patrol arrived in a few minutes and the unfortunate man was gathered up and taken to city hall. The physicians who had been called had not put in an appearance, and the men in charge of the case conveyed the victim to the office of Dr. W. W. Hamilton, on Fifth street, where he was made as comfortable as the circumstances would permit. Officers McDermott, Dunn and Saulsberry accompanied the patrol and cared for the men as best they could. Easter was suffering terribly when he reached the city hall and soon afterwards broke down completely and wept like a child. He was rational, however, and gave the officers his name and address.

One of Easter's legs was terribly mangled from the ankle to the thigh, while the other was so badly mangled that it was plain if his life was saved at all he would lose both legs. The physicians worked with the victim until the arrival of the early train east, when he was put aboard and taken to Sewickley. He died there in terrible agony at about 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Dr. Hamilton had a very difficult task on his hands and it was performed in a skillful manner. The right leg was amputated about midway between the knee and the thigh. All of the toes of the left foot were found to be in such a condition that amputation was necessary. The physician also dressed a bad wound on the heel of the left foot. The operations were most successful, and had it not been for the difficulty experienced in finding a doctor and the length of time which elapsed before the victim was given attention, he could have easily recovered.

Little Dave Walker's celebration of the Fourth came very near proving fatal to him. Dave had a toy pistol and was making as much noise as the rest of them until something happened to his weapon. There was a blank shell in the chamber and as was to be expected the hammer got into action the instant Dave turned the gun on himself. The wad in the shell plowed through several layers of the muscle in Dave's abdomen, making a serious wound.

Dr. W. E. Mowen was called and spent several hours with the sufferer. For a time it was thought the wad had penetrated the abdominal cavity, but the physician's examination showed it had stopped in the muscles.

Otis Mount, aged 16, was shot in the left leg by a 22-caliber revolver on Friday evening and as a result will be laid up for some time. He was playing with a number of boys on Thompson hill when some unknown boy deliberately shot him. The bullet buried itself in the flesh after tearing a hole of about two inches. When Mount was struck he fell to the ground and several playmates carried him to the office of Dr. Bailey.

Willie Dewey, the bootblack, was assaulted by another colored man at a late hour Saturday night. His assailant struck him several times on the head with a cane Both were out jollifying in celebration of the Fourth and after engaging in an argument started to fight. Dewey was carried to the office of Dr. Andrews, who dressed his wounds.

"The Pope seems somewhat prostrated after a rather trying and exciting morning. He is now enjoying a deep and apparently peaceful sleep. The pulse is still weak and the temperature below normal. His heart seems to have been benefited by injections of digitalis and camphor. On the whole his condition is no worse than on yesterday."

Hovering between life and death, the earthly existence of Pope Leo XIII is being prolonged by means of great medical skill and concentrated nourishment. Although he is barely alive, his remarkable vitality may again conquer disease.

Last night, after the excitement of administering the last sacrament was over, the Pope seemed to rest easier, evidently soothed by the religious service. He is lying in a small room with the bed drawn up to a window overlooking the piazza of St Peters.

"Who shall succeed to St. Peter's throne?" is a question that has already been wired to Rome by several European monarchs. Opinions are much divided owing to the many interests that will be affected, according to the choice of the Sacred college. The candidates chiefly mentioned are Cardinal Rampollo and Cardinal Zerafino Vannutelli. Both are Italians and conservatives, though bitter antagonists of each other. The liberal candidates mentioned are Cardinal Bishop Agliardi and Cardinal Priest Satolli. All of the candidates live in Rome, but a strong party that may include many foreign cardinals advocates the selection of a cardinal who is not a member of the curia.

John Dennis, who cut his throat Friday afternoon, died Saturday morning at 1:30 o'clock and was buried this afternoon. He was 59 years old and had been a noted character for many years. In the early days of the town's history he was looked upon as the best man physically in the upper Ohio valley, and during his life time doubtless engaged in more fights than any other one man. He was a game man and in all his varied career he was never known to have shown the white feather.

Several years ago Dennis was badly injured in a street duel and it was thought that he could not live. He recovered, however, and after that appeared to quiet down and had been but little heard from of late.

A BOLD SON OF AFRICA CAUSED REIGN OF TERROR

WILL BE ARRAIGNED THIS EVENING

After imbibing in his favorite drugs, booze and dope, all day, Charles Brock, a notorious negro, whose name alone causes terror among the residents of the districts in which he roams, got his habits on again Saturday evening and in less than two hours committed enough crime to insure him the heaviest dose yet administered by Mayor Weaver. He will appear before the chief executive this evening to answer to three serious charges.

Commencing at dusk on the evening of his hilarity, Brock made his debut for the day by brutally assaulting his wife. He had been a guest at his favorite resorts for hours and his spouse becoming worried over his long absence, started out in search of him. They met at the intersection of Washington and Second streets. Brock saluted her with a blow from one of his sledge-hammer fists, knocked her down and repeated the trick three times before ceasing. He then asked her to go to her home, a shanty boat at the foot of Washington street. Fearing further brutality she refused and was knocked down again as the result. When she staggered to her feet the big negro picked up a cane and dealt her a terrific blow on the head. She reeled and fell backward to the ground. Her head was badly cut and for fully two minutes, it is said, she was unable to move. A large crowd witnessed the deed and interfered just as Brock was getting ready to make another attack. When the woman did recover she staggered down to her boat, followed closely by Brock. Upon their arrival at the home, Brock assaulted the woman again, knocking her off the boat into the river and following the terrific blow with a cook stove which he threw at her while she was floundering in the water.

Report of the bad negro's actions was telephoned to central police station, but Chief Wyman did not feel warranted to make an arrest with no charge preferred. He therefore allowed Brock to go free, intending to have a warrant issued for his arrest this morning. He did not have to wait so long, however. Brock did not stay long at the boat, returning to up-town districts. He was carrying a huge Colts revolver and flourished it time and again on the principal thoroughfares of the city, but was not arrested, the officers thinking that the gun contained only blank cartridges.

There Was No Regular Celebration, and Rock Springs Had the Big Crowd.

Aside from the indispensible fire cracker, which kept up a continual boom from Friday evening until late last night, and the noting of a number of minor injuries from burns and premature explosions of fireworks, the Fourth of July passed off very quietly in East Liverpool. There was no celebration of any kind, and the populace was left to pick out their own diversion as best suited them.

Many citizens left the city for towns where a regular program was to be carried out. Others packed their baskets and went to the woods, while by far the greater portion spent at least a part of the day at Rock Springs. This popular resort was in full blast and the attendance throughout the entire day was extraordinary. A very large crowd occupied the dancing floor, and other forms of amusement were indulged in until a late hour Saturday night.

It was noticeable that the celebration held in Wellsville did not attract the East Liverpool people, and but few attended. The rain interfered with the program to some extent.

Wright-Goodballet.

Miss Sarah E. Wright and Charles M. Goodballet were married at 11 o'clock this morning at the home of the bride in the East End by Rev. N. M. Crowe. Only a few relatives and immediate friends witnessed the ceremony. The groom is a railway employe, at present with the East Liverpool line as a motorman. The bride is a well known and popular young lady. They will go to housekeeping soon in the East End.

A VERY WARM FINISH

While the turf events at Columbian park Saturday afternoon were not up to expectations, the 500 spectators seemed very well satisfied. Rain began to fall after the first heat of the three-minute trot and before it ceased the track was too heavy to permit of anything like fast time until late in the day, when the sun partly counteracted the effect of the shower.

Nellie McNicol, owned by P. J. McNicol, walked away from Baker Boy, DeNultrac and Edith Wilkes in the first heat of the three-minute trot. The mare looked good to win the race, but in the second heat, which came off after the rain, she slipped so on the muddy track that P. J. McNicol pulled her up almost to a walk. Edith Wilkes won out by a nose in a hot finish with Baker Boy. Nellie McNicol was not shod properly for the mud and was drawn after the third heat. Following is the summary of the race:

DeNultrac, H. Rinehart	4	3	3	*

Monox and Ed White were the only starters in the three-minute pace Both horses have marks 30 seconds better than the class, but they jogged around in 3:15. It was apparent to the judges that neither of the horses were being driven and they declared

The minister deplores the degeneracy of the celebration of independence day into an orgy. It is wise and necessary, he thinks, for the exponents of Christianity to speak of the government along patriotic lines; nearly every man in his position does so and he would be no exception. The text, from Isaiah 60:20, "Thy son shall no more go down; neither shall thy moon withdraw itself; for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended," was most appropriate. Isaiah was a politician and statesman, as well as a prophet and his understanding included the necessities of surrounding nations as well as his own; some times the necessities of the entire world.

Isaiah uttered the text upon the basis that Israel one day would be true to God. If the history of nations teaches anything, it is that peace and prosperity is proportionate to the faith and fear of God. Nations cannot exist out of harmony with God. The 1,000 years of Rome was nothing as God counts time.

The declaration of independence upon paper, its abstract form, did nothing toward gaining liberty for the nation until crystalized into concrete form in patriotic hearts. The southern people were as eloquent as the people of the north in praising the declaration, but they accepted it only in the abstract, continuing to entertain slavery in their midst. In the north its sentiments were taken out of the abstract and made broadly concrete, to operate for the welfare of all mankind.

It might not be edifying, the minister thinks, if the sentiment of the public could be known at the time Samuel Adams was thundering in Fanieul hall. But there was crystalized in Adams' heart the love of liberty and humanity. God often takes control of human hearts and lives and they become leaders or messengers of God in concrete form. What might have happened had not Washington risen from the level of humanity? Had not Lincoln sprung up from among the virile westerners and incarnated in his heart the concrete spirit of the equal rights of men, as set forth in the declaration of the 13 states?

McKinley incarnated in his heart a principle that was uppermost in the minds of men in that day. In his alignment on the then supreme question he attached himself on the side which he could have given his life to support. His stand was taken upon highly moral grounds and refused to trim his sails to the wind of public opinion. Public opinion changed until the large majority coincided with his views, and there was a clamor for his elevation. McKinley stood moral in the presidential convention, where political immorality was literally in the air, and while contending factions were striving one against another he stood firm and hurled back the deserting legions to John Sherman. He saved his honor and showed to the world that his sense of righteousness was dominant.

McKinley, Dr. Pratt thinks, will be known more 100 years hence as a prophet, rather than a statesman. He is the prophet of the day when men can be honored regardless of wealth; when a man can be made the ruler of the nation without stain to his political record; when a poor man can become president and die a poor man. He is a prophet and example of a nobler relation to the home, fidelity to women and the marriage vow, to Christian principles and the church, modesty of demeanor. He is the prophet of all; he had the genius and the temperament of a prophet.

We have never needed more intellectuality disassociated from other qualities. The man who cultivates and maintains moral sentiments and consistency, whose public and private life is for Christianity, is most needed. Compared with the moral principles upon which the nation was founded McKinley was the supreme leader, possessed of the genius to perpetuate our principles. His star will go on forever, not because he was great, but because he was good.

"George Washington, the Statesman and the Churchman," was the subject of Rev. Edwin Weary's sermon at St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal church last evening. Politics and war was passed over without much comment, the rector confining his remarks to the statesmanship and religious tendencies of the great man. In part he said:

"We have just closed the celebration of the 127th anniversary of the independence of the American nation. We may now, in our calmer moments, after the smoke and noise of the Fourth have passed away, consider that day in another aspect and a day rolls around year after year one figure comes prominently and majestically to the front and we are brought once again in touch with the Father of his Country. The name is revered in every household. The 22d of February is a hallowed day to the smallest child in the land and George Washington and his position in American history is too well known to all to require any mention from me, so I pass from the political side of the man's life and will consider for the moment the religious side. No one will dare to question the honesty of the integrity of the man. Nothing that I can say can add to that, but there is one thing in the life of the man which I cannot allow to go unnoticed. That is his religious life, which has been questioned by some who have attempted to deteriorate his character. There are people who are not contented with slandering the character of the living, but they must ransack the ranks of the dead and attempt to injure the memory of the past.

"The religious life of George Washington has been disputed by a few. I proudly take up the defense of his character as a brother and fellow member of the church to which he belonged. He lived and died as a member of the Angelican church, and I am glad and proud to feel that he was a member of the church which you and I here represent. As he was 'first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen' he was first in the faith of the church, and every incident of his life shows that he was faithful to his creed. He was permitted to enter the world and live in it for 67 years to do the work subscribed for him and the nation has been blessed by his life."

Mr. Weary then read an abstract from an article in the Churchman, the church paper, wherein it was shown that Washington was not only a member of the Episcopal church, but that he was a member in good standing. He was no ascetic and he was not classed among the saints, but his religion was of that quiet nature which is lasting and enduring. The article told of his devotion and faithfulness to the church. It stated that no company ever kept Washington away from his pew, and with his majestic eloquence of both word and manner he gave expression to the fervent religion which was in him.

News and Notes About The Potteries

A change has been made in the management of the Black Horse paving brick works of the American Sewer Pipe company at New Cumberland, W. Va., for the past year under the superintendence of Samuel McAdoo, of Toronto, O., who also has charge of three other of the company's works located on the Ohio side of the river, where the product consists mostly of sewer pipe. It is understood that the varied duties of his position became so onerous that Mr. McAdoo was compelled to give up the Black Horse plant. Andrew Mathes, brick salesman for the American company, has been chosen to superintend the New Cumberland works.

NICHOLSON SELLS OUT.

Edward Nicholson, of Steubenville, hitherto the principal factor of the Toronto Fire Clay company, has sold his entire interest in that concern to another member of the company, and it is understood that James McCready, of Braddock, Pa., is the purchaser. Both plants of the Toronto company are running full capacity, but at the same time the yard is pretty well filled with a large stock of paving brick. One plant of this company is operated on face building brick and the other on pavers.

POTTERY NOTES.

The Chelsea plant, New Cumberland, is turning out a new line of dinner and toilet ware. The Union plant, in this city, belonging to the same company, will also have a new line.

When the stomach is overloaded; when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secret mucin, instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called catarrh of the stomach. "For years I suffered with catarrh of the stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure."—J. R. 'A TALE OF TWO CITIES"

Leaving Detroit at 4 in the afternoon, aboard the palatial steamer "Eastern States" or "Western States" of the famous Detroit & Buffalo Line, passengers are afforded an interesting and panoramic view of Detroit's harbor, teeming with the commerce of the Great Lakes, and bordered with its countless evidences of manufacturing wealth and activity. Passing down the river, Fort Wayne appears, bristling with its war-like aspects, and crowned with "old glory" gently curling in the breeze, seemingly waving adieus to passing travelers.

Again, we are among scenes of simple country life—beautiful farms and artistic rural homes dotting the banks on either side and the verdant islands mid-stream—and, as we float peacefully out upon the bosom of "Old Erie," one feels that the cares of life have lagged behind.

Now the varying course of the ship from time to time brings to view the silvery moon and its rippling reflections in the vessel's wake, while the strains of some dreamy waltz, enchantingly rendered, soothes the ear, and cool, invigorating breezes fan the brow as the traveler is borne along, almost regretting that nature demands its sweet repose.

It is sunrise and we are soon to end our journey. As we pass the breakwater the harbor seems stretching out to welcome our noble vessel, and the tourist, to Buffalo's hospitable environs. Once again we are among scenes of activity, but so refreshed that our journey seems like a fairy's legend.

FATALITIES AT FIRE

St. Joseph, Mo., July 6.—The main building of the Hammond packing plant was destroyed by fire Sunday. The loss is estimated as high as $1,500,000. It is entirely covered by insurance. Two men lost their lives in the flames. One of them is reported to be Charles Miller, fire marshal at the plant. This could not be verified. Three men were injured, one of them seriously.

For a time the entire stock yards district was threatened. By hard work the Nelson Morris plant, 300 feet north of the Hammond plant, was saved, and this saved the Swift plant, which is north of the Nelson Morris building.

The fire started a little after 2 o'clock. By 9 o'clock most of the building was gone. The greater danger was at 6 o'clock, when part of the north wall fell and the fierce flames were shot toward the Nelson Morris building. The carcasses of 4,500 hogs, 1,800 cattle and 800 sheep were burned. Nearly 100,000 pounds of oleomargarine were destroyed. The contents of the smokehouse were consumed.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. There was no fire in the casing department in the eastern part of the building, where the fire started.

The fatalities occurred about 5 o'clock. By that time nearly the entire building was on fire. A man with a hose, said to have been Miller, was seen at one of the windows on the north side of the hog department. He walked back into the building and a few seconds later those on the outside heard terrible cries. The man did not appear again and is believed to have been killed.

Two young men who were in the room and left a few minutes before said that two failed to escape, but they did not give the names of the men, who were said to be employes of the company.

The buildings and machinery were covered by insurance to the amount of $550,000, and the stock was insured for about $600,000.

Cured His Mother of Rheumatism.

"My mother has been a sufferer for many years with rheumatism," says W. H. Howard, of Husband, Pa. "At times she was unable to move at all, while at all times walking was painful. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried, in fact, she is never without it now and is at all times able to walk. An occasional application of Pain Balm keeps away the pain that she was formerly troubled with." Sale by Alvin & Bulger.

Columbia, S. C., July 6.—The little town of Norway, where Charles Evans, the negro assailant, was lynched a few days ago, is panic-stricken on account of increasing crowds of armed negroes who threaten vengeance.

An appeal has been sent to the governor for troops. In his absence the adjutant general has ordered a Columbia battalion to go in a special train to Norway at once.

Norway has only 200 inhabitants. As the negroes began to gather around the town, threatening to wipe out the population, a citizens' meeting was held and a committee appointed to act at once. Their appeal was wired to the governor immediately. Meanwhile every man in the town goes armed, and should the military not arrive in time they will fight the negroes to their best ability. Women and children have been counseled to keep indoors, and doors and windows are kept securely closed.

One Link Arranged For.

Newark, O., July 6.—J. F. Shrontz, Edward Kibler, Edward H. Everett, Frank Moore and F. E. Elliott have applied for incorporation papers at Columbus for the Newark, Martinsburg and Mt. Vernon Traction company. Ninety per cent of the private right of way has already been secured for the 33-mile road which will be built via Gambier. This will form a link in the line from Cleveland, and when constructed will give Newark four interurban roads.

The result of the conference between the operatives and the manufacturers, while it brought cheer to the hearts of thousands, carried with it a tinge of regret to the employes of the Laughlin plants. Most of them had been counting on a vacation of at least a week, but they were notified to report for duty this morning. Many of them did so, but work was not resumed on account of a shortage of clay. Everything will be in readiness for resumption bright and early tomorrow morning.

Quite a number of men employed at Laughlin's have been in camp along the West Virginia shore, above Chester, and in order to resume work will cause a number of the camps to be abandoned.

The disappointment of the men will soon disappear as the prospect of a steady run of work is bright. The firm has a large number of orders on the files and more are coming in every day.

BOY BADLY HURT

Floyd Lafferty, aged 7 years, fell from a garret window at his home in Dixonville and sustained serious injuries. The boy was sitting in the window and in some way lost his balance, tumbling over backwards. In the descent he turned a somersault, alighting on his feet. The left leg was broken, and it is feared that internal injuries were sustained.

Dr. Shay was called and set the limb and rendered other medical attention. The lad seems to be in great pain and is very restless, apparently suffering from internal injuries.

Miss Julia A. Petty and Major Brooks, two popular East End people, were united in marriage Saturday evening at the home of Edward McAfoe, a cousin of the bride.

The ceremony was performed by Justice L. W. Carman, in the presence of a few relatives and friends of the contracting parties. After the ceremony and congratulations an elegant wedding supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks have a host of friends, who wish them a long and prosperous life. They will go to housekeeping soon in the East End.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Major Reed and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shumway, relatives of the groom from Reedville, O.

The services yesterday at the Second Presbyterian church were of more than ordinary interest and large congregations were out both morning and evening. At the first named service the pastor preached a very eloquent and able sermon. The service in the evening was given over to Miss McBride, a niece of Rev. J. N. Swan, who has been a missionary in the mountains of Kentucky and Tenessee. She gave a very interesting lecture upon the habits and religious faith of the people of the mountains. Miss McBride has been visiting at the Swan home and returns to her work tomorrow.

Foot Pierced By Rusty Nail.

Missionary Meeting.

The ladies' missionary society of the Second Presbyterian church will hold its next regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Richard Laughlin, on Pennsylvania avenue. The hour for the meeting is 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Will Install Officers.

The recently elected officers of the Protected Home Circle will be inducted into office at the meeting tomorrow night. A large class of candidates for membership will be obligated and the meeting promises to be of more than ordinary interest. No social feature has been arranged for.

James Clark, of Beaver Falls, and Sadie Clark and Stella Hodge, of New Brighton, the trio who figured in a short escapade on Wednesday, were taken to New Brighton from East Liverpool and before 'Squire Calhoon, and the cases disposed of.

The charge of abduction against Clark was not sustained owing to the fact that the girls were past the "abduction" age, and the party who preferred the charge failed to appear. Clark paid all the costs in the case, amounting to $15, which included the costs at East Liverpool and Beaver Falls, and he was discharged.

He stated that he was on his way to visit relatives at Cambridge. He had intended to return in a few days and go to work in Rochester, where he had secured a position.

The father of the Hodge girl and also the mother of the Clark girl appeared later and preferred charges of incorrigibility against their daughters. After considering the matter the 'squire decided to commit the girls to Morganza reform school.

Sol Rogers, the negro who, it is claimed, committed robbery and assaulted one woman at the home of Mrs. Tweedy near Smithfield, several nights since, was arrested at a negro camp near Harrisville. He denies his guilt.

Joseph Stanley, for years a well known minister in the society of Friends, died several days ago at Brookhaven, Mass., where he had been living. He was born near Damascus in 1819, and is survived by a sister, Elizabeth Blackburn, of Beloit, and a brother living in Iowa.

Uncle Reuben's Opinion.

"They may say what they please, but listen—hear me; I've taken all kinds of laxatives, purgatives and cathartics but when it comes to one that is easy and pleasant to take, mild and gentle in its action, and that makes one want an extra slice of bacon for breakfast, just give me Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and you may have all the laxative syrups, dyspepsia medicines and pills, little or big, there is in this country. Them Tablets surely do make one feel joyful." For sale by Alvin & Bulger.

SCROFULA A DISEASE WE INHERIT.

Scrofula manifests itself in many ways. Swelling of the glands of the neck and throat, Catarrh, weak eyes, white swelling, offensive sores and abscesses, skin eruptions, loss of strength and weakness in muscles and joints.

It is a miserable disease and traceable in almost every instance to some family blood taint. Scrofula is bred in the bone, is transmitted from parent to child, the seeds are planted in infancy and unless the blood is purged and purified and every atom of the taint removed Scrofula is sure to develop at some period in your life.

Scrofula appeared on the head of my little grandchild when only 18 months old, and spread rapidly over her body. The disease next attacked the eyes and we feared she would lose her sight. Eminent physicians were consulted, but could do nothing to relieve the little innocent. It was then that we decided to try S. S. S. That medicine at once made a speedy and complete cure. She is now a young lady, and has never had a sign of the disease to return.

No remedy equals S. S. S. as a cure for Scrofula. It cleanses and builds up the blood, makes it rich and pure, and under the tonic effects of this great Blood Remedy, the general health improves, the digestive organs are strengthened, and there is a gradual but sure return to health. The deposit of tubercular matter in the joints and glands is carried off as soon as the blood is restored to a normal condition, and the sores, eruptions, and other symptoms of Scrofula disappear.

SSS

S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and harmless; an ideal blood purifier and tonic that removes all blood taint and builds up weak constitutions. Our physicians will advise without charge, all who write us about their case. Book mailed free.

The decision of the manufacturing and operative potters in regard to the demands of the N. B. of O. P. convention is one that reflects credit upon the good sense of both. The News Review, although it has heard columns of strike talk, has printed none of it, not desiring to furnish discord or to unwarrantably disturb the current of local business. Past experience has shown that the men who manufacture pottery, as well as the men who work in the pottery, trade in East Liverpool, have the best interests of the city at heart and can be relied upon to adjust their differences without resorting to such unwarranted and ill-advised action as provoking a strike. They are both aware that such a course would be exceedingly unprofitable to them as well as to all of the city. The conference committees have acted with wisdom and discretion, and East Liverpool and the pottery towns in general owe them a debt of gratitude. The decision announced on Friday evening was hailed with joy by every person having the best interests of the city and of its chief industry at heart and inspired a Fourth of July celebration that was indeed joyous.

Our friend, the Cherry Picker, is much disturbed for fear Mayor Weaver has made a mistake in resolving to set people to work to whom useful occupation is unknown. We believe the mayor should be encouraged in his undertaking. It is a well known fact that there are a number of men in East Liverpool who serve jail sentences with great frequency. If they can be induced to work a little in return for free boarding and lodging the city will be the gainer. If they are put to work upon the streets and run away, as the Cherry Picker asserts that they will, the city will also profit by their absence. They can well be spared, and their departure will be regretted by no one. It is quite possible to make their work count more than it will cost to oversee them, and they are not likely to court a second and more severe sentence.

The first half of 1903 brought 537 less commercial failures than the same period of 1902. As long as the bankruptcy business is the only one that is on the decline the country is not likely to exhibit any unwonted desire for changed conditions.

The News Review extra, which gave the joyful news of the averting of a strike, was not got out in 21 minutes, but it could have been issued in half that time provided it had contained as little as our boastful contemporary, the Cherry Picker.

The small boy who passed through the perils of the Fourth without a scratch may be destined for greater triumphs. At least he should be encouraged to cultivate his bump of conservativeness.

The czar may refuse to read a petition from America, but he will be likely to learn what the people think of him if he reads a good newspaper.

The new code is teaching the cities of Ohio that it is necessary to elect business men to office if they want good government.

The Fourth of July is 127 years old as an American institution and as popular now as it was in 1776.

Frank Hoff.

Frank Hoff, aged 35, died Friday afternoon at his home on Erie street, after a lingering illness from consumption. The body was shipped to Marietta, the former home, Saturday night on the steamer Lorena. The funeral services were held at that city yesterday. Mr. Hoff was a carpenter by trade and was well and favorably known. He is survived in this city by a wife and four children.

An Infant's Death.

This is not the same drug store that it was last year. It is constantly changing, always progressing, ever improving. We get new suggestions from our customers, new ideas from traveling men, new plans from visiting successful drug stores in other cities. Gradually these suggestions, ideas and plans get worked into our store. That is why it keeps growing and improving. It seems to be a pleasure for our customers to trade with us, and it certainly is a pleasure for us to conduct such a store. We invite your patronage.

Tooth Brush Economy

We have tooth brushes for ten cents that are sold for double the price in some places. Extra good ones for fifteen cents, splendid values for the money, but we do not urge the sale of any of these because real downright economy comes in buying something a little better. We would advise you to pick a brush costing 25 cents or more for two reasons:

First, your teeth are worthy of the best brush made. The better the brush the more perfect its work.

Denver, July 6.—James B. Grant, chairman of the executive committee of the American Smelting and Refining company, estimates the damage at the Grant and Globe smelters, caused by the unexpected strike of the employes, at $25,000 to $30,000. All but two of the 11 furnaces in use were "frozen" and the ore will have to be cut out before the furnaces can again be used. President Charles F. Meyer, of the Western Federation of Miners, says that he does not think it will be necessary to call out the miners of the state in support of the smelter men. The failure of the legislature to pass an eight-hour law is given by the strikers as the cause of the trouble and the company is accused of using improper means to defeat legislation. A large force of police is guarding the smelters in this city and no serious disturbance has occurred, though 12 men have been arrested for disorderly conduct and making threats.

ude of the Diamond and vicinity, he scampered down on Smoky Row and was not there long until he had started some lively doings. Meeting a negro, who gave his name as Spence Henderson, he unceremoniously pulled the gun and struck Henderson several times on the head with it. The latter did not retaliate, but went to Officer Dunn and filed a complaint. The officer found Brock without trouble and placed him under arrest. He was taken to the city hall where he gave security for his appearance this morning at 10 o'clock.

Attorney James F. McGarry appeared for the defendant and had the hearing in the case postponed until this evening at 7 o'clock. He will then answer to a charge of carrying concealed weapons, assaulting his wife and also Henderson.

Seriously Injured Schooling Horse.

Killed in Collision.

Marine City, Mich., July 6.—As the result of a rear-end collision on the Rapid railway, an interurban electric line, three miles from here, one man was so seriously crushed that he died a short time after. The dead man's name is George Oxford and his residence is given as Sombrae township, Ontario. John Brahmer, of this city, escaped with a broken leg. Both men were standing on the platform of the forward car. The accident is said to have resulted from brakes failing to work.

Mine Fire Under Control.

Hanna, Wyo., July 6.—It is believed the fire in the mine, which was the scene of the recent explosions and consequent heavy loss of life, has been brought under control. The work of removing the debris from the slope is progressing favorably. It is not believed, however, that an attempt will be made to remove the bodies of the entombed miners for several days to come.

Drowned Trying to Save Boy.

Wilkesbarre, July 6.—Elias D. Trimble, an old and well-known resident of West Nanticoke, and Wesley Kyttle, aged 14 years, were drowned in the canal near Harveys creek. The former made an attempt to rescue the boy and both were caught in underbrush and drowned.

WELLSVILLE

The Fourth of July celebration here was the greatest ever seen in Wellsville and would have been a credit to any city three times as large. Thousands of visitors were entertained in a most lavish manner, and Mayor Fogo and the various committees are being highly praised for the great success of the patriotic affair.

The city was profusely decorated from Yellow creek to the rolling mill, and early Friday night the stock of flags and bunting here became exhausted and a rush was made on the stores of Pittsburg and East Liverpool.

The parade was magnificent in every particular and over a mile in length. General Garfield camp No. 3, of East Liverpool, was the escort of honor. Manley's band, of the same city, headed the parade, with five other bands stationed at intervals throughout the column.

General James W. Reilly, who was mayor here in 1854, being the oldest living ex-chief executive, rode with Mayor Fogo in a carriage, the venerable soldier attracting much attention. He was mayor of Wellsville just 15 years before the birth of the present mayor.

The long march from the public square to Eighteenth street and back was made without accident, Chief Marshal Lloyd and his aides having the various divisions so well in hand. Three hundred boys in red, white and blue suits, and half a dozen immense floats with little girls in white singing national airs were features of the imposing pageant.

Accidents in Wellsville on the Fourth were few and comparatively slight in view of the immense crowd and the wonderful amount of fireworks exploded from early morning until late at night.

The most serious was that of the bursting of a small cannon on Third street and Broadway at noon Saturday which tore off the end of the third finger of Charles Pickering's left hand. He is only 11 years old. A fragment of the cannon also struck him in the abdomen, inflicting injuries that may terminate seriously. Harold Poole, aged 8, was also injured slightly in the same accident. Dr. F. K. Hutchison attended the Pickering boy.

George Wilson and wife were slightly injured by being thrown from their buggy early Saturday morning on Broadway. The horses became frightened at some waving decorations and ran away, smashing the buggy. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson reside near Bethel church and came to town to see the parade.

A stranger applied for room and board at the boarding house of Mrs. Ella McClellan, on Eighth street, Friday. He asked to be shown some of the rooms and after taking a look at them promised to return for dinner. He never came back and it developed late in the day that $14 had been taken from the pockets of clothing of William Orr, a boarder. Just how the trick was turned is not clear, for the reason that one of the servants accompanied him on his inspection of the rooms.

The same morning the kitchen of the same house caught fire from a gas stove, but the flames were subdued before any serious damage was done.

While on her way to church Sunday morning with Miss Lucy Parsons, Miss Frances Robinson, daughter of William Robinson, residing on Liverpool street, near the rolling mill, was struck and knocked down by a street car and severely injured. The young ladies were walking close to the track to keep out of the mud, and although the motorman sounded the alarm gong and called out to Miss Robinson to get out of the way, she seemed to think that she was safe, and before the car could be stopped was struck and hurled to the ground. She was carried to the residence of Alfred Clark by the conductor, Mr. Clark and Mr. Betsing, and Drs. Hutcheson and Robinson were hastily summoned.

An examination revealed that her shoulder and back were painfully injured. She was conveyed to her own home, a short distance up the street, on a stretcher, where she is resting fairly well today. If not internally injured the physicians state that she will recover.

Messrs. Hobbs, Cunningham, Dunn and Mercer were present at the regular meeting of the Chester council Friday night, and much business was transacted. The members barely constituted a quorum, but this did not interfere with the matters taken up.

When the report of the light committee was called for Councilman Dunn shook his head in a knowing way, which was taken to signify that nothing had been done toward relieving the town from its perpetual gloom.

Mr. Hobbs, who was interested in having the nuisance at the big elm tree abated, desired to know if anything had been done, but no one knew and the matter was dropped.

Ordinances establishing grade lines on several thoroughfares were passed, and bills aggregating nearly $500 were ordered paid.

Sergeant Allison, who had been hired to tend the street lights, presented his bill, but several of the members objected to paying it because the tender had done no work. Allison took the stand that he had been employed to do the work; he had been on the ground ready to do it, and the fact that there was no lights to look after was no fault of his. This staggered the solons, who allowed the bill, but laid off the light tender until the light question was settled.

On motion it was decided to grade Fairview avenue from the Fairview road to the state line. Bids will be advertised for at once. Under this head Sergeant Allison, after some discussion, was instructed to collect the road tax.

Councilman Hobbs called attention to the fact that teamsters persisted in driving over the curbing on streets after it had been set. In his opinion, it would only be a question of time until the stone would either be destroyed or displaced. The ordinance on the subject will be enforced.

The Several Specialty Artists Are the Best to Be Had and Their Acts Will Please.

Beginning tonight the attractions at the Rock Springs theatre will be high class vaudeville, which will continue throughout the week. Manager F. N. Strauss has been compelled, on account of ill health, to abandon his work at the theatre temporarily. Mr. Strauss has been very successful since taking charge here and his friends hope he will recover rapidly. He will go to Cleveland today, where he will be under the care of his physician for several weeks. During his absence, or until Manager McCallem sends a substitute, the theatre will be in charge of Mr. Franklin, the musical director.

The vaudeville bill for the week is unusually strong, and will doubtless please the patrons of the resort. The list is headed by Emile Chevriel, comedian, who has by hard work and close application succeeded in winning a high place up among the best men in the profession.

"Our Country Cousin" is a sketch created and being staged by Lones & Walton, two of the cleverest vaudeville artists in the business. The lovers of good comedy cannot but appreciate this turn.

The Dorothea Sisters, who have been working in several of the biggest and best vaudeville houses in the country, will appear here during the week, and have prepared all of the latest coon songs in their most attractive form.

Koppe, humorist and hoopnologist, has a turn that is novel and entertaining, being one of the most original acts on the specialty stage this season.

William McBee, who shot a man named Bruce near Asbury chapel several months ago, was arrested in Rochester on Saturday. The authorities there were not aware that he was wanted in Chester until they had communicated with the officers, and he will probably be held in the Pennsylvania town until papers can be secured.

McBee was arrested in Rochester on a charge of drunkenness and afterward information was made against him for carrying concealed weapons. He has not been in Chester since the shooting, and though his victim has fully recovered, having received but slight injuries, it is probable he will be prosecuted to the limit when he is brought back.

Biennial Convention Opens Thursday. Christian Workers from All Sections Will Be Present.

Denver, July 6.—Christian Endeavor hosts already have begun to assemble in this city, and until next Thursday, when the international biennial convention will open, large delegations from all parts of the country will arrive daily. Plans have been made to care for 25,000 visitors. Fifteen acres of ground near the city park have been set aside as a convention camp and the general meetings will be held in a large tent, which will give seating room for 10,000. The opening session will be held Thursday, following a meeting of the trustees. Officers for the ensuing two years will be elected. Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark, who organized the first Christian Endeavor society at Portland, Me., Feb. 22, 1881, will be re-elected president and W. Shaw treasurer.

President Clark will open the convention and addresses of welcome will be delivered by Governor Peabody for the state and Rev. Robert F. Coyle for the churches. On Thursday evening President Clark will read his annual address, after which a platform reception will be held by the officers, trustees and state presidents.

The four days following will be crowded with religious services, missionary rallies and addresses on topics of interest to the societies by prominent clergymen and other Christian workers from all parts of the country. The official program gives an honored place to Chuco Ogawa, of Japan, who will represent officially the Endeavorers of that kingdom.

Fatal Trolley Accident.

Warren, Pa., July 6.—An appalling accident happened on the Electric Traction company's road at Irvindale park, three miles outside this city, shortly after 12 o'clock Saturday morning. Arch Stricters, aged 20, is dead; John Jenson, aged 20, will die and Alfred Graham, aged 20, is seriously injured. A heavily loaded car on which the men were riding collided with another coming in an opposite direction. Stricters, Jenson and Graham were standing on the forward fender. Graham jumped and his action saved his life, although he was severely injured. Stricters and Jenson were caught between the cars and their bodies crushed. The former died before reaching the city and the latter is injured internally and cannot recover.

Negro Woman Escapes Lynching.

Peoria, Ill., July 6.—A mob of 300 white people sought the life of Minnie Pearl, colored, who beat Perry Combs, a white boy, aged 11 years, with a club until his body was covered with deep cuts and welts. The woman was arrested and taken to the police station before the mob could reach the house. When the mob discovered that she was gone they tore down her house and threw the furnishings into the river. The attack on the boy was made because he led a mule across the woman's lot.

Woman in the Case as Usual.

Lexington, Ky., July 6.—Another killing is reported from Magoffin county, in which Reb Keeton, aged 20 years, shot and killed Sam Brown, aged 24 years, in a quarrel over a woman. They met at the woman's house, where the shooting took place. The friends of the dead man have offered a reward of $200 for his arrest and a posse has been in the mountains after him.

The Visitors Made Desperate But Ineffectual Attempts to Win Both.

By the Crowd That Attended the Morning Game—Base Ball Was in Full Blast All Day And No Diamond Was Unoccupied Long.

From a baseball standpoint, the Fourth of July in East Liverpool was a grand success. In West End park two of the prettiest games ever played in the vicinity were witnessed by large crowds and there was not a park or a diamond in or about the city that was not occupied by teams ranging from the Sixth street Bums to the least aggregations of the Crockery City league. Many of the teams, a number of which no reports could be gained, played both morning and afternoon.

A deadening feature of the first battle of the locals and the Fairbanks in West End park was the sweltering heat. Old Sol seemed to be in his glory while shining with awful torridity over the play-ground. The fans suffered much but the boys on the diamond were so heated that their every muscle and nerve was exerted to the utmost in their effort to stay in the game. Their wearing apparel, soaked with prespiration, hung to them like a wet rag. In the afternoon, however, the park was in superb condition. A heavy rain of short duration had cooled the atmosphere and throughout the afternoon threatening clouds intercepted and the sun's rays, which together with a gentle northerly wind, converted the ball ground into a cool and comfortable state.

The Fairbanks made a desperate effort to win both of the games. The shutout on the preceding day was the first that had been dealt them in four years and before the morning battle, Yoedt, the little German pitcher, said he would win the game or die in the attempt. He did neither, but made a creditable showing and hed he had support might have carried out his assertion. A few more such games as the morning contest, however, will kill baseball in this city.

What possessed about 75 of the fans is hard to determine. They certainly gained a reputation for "knocking" that will be long remembered. It seemed to be their fondest hope that the locals would suffer defeat and they took special delight in howling themselves hoarse upon a good play of a visitor and upon a poor one of a local. Their knocks did them little good further than securing for themselves a record that will stay with them.

It was another scrappy game, the visitors kicking on every decision, fair or otherwise, and what they made out but such demonstrations was evidenced when they got their only run and were saved another shutout through a big howl in the sixth inning. Mangold made the run. He stepped up and fanned viciously at the ball twice and when he saw a wild one coming at him, knowing that Emmerling could not stop it he struck at it and before Emmerling fielded the ball had reached third base. Capt. Reark rushed into the diamond and objected strenuously to the umpire allowing him to remain at third, stating that the ground rule was that only one base can be taken on a passed ball. This agreement was also made before the first game on Thursday.

The visitors kicked and pawed around until Mangold was permitted to hold the bag. Bardelang went out to Gibson and while Webb was throwing Velbright out at first Mangold scored. Gitzen, the next up, got a pretty single, and the following two players walked. The bases were full and for the first time in the series the visitors had a fighting chance to tie the score or possibly win. Gitzen obliterated the opportunity, however, by attempting to make it home and being called out for interfering with a ball thrown by Emmerling to third. He jumped in the air and blocked the ball. The Fairbanks put up another howl on this decision, but to no avail.

The locals did their scoring in the first inning, three men reaching the goal in rapid succession on four hits, one of them a three-bagger by Wallace. The latter made a home run of it by running past third into the catcher and knocking the ball from his hand. The remainder of the game was very closely played, neither side making an error and hits being scattered.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it to-day. Try

a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! no baking! add boiling water and set to cool. Flavors:—Lemon, Orange, Raspberry and Strawberry. Get a package at your grocers to-day. 10 cts.

The afternoon game was considered the best of the series. And that the locals won again was due to their superiority, not luck or favoritism on the part of the umpire. The twirlers were evenly matched, the hits being 8 and 7. It was in this game as in the morning, the locals made their jump in the first inning. Three men scored on three hits and an error. Nolan got first on Yoedt's error and made the goal on Wallace's single. The latter was advanced to third on a hit by Brown and both of them went bounding over the plate on a two-bagger by Webb. The next run was scored in the fifth. Wallace landed for three bases and was sent home on a two bagger by Brown.

The only run scored by the visitors was made through an error by Gibson. Gitzen singled, stole second, advanced to third when Lippert walked and when Yoedt popped a little one to Gibson the latter became confused owing to some antics made by Brown and dropped it, allowing the runner to score. At no other time in the game did they have an opportunity to score, but they played with their might throughout. The score:

The Marines played two fast games at Mingo Saturday but lost both, the first by a score of 5 to 3 and the second by the score of 3 to 2. In the latter game playing was stopped in the fifth inning owing to rain. The locals were somewhat handicapped as the result of two of the regular team being unable to play. NO SOLUTION FOR THE DIVORCE EVIL

By MARCEL PREVOST,
French Litterateur

AS society is built up from and rests on the family, there are no questions of greater importance than those which concern the family, and just now the question of divorce or no divorce, of divorce for one or for more reasons, is agitating the minds of the most eminent thinkers, lawmakers and sociologists all over the world.

From articles in the American press one gets the impression that the general opinion is that those who suffer most in unhappy marriages and who strongly favor liberal divorce laws are the women.

And, still, when a French magazine sent a list of questions to prominent French women we saw the surprising result that MOST OF THEM CAME OUT VERY STRONGLY IN FAVOR OF INDISSOLUBLE MARRIAGE.

Public opinion has always treated man very leniently. A man may get a divorce, he may figure as corespondent in a divorce suit, or his wife may get a divorce from him on statutory grounds, and we will always find plenty of excuses for him; we will smilingly call his escapades trifles that ought to be forgiven, AND HIS REPUTATION AND STANDING IN SOCIETY WILL NOT SUFFER.

A man that transgresses and breaks his marriage vows is and always has been considered interesting by the weaker sex, except when they happened to be personally interested in the case.

BUT IF WOMAN SINS EVERYTHING IS CHANGED. If she commits only one error and is found out, she is never forgiven, and her own sex will judge her much more harshly than men will. A divorced woman has no friends. She finds every door closed against her, and no matter how hard she tries she can never build up her lost reputation. She may be as pure and innocent as a child; she may go to live in a strange city. THE VERY MINUTE IT IS FOUND OUT THAT SHE IS A DIVORCED WOMAN SHE IS DOOMED AND DROPPED FROM THE LISTS OF GOOD SOCIETY.

This is the reason why woman, who formerly was always anxious to have liberal divorce laws passed, is now firmly arrayed against anything that will make a dissolution of marriage easier.

Evansville, Ind., July 6.—Twenty-five policemen twice prevented a lynching at the jail in this city, but their bravery was not sufficient to avert a bitter race war between negroes and the white mobs that sought the life of Lee Brown, the negro slayer of Patrolman Louis N. Massey.

The mobs smashed down iron gates and were part way into the jail before they were repulsed by the policemen. Their efforts to lynch Brown aroused the enmity of the negroes of the city, who gathered about the jail and made a threatening demonstration. The negroes were chased away by a crowd of white men. Mutterings of revenge are heard and a clash may be precipitated at any time.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

How Sick You Are or How Many Physicians Have Failed to Help You.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy will Cure You if a Cure is Possible.

Doctors are not infallible and there are many instances where they have decided a case was hopeless and then the patients astonished everyone by getting well and the sole cause of their cure was Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. A case in point is that of James Lettuce of Canajoharie, N. Y., who writes:

"Some years ago I was attacked with pains in my back and side that were fearful in the extreme. I could not control my kidneys at all and what came from them was mucous and blood. I was in a terrible state and suffered intensely. A prominent physician of Albany, N. Y., decided that an operation was all that would save me. I dreaded that and commenced to take Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. I felt better almost instantly. When I had taken about two bottles, the flow from the bladder was much cleaner, the pain stopped, and I was saved from the surgeon's knife and am now well."

No form of kidney, liver, bladder or blood disease, or the distressing sicknesses so common to women, can long withstand the great curative power of this famous specific. Its record of cures has made it famous in medical circles everywhere.

It is for sale by all druggists in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles—less than a cent a dose.
Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail.

POPE LEO'S END NEAR

Rome, July 6—3 a. m.—"God's will be done. Who would have believed it, when only 10 days ago I was presiding over a public consistory?" murmured feebly Pope Leo as he felt himself, late last evening, sinking into a sleep which lasted about three hours until excruciating pain brought the dying pontiff back to consciousness. He groaned and complained of pains on both sides of the thorax. Tenderly Dr. Lapponi, assisted by Pope Leo's valet, Pio Centra, and the physician's second assistant, De Castro, lifted the frail form and changing the position, succeeded in giving the patient some relief.

Though hovering on the brink of death, the life of the pontiff is still prolonged by means of strong stimulants and concentrated nourishment, and while he is still alive his wonderful vitality may again resist and conquer the attack of this illness.

The solemn yet gorgeous ceremony of administering the last sacrament took place at the bedside of Pope Leo. The central figure was the dying pontiff, whose long life's journey is nearly over, calmly preparing to enter the dark valley. His pale and emaciated face, almost as white as the pillows on which it rested showed little sign of life, except the keen glittering eyes, always his most striking feature.

Around the bed were grouped the noble guards, in the glittering uniform, the knights of the cloak and sword, their picturesque medieval costume of black with white ruffles; 25 cardinals, all the members of the sacred college who were present in Rome, stately and venerable figures in their sweeping crimson robes, the whole forming a scene of rich yet subdued coloring, a fit subject for the pencil of Rembrandt. The whole of what is called the pontifical family, headed by Cardinal Rampolla and including all the private chamberlains, were there. Nearest to the bed stood the imposing, tall figure of the cardinal grand penitentiary, Serafino Vannutelli, with the pope's confessor, to hear the last confession of the departing pontiff. Then the priest apostolic approached bearing the viaticum to give the last communion and administer the extreme unction, assisted by the grand penitentiary. Pope Leo feebly recited the confession of faith, as formulated by the council of Trent, and finally the words of absolution and the formula of indulgence in articulo mortis were solemnly pronounced by the grand penitentiary.

Pope Pronounced Benediction.

The heads of the great religious orders who were present granted the pope the special indulgences which they have the privilege of conferring. Then came the touching prayers for a passing soul and part of the gospel, the Lord's passion. As the last words died away all fell on their knees. The pontiff, raising his almost transparent fingers with a feeble effort, pronounced in scarcely audible words his benediction on the sacred college and on all present and then sank back on the pillows. There was scarcely a tearless eye in the whole assemblage; the sobs of the pope's relatives were plainly heard. Deep silence followed, only broken now and again by a murmured prayer or a pious ejaculation.

In the portion of the loggia of Raphael, adjoining the papal apartments, were the families of Count Riccardo Pecci and Count Moroni, the pope's nephews.

Late last evening after the excitement of the ceremony of the last sacraments was over, the pope seemed less restless, partly soothed by the religious service and partly by a dose of chloral, which was given to him in considerable quantities.

End Is Near.

The interior of the vatican during the early hours of this morning testifies to the conviction that the passing of Pope Leo is very near. The courtyard of St. Damasco is filled with the carriages of the cardinals. Cardinal Satolli drove to Rome from Frascati, the beautiful carriage horses covered with dust and perspiration. In the cortile are drawn up the carriages of the cardinals and of many notables. Servants and messengers hurry across the court with bundles of huge wax tapers and with the robes of the ecclesiastical dignitaries who are waiting within the palace. The ante chambers of the palace were all through the night thronged with princes of the church, high noblemen and members of the diplomatic corps. Telegrams of inquiry have been received from several of the monarchs of Europe.

Probable Successor.

All kinds of speculation are already in circulation as to the probable successor to the throne of St. Peter. Opinions are much divided owing to the many interests which will be affected according to the choice made by the sacred college. The first question the cardinals will have to solve will be whether the conclave shall be held in Rome or outside of Italy. It is believed that the supporters of the idea of abandoning Rome will be even fewer than in the conclave held in favor of Rome. The second question will be whether the next pope must be an Italian or a foreigner. It is generally believed that he will be an Italian because in view of the struggle between the church and the state since the fall of the temporal power and the constitution of united Italy all the clergy, as well as the clerical party and even foreigners, think that an Italian pope can protect better than a stranger the advance of the religious and political interests of the church.

The candidates chiefly spoken of are Cardinal Rampolla and Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli. They are both representatives of the conservative policy, but are bitter antagonists.

Oyster Bay, July 6.—Senator Hanna, accompanied by Mrs. Hanna and a small party of friends, is expected at Sagamore Hill early this week. The party will arrive in a yacht in which Mr. Hanna proposes to take a short cruise, and will take luncheon with the president and Mrs. Roosevelt and their house guests. Assurance is given that the senator's call will be purely social and will have no political significance.

President Roosevelt, the members of his family and his guests attended services Sunday at Christ Episcopal church. When the carriages reached the outskirts of the village at the conclusion of the service the president and one of his friends alighted and walked home across the country.

Hanna Disposes of Business Interests.

Cleveland, July 6.—According to a story printed by the Leader Senator M. A. Hanna has disposed of all his business interests which necessitated his personal oversight and is now merely a stockholder in but one or two of the several large concerns in which he was largely interested. The reason for this, the Leader states, is to give the senator more time to devote to politics, having come to the conclusion that he cannot do justice to both business and politics at the same time. Senator Hanna has left for the east and will take an extended trip on the private yacht of C. A. Griscom, beginning within a day or two. Mrs. Hanna and Miss Phelps, the latter a relative, accompanied him east.

City Secretary Shot by Son.

Dallas, Tex., July 6.—L. A. Moore, secretary of the city of Dallas, was shot and almost instantly killed by his son Ernest, aged 22 years. Moore, it is alleged, had been drinking and had attacked his younger son. The other son, Ernest, was remonstrating with the father, who turned upon him, when the son fired the fatal shot. Moore was well known in Texas, having been a deputy sheriff of Dallas county in the early history of the city.

American League Gossip

The winner of this season's race in the American league looks even harder to pick than last. Larry La Joie's Cleveland club, on account of its wonderful spurt in the closing days of last year's season, is the popular choice of the fans, but the more conservative critics agree that any one of six clubs has a good chance at the bunting and that no one of the entire eight can be counted out of the competition.

Cleveland has an aggregation of individual stars and as a batting team is one of the strongest that have ever been gathered together. Toward the end of last season the club made a spurt that indicated it to be the superior of any of the other clubs in the American league. It is essentially a team of stars, however, and only after this season's test will it be known just how steady the team will be in a long, grueling race. The unfortunate illness of La Joie early in the season has undoubtedly been a big handicap to the Clevelanders.

Jimmy Collins' Boston and St. Louis Americans are generally ranked next by the critics. These two clubs have run neck and neck for the past two seasons, and either one is dangerous in any company. Both are strong in pitchers, both have fast working infields and hard hitting outfields. But, more than all this, they are seasoned teams, with team work figured down to a fine point.

In New York Clark Griffith has a team whose elements of strength are much the same as those possessed by the White Sox of last year. Its infield is not a tried one such as played on the south side grounds in Chicago last summer, but it is essentially a "wise" team.

With Keeler, Fultz, Davis and McFarland "Grif" has perhaps the fastest and best outfield in the business. Ganzel, Williams, Long and Conroy do not look particularly formidable as an infield combination, but there are some wise fielders in the bunch, and if Ganzel can hit in the form he displayed at Louisville last summer the men may surprise the critics.

MANAGER TOM LOFTUS OF WASHINGTON.

It is in the batteries, however, that the Greater New Yorks look strong. If Griffith is himself this season so as to take his regular turn with Chesbro and Tannehill the New York Americans will have what is perhaps the strongest pitching staff of any of the teams, and Jack O'Connor is one of the wisest and most clever catchers in the business.

The champion Athletics, despite their remarkable showing last season, are not strongly favored as repeaters. Last year when they went to the top they were favored by the fact that the Chicago, Cleveland and Washington teams were weakened whenever they met the Athletics on their home grounds through the ruling of the Philadelphia courts, and with this handicap it was only the wonderful pitching of Rube Waddell and the generalship of Connie Mack that brought them the championship.

This year they have lost Fultz, their best run getter, and, while Mack may again surprise the wise ones, his team does not look so strong as New York, Cleveland, Boston or St. Louis.

Tom Loftus still has a team of sluggers at Washington, and, with the infield strengthened by the addition of Demontreville, he will always be dangerous, no matter with what team he is playing. The Detroit team, too, with a new manager and a team strengthened both in the outfield and in the pitching department, is strong, although still somewhat of an unknown quantity.

While all seven of the clubs named can see where they have a chance for first honors, Chicago fans are particularly interested in the White Sox. Comiskey and Callahan admittedly have a "dark horse" aggregation this season as compared with that of last year, but no owner more than the "Old Roman" is better prepared to get the winners out of just that sort of material.

Isbell is bigger than ever this year and hopes to hit in better form than last season. As a fielding first base man he is almost in a class by himself, and Daly at second is one of the most reliable and "wisest" players in the business.

Tannehill made a good record as a shortstop with George Tebeau's crack Louisville team last year, and he has all the earmarks of the natural ball player. He can cover lots of ground, always gets the ball in a position to throw it and was credited with being a good man at the bat in the American association.

The catching department of the White Sox is the same as last year, and that means that it is the best there is. No catcher has much on either Sullivan or McFarland, and this year "Mac" is hitting in his old time form and should be even more valuable than last season.

With Hallman making good in the outfield, Davis reporting, Gleason and Tannehill filling the vacancy left by Strang and both catchers back, it is up to the pitching department to make the team as strong as it was last season.

LAVE CROSS, CAPTAIN PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS.

As to whether or not the young twirlers can do this the season's games only will show. Griffith's departure is indeed a loss, but it must be remembered that he was practically absent from the game so far as the pitcher's box was concerned for more than half of last season.

Of the old twirlers Callahan and Patterson are both back. If the managerial berth does as much for Callahan as it did for "Grif" the new manager should also be a new pitcher this year. Last season he, too, was out of form a good share of the time, but this season there is a good prospect that he will not only keep in condition, but be in the best form of his life.

Patterson is always reliable and is reported to be farther along in conditioning than usual this year. White, the new south paw, has already proved his worth with the Philadelphia National league team. He will be a strong man as the season advances.

Many a person's whole pleasure in life is ruined by the fear of nervous headaches. Any little excitement, no matter what, business or social, brings them on. The feet and hands grow cold, the head is hot, the eyes stiff, the temples throb, and only in the quiet of a darkened room is relief found. This condition must be checked or it means complete mental ruin. To those people Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills come as a blessing. They do not stop, they cure the headaches. They do not blanket, they build up. They put the nervous system in a strong, vigorous, sturdy condition—a condition that gives one resistive power and enables them to again enjoy life's pleasures.

Mrs. George Hall, of No. 389 West Market Street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "I was bilious—had nervous headaches, hard and constant—there was a general feeling of weakness and depression. I was asked to try Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and did so, getting them at Larkins' drug store. The result was very good indeed as the biliousness overcome—the headaches cured and bodily and nerve strength furnished."

The Visitors Made Desperate But Ineffectual Attempts to Win Both.

LOTS OF KNOCKING DONE

By the Crowd That Attended the Morning Game—Base Ball Was in Full Blast All Day And No Diamond Was Unoccupied Long.

From a baseball standpoint, the Fourth of July in East Liverpool was a grand success. In West End park two of the prettiest games ever played in the vicinity were witnessed by large crowds and there was not a park or a diamond in or about the city that was not occupied by teams ranging from the Sixth street Bums to the least aggregations of the Crockery City league. Many of the teams, a number of which no reports could be gained, played both morning and afternoon.

A deadening feature of the first battle of the locals and the Fairbanks in West End park was the sweltering heat. Old Sol seemed to be in his glory while shining with awful torridity over the play-ground. The fans suffered much but the boys on the diamond were so heated that their every muscle and nerve was exerted to the utmost in their effort to stay in the game. Their wearing apparel, soaked with prespiration, hung to them like a wet rag. In the afternoon, however, the park was in superb condition. A heavy rain of short duration had cooled the atmosphere and throughout the afternoon threatening clouds intercepted and the sun's rays, which together with a gentle northerly wind, converted the ball ground into a cool and comfortable state.

The Fairbanks made a desperate effort to win both of the games. The shutout on the preceding day was the first that had been dealt them in four years and before the morning battle, Yoedt, the little German pitcher, said he would win the game or die in the attempt. He did neither, but made a creditable showing and hed he had support might have carried out his assertion. A few more such games as the morning contest, however, will kill baseball in this city.

What possessed about 75 of the fans is hard to determine. They certainly gained a reputation for "knocking" that will be long remembered. It seemed to be their fondest hope that the locals would suffer defeat and they took special delight in howling themselves hoarse upon a good play of a visitor and upon a poor one of a local. Their knocks did them little good further than securing for themselves a record that will stay with them.

It was another scrappy game, the visitors kicking on every decision, fair or otherwise, and what they made out but such demonstrations was evidenced when they got their only run and were saved another shutout through a big howl in the sixth inning. Mangold made the run. He stepped up and fanned viciously at the ball twice and when he saw a wild one coming at him, knowing that Emmerling could not stop it he struck at it and before Emmerling fielded the ball had reached third base. Capt. Reark rushed into the diamond and objected strenuously to the umpire allowing him to remain at third, stating that the ground rule was that only one base can be taken on a passed ball. This agreement was also made before the first game on Thursday.

The visitors kicked and pawed around until Mangold was permitted to hold the bag. Bardelang went out to Gibson and while Webb was throwing Volbright out at first Mangold scored. Gitzen, the next up, got a pretty single, and the following two players walked. The bases were full and for the first time in the series the visitors had a fighting chance to tie the score or possibly win. Gitzen obliterated the opportunity, however, by attempting to make it home and being called out for interfering with a ball thrown by Emmerling to third. He jumped in the air and blocked the ball. The Fairbanks put up another howl on this decision, but to no avail.

The locals did their scoring in the first inning, three men reaching the goal in rapid succession on four hits, one of them a three-bagger by Wallace. The latter made a home run of it by running past third into the catcher and knocking the ball from his hand. The remainder of the game was very closely played, neither side making an error and hits being scattered.

The afternoon game was considered the best of the series. And that the locals won again was due to their superiority, not luck or favoritism on the part of the umpire. The twirlers were evenly matched, the hits being 8 and 7. It was in this game as in the morning, the locals made their jump in the first inning. Three men scored on three hits and an error. Nolan got first on Yoedt's error and made the goal on Wallace's single. The latter was advanced to third on a hit by Brown and both of them went bounding over the plate on a two-bagger by Webb. The next run was scored in the fifth. Wallace landed for three bases and was sent home on a two bagger by Brown.

a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! no baking! add boiling water and set to cool. Flavors:—Lemon, Orange, Raspberry and Strawberry. Get a package at your grocers to-day. 10 cts.

The only run scored by the visitors was made through an error by Gibson. Gitzen singled, stole second, advanced to third when Lippert walked and when Yoedt popped a little one to Gibson the latter became confused owing to some antics made by Brown and dropped it, allowing the runner to score. At no other time in the game did they have an opportunity to score, but they played with their might throughout. The score:

Following was the lineup of the teams, the pitchers in the second game being Davidson and Henkle.

Grays Lost Again.

The East End Grays met their sixth defeat at the hands of the second Y. M. C. A. team Saturday morning at Columbian park. So far the team has not won a victory and there may be a general shaking up among the players, changes of position, etc. The game was easy for the preachers, the Grays failing to score until the ninth inning. NO SOLUTION FOR THE DIVORCE EVIL

By MARCEL PREVOST, French Litterateur

AS society is built up from and rests on the family, there are no questions of greater importance than those which concern the family, and just now the question of divorce or no divorce, of divorce for one or for more reasons, is agitating the minds of the most eminent thinkers, lawmakers and sociologists all over the world.

From articles in the American press one gets the impression that the general opinion is that those who suffer most in unhappy marriages and who strongly favor liberal divorce laws are the women.

And, still, when a French magazine sent a list of questions to prominent French women we saw the surprising result that MOST OF THEM CAME OUT VERY STRONGLY IN FAVOR OF INDISSOLUBLE MARRIAGE.

Public opinion has always treated man very leniently. A man may get a divorce, he may figure as corespondent in a divorce suit, or his wife may get a divorce from him on statutory grounds, and we will always find plenty of excuses for him; we will smilingly call his escapades trifles that ought to be forgiven, AND HIS REPUTATION AND STANDING IN SOCIETY WILL NOT SUFFER.

A man that transgresses and breaks his marriage vows is and always has been considered interesting by the weaker sex, except when they happened to be personally interested in the case.

BUT IF WOMAN SINS EVERYTHING IS CHANGED. If she commits only one error and is found out, she is never forgiven, and her own sex will judge her much more harshly than men will. A divorced woman has no friends. She finds every door closed against her, and no matter how hard she tries she can never build up her lost reputation. She may be as pure and innocent as a child; she may go to live in a strange city. THE VERY MINUTE IT IS FOUND OUT THAT SHE IS A DIVORCED WOMAN SHE IS DOOMED AND DROPPED FROM THE LISTS OF GOOD SOCIETY.

This is the reason why woman, who formerly was always anxious to have liberal divorce laws passed, is now firmly arrayed against anything that will make a dissolution of marriage easier.

Evansville, Ind., July 6.—Twenty-five policemen twice prevented a lynching at the jail in this city, but their bravery was not sufficient to avert a bitter race war between negroes and the white mobs that sought the life of Lee Brown, the negro slayer of Patrolman Louis N. Massey.

The mobs smashed down iron gates and were part way into the jail before they were repulsed by the policemen. Their efforts to lynch Brown aroused the enmity of the negroes of the city, who gathered about the jail and made a threatening demonstration. The negroes were chased away by a crowd of white men. Mutterings of revenge are heard and a clash may be precipitated at any time.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

POPE LEO'S END NEAR

Rome, July 6—3 a. m.—"God's will be done. Who would have believed it, when only 10 days ago I was presiding over a public consistory?" murmured feebly Pope Leo as he felt himself, late last evening, sinking into a sleep which lasted about three hours until excruciating pain brought the dying pontiff back to consciousness. He groaned and complained of pains on both sides of the thorax. Tenderly Dr. Lapponi, assisted by Pope Leo's valet, Pio Centra, and the physician's second assistant, De Castro, lifted the frail form and changing the position, succeeded in giving the patient some relief.

Though hovering on the brink of death, the life of the pontiff is still prolonged by means of strong stimulants and concentrated nourishment, and while he is still alive his wonderful vitality may again resist and conquer the attack of this illness.

The solemn yet gorgeous ceremony of administering the last sacrament took place at the bedside of Pope Leo. The central figure was the dying pontiff, whose long life's journey is nearly over, calmly preparing to enter the dark valley. His pale and emaciated face, almost as white as the pillows on which it rested showed little sign of life, except the keen glittering eyes, always his most striking feature.

Around the bed were grouped the noble guards, in the glittering uniform, the knights of the cloak and sword, their picturesque medieval costume of black with white ruffles; 25 cardinals, all the members of the sacred college who were present in Rome, stately and venerable figures in their sweeping crimson robes, the whole forming a scene of rich yet subdued coloring, a fit subject for the pencil of Rembrandt. The whole of what is called the pontifical family, headed by Cardinal Rampolla and including all the private chamberlains, were there. Nearest to the bed stood the imposing, tall figure of the cardinal grand penitentiary, Serafino Vannutelli, with the pope's confessor, to hear the last confession of the departing pontiff. Then the priest apostolic approached bearing the viaticum to give the last communion and administer the extreme unction, assisted by the grand penitentiary. Pope Leo feebly recited the confession of faith, as formulated by the council of Trent, and finally the words of absolution and the formula of indulgence in articulo mortis were solemnly pronounced by the grand penitentiary.

Pope Pronounced Benediction.

The heads of the great religious orders who were present granted the pope the special indulgences which they have the privilege of conferring. Then came the touching prayers for a passing soul and part of the gospel, the Lord's passion. As the last words died away all fell on their knees. The pontiff, raising his almost transparent fingers with a feeble effort, pronounced in scarcely audible words his benediction on the sacred college and on all present and then sank back on the pillows. There was scarcely a tearless eye in the whole assemblage; the sobs of the pope's relatives were plainly heard. Deep silence followed, only broken now and again by a murmured prayer or a pious ejaculation.

In the portion of the loggia of Raphael, adjoining the papal apartments, were the families of Count Riccardo Pecci and Count Moroni, the pope's nephews.

Late last evening after the excitement of the ceremony of the last sacraments was over, the pope seemed less restless, partly soothed by the religious service and partly by a dose of chloral, which was given to him in considerable quantities.

End Is Near.

The interior of the vatican during the early hours of this morning testifies to the conviction that the passing of Pope Leo is very near. The courtyard of St. Damasco is filled with the carriages of the cardinals. Cardinal Satolli drove to Rome from Frascati, the beautiful carriage horses covered with dust and perspiration. In the cortile are drawn up the carriages of the cardinals and of many notables. Servants and messengers hurry across the court with bundles of huge wax tapers and with the robes of the ecclesiastical dignitaries who are waiting within the palace. The ante chambers of the palace were all through the night thronged with princes of the church, high noblemen and members of the diplomatic corps. Telegrams of inquiry have been received from several of the monarchs of Europe.

Probable Successor.

All kinds of speculation are already in circulation as to the probable successor to the throne of St. Peter. Opinions are much divided owing to the many interests which will be affected according to the choice made by the sacred college. The first question the cardinals will have to solve will be whether the conclave shall be held in Rome or outside of Italy. It is believed that the supporters of the idea of abandoning Rome will be even fewer than in the conclave held in favor of Rome. The second question will be whether the next pope must be an Italian or a foreigner. It is generally believed that he will be an Italian because in view of the struggle between the church and the state since the fall of the temporal power and the constitution of united Italy all the clergy, as well as the clerical party and even foreigners, think that an Italian pope can protect better than a stranger the advance of the religious and political interests of the church.

The candidates chiefly spoken of are Cardinal Rampolla and Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli. They are both representatives of the conservative policy, but are bitter antagonists.

How Sick You Are or How Many Physicians Have Failed to Help You.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy will Cure You if a Cure is Possible.

Doctors are not infallible and there are many instances where they have decided a case was hopeless and then the patients astonished everyone by getting well and the sole cause of their cure was Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. A case in point is that of James Lettuce of Canajoharie, N. Y., who writes:

"Some years ago I was attacked with pains in my back and side that were fearful in the extreme. I could not control my kidneys at all and what came from them was mucous and blood. I was in a terrible state and suffered intensely. A prominent physician of Albany, N. Y., decided that an operation was all that would save me. I dreaded that and commenced to take Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. I felt better almost instantly. When I had taken about two bottles, the flow from the bladder was much cleaner, the pain stopped, and I was saved from the surgeon's knife and am now well."

Dr. W. H. Morse, the famous physician of Westfield, N. J., has this to say of this great medicine:

No form of kidney, liver, bladder or blood disease, or the distressing sicknesses so common to women, can long withstand the great curative power of this famous specific. Its record of cures has made it famous in medical circles everywhere.

It is for sale by all druggists in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles—less than a cent a dose.

Oyster Bay, July 6.—Senator Hanna, accompanied by Mrs. Hanna and a small party of friends, is expected at Sagamore Hill early this week. The party will arrive in a yacht in which Mr. Hanna proposes to take a short cruise, and will take luncheon with the president and Mrs. Roosevelt and their house guests. Assurance is given that the senator's call will be purely social and will have no political significance.

President Roosevelt, the members of his family and his guests attended services Sunday at Christ Episcopal church. When the carriages reached the outskirts of the village at the conclusion of the service the president and one of his friends alighted and walked home across the country.

Hanna Disposes of Business Interests.

Cleveland, July 6.—According to a story printed by the Leader Senator M. A. Hanna has disposed of all his business interests which necessitated his personal oversight and is now merely a stockholder in but one or two of the several large concerns in which he was largely interested. The reason for this, the Leader states, is to give the senator more time to devote to politics, having come to the conclusion that he cannot do justice to both business and politics at the same time. Senator Hanna has left for the east and will take an extended trip on the private yacht of C. A. Griscom, beginning within a day or two. Mrs. Hanna and Miss Phelps, the latter a relative, accompanied him east.

City Secretary Shot by Son.

Dallas, Tex., July 6.—L. A. Moore, secretary of the city of Dallas, was shot and almost instantly killed by his son Ernest, aged 22 years. Moore, it is alleged, had been drinking and had attacked his younger son. The other son, Ernest, was remonstrating with the father, who turned upon him, when the son fired the fatal shot. Moore was well known in Texas, having been a deputy sheriff of Dallas county in the early history of the city.

American League Gossip

The winner of this season's race in the American league looks even harder to pick than last. Larry La Joie's Cleveland club, on account of its wonderful spurt in the closing days of last year's season, is the popular choice of the fans, but the more conservative critics agree that any one of six clubs has a good chance at the bunting and that no one of the entire eight can be counted out of the competition.

Cleveland has an aggregation of individual stars and as a batting team is one of the strongest that have ever been gathered together. Toward the end of last season the club made a spurt that indicated it to be the superior of any of the other clubs in the American league. It is essentially a team of stars, however, and only after this season's test will it be known just how steady the team will be in a long, grueling race. The unfortunate illness of La Joie early in the season has undoubtedly been a big handicap to the Clevelanders.

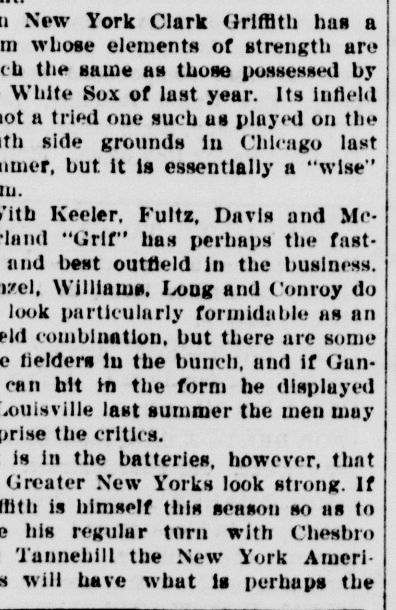
Jimmy Collins' Boston and St. Louis Americans are generally ranked next by the critics. These two clubs have run neck and neck for the past two seasons, and either one is dangerous in any company. Both are strong in pitchers, both have fast working infields and hard hitting outfields. But, more than all this, they are seasoned teams, with team work figured down to a fine point.

In New York Clark Griffith has a team whose elements of strength are much the same as those possessed by the White Sox of last year. Its infield is not a tried one such as played on the south side grounds in Chicago last summer, but it is essentially a "wise" team.

With Keeler, Fultz, Davis and McFarland "Grif" has perhaps the fastest and best outfield in the business. Ganzel, Williams, Long and Conroy do not look particularly formidable as an infield combination, but there are some wise fielders in the bunch, and if Ganzel can hit in the form he displayed at Louisville last summer the men may surprise the critics.

It is in the batteries, however, that the Greater New Yorks look strong. If Griffith is himself this season so as to take his regular turn with Chesbro and Tannehill the New York Americans will have what is perhaps the strongest pitching staff of any of the teams, and Jack O'Connor is one of the wisest and most clever catchers in the business.



MANAGER TOM LOFTUS OF WASHINGTON.

The champion Athletics, despite their remarkable showing last season, are not strongly favored as repeaters. Last year when they went to the top they were favored by the fact that the Chicago, Cleveland and Washington teams were weakened whenever they met the Athletics on their home grounds through the ruling of the Philadelphia courts, and with this handicap it was only the wonderful pitching of Rube Waddell and the generalship of Connie Mack that brought them the championship.

This year they have lost Fultz, their best run getter, and, while Mack may again surprise the wise ones, his team does not look so strong as New York, Cleveland, Boston or St. Louis.

Tom Loftus still has a team of sluggers at Washington, and, with the infield strengthened by the addition of Demontreville, he will always be dangerous, no matter with what team he is playing. The Detroit team, too, with a new manager and a team strengthened both in the outfield and in the pitching department, is strong, although still somewhat of an unknown quantity.

While all seven of the clubs named can see where they have a chance for first honors, Chicago fans are particularly interested in the White Sox. Comiskey and Callahan admittedly have a "dark horse" aggregation this season as compared with that of last year, but no owner more than the "Old Roman" is better prepared to get the winners out of just that sort of material.

Isbell is bigger than ever this year and hopes to hit in better form than last season. As a fielding first base man he is almost in a class by himself, and Daly at second is one of the most reliable and "wisest" players in the business.

Tannehill made a good record as a shortstop with George Tebeau's crack Louisville team last year, and he has all the earmarks of the natural ball player. He can cover lots of ground, always gets the ball in a position to throw it and was credited with being a good man at the bat in the American association.

The catching department of the White Sox is the same as last year, and that means that it is the best there is. No catcher has much on either Sullivan or McFarland, and this year "Mac" is hitting in his old time form and should be even more valuable than last season.

With Hallman making good in the outfield, Davis reporting, Gleason and Tannehill filling the vacancy left by Strang and both catchers back, it is up to the pitching department to make the team as strong as it was last season.

As to whether or not the young twirlers can do this the season's games only will show. Griffith's departure is indeed a loss, but it must be remembered that he was practically absent from the game so far as the pitcher's box was concerned for more than half of last season.

LAVE CROSS, CAPTAIN PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS.

Of the old twirlers Callahan and Patterson are both back. If the managerial berth does as much for Callahan as it did for "Grif" the new manager should also be a new pitcher this year. Last season he, too, was out of form a good share of the time, but this season there is a good prospect that he will not only keep in condition, but be in the best form of his life.

Patterson is always reliable and is reported to be farther along in conditioning than usual this year. White, the new south paw, has already proved his worth with the Philadelphia National league team. He will be a strong man as the season advances.

This condition must be checked or it means complete mental ruin. To those people Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills come as a blessing. They do not stop, they cure the headaches. They do not blanket, they build up. They put the nervous system in a strong, vigorous, sturdy condition—a condition that gives one resistive power and enables them to again enjoy life's pleasures.

Mrs. George Hall, of No. 389 West Market Street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "I was bilious—had nervous headaches, hard and constant—there was a general feeling of weakness and depression. I was asked to try Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and did so, getting them at Larkins' drug store. The result was very good indeed as the biliousness overcome—the headaches cured and bodily and nerve strength furnished."

the heat off. Sam Growe, who held the ribbons on Ed White, became angry and got back at the judges before the afternoon was over. Ed White won easily in straight heats, the best time being 2:59¼.

The half-mile race for three-year-olds was the best event on the card and five local horses responded to the bell. Congressman, owned and driven by young Lewis Brunt, won easily in the first heat, with John Rinehart's Jesse James leading the rest of the field. Congressman went off his feet in the second heat and finished third to Jesse James and Manila D. In the third heat Congressman made a game race, but was cut out twice by other drivers. Manila D. just escaped being set back and before the next heat all the drivers were warned. Congressman took the fourth heat and the race in a close finish. Manila D. in spite of her lameness had led to the quarter, when she broke, Congressman pushing ahead. The mare went up again on the home stretch and ran nearly all the way in, finishing second to Congressman. She was set back to third place by the judges and thus lost second money. Bertville and Tom Spruceby were not better than fourth and fifth. Best time, 1:34.

Redmond and Ikey Boy were the entries in the free-for-all pace, but Sam Growe, the trainer of the latter, was sore at the calling down he had received from the judges, and did not want to start. He brought Ikey Boy to the track, but delayed a start half an hour to the disgust of the judges and the spectators. Finally he scored down with Redmond and they were sent away. It was apparent to all that he was pulling the head off his horse, as the pace was not even fast enough to give Redmond a working out. The time given for the heat was 2:38.

W. J. Watson Tells What Cooper's Remedies Have Done For Him. Free Show Tonight.

Cooper's Fourth of July show and concert was largely attended Saturday night despite the multiplicity of attractions elsewhere. The fact is that the people appreciate Cooper and his efforts to entertain as well as cure them, and the attractions he presented Saturday night were on a scale of magnificence seldom seen in this part of the country. That they were enjoyed and appreciated was evidenced by the applause given the performers and musicians.

Cooper added to his laurels in the way of strong evidence as to the value of Dr. Cooper's New Discovery as a great and marvelous restorer of the afflicted human system to healthful and normal conditions. W. J. Watson, a well known resident of the East End, has been troubled for years with stomach disorder and rheumatism. His tongue was coated; he couldn't eat with a relish; he was restless at night and he never felt like going to work. One bottle of Dr. Cooper's New Discovery cured the ailment and made a new man of him. He was also cured of the rheumatism by two applications of Dr. Cooper's Quick Relief. Nothing like these two great remedies and now is the time to buy, as the supply for this place is limited. Salesrooms open all day and every day at 301 Lincoln avenue.

An entire change of program tonight on Brunt's hill. Everything is absolutely free, and you are invited. You miss an entertainment of merit if you miss Cooper's.

CLOUDBURST AT PARK

SIMILAR TO JOHNSTOWN HORROR

Jeanette, Pa., July 6.—Fifty to 75 men, women and children perished by a cloudbust in Oakford park. The majority were drowned or their lives beaten out against the rocks in Brush creek, but quite a number were electrocuted.

At the base of the hillside, upon which the park is laid out, is the car barns and a large frame restaurant, the latter being constructed mainly with a view of sheltering the park visitors from the rays of the sun and from summer showers. Those who were in the neighborhood of these buildings ran for them for shelter from the sudden downpour, while others, and, of course, the greater number, sought the hillside.

Rising Waters Bust Dam.

The dam began rising ominously and it was but a few minutes later when 40 feet of the dam gave way, and a solid wall of water, 20 feet high, rushed down and completely filled the narrow ravine, with its car tracks, car barn and restaurant.

In front of the car barn stood a car containing from 50 to 70 passengers, many of them seeking to return to Jeannette, others using it as a temporary shelter.

With the immense body of water behind it, the crest of the flood bore down with irresistible force. As it swept down the narrow ravine it carried with it the loaded car and the crowded restaurant. The flood was filled with men, women and children struggling for their lives.

The poles carrying the heavily charged trolley wires were uprooted and strewn along the grounds. In a number of instances—how many is not yet known—the victims of the flood, grasping for anything that might save them from the fury of the water, seized the trolley wires and met death by being electrocuted instead of being drowned. Several bodies have already been recovered that show that death was the result of this cause.

Number Drowned Unknown.

Forty persons were in the restaurant when it collapsed. A much greater number were in the car barn when it was flooded, and it is not known how many were drowned there. The car, with its 50 to 75 passengers, was swept into Brush creek. The first estimate of 50 to 75 lives lost seems inadequate, but the excitement and sorrow is so intense that it cannot be determined how many managed to escape what seemed to inevitable death.

Among those known to be lost, although it is very difficult to secure names, is one party composed of Henry Fink and wife and the Misses Gertrude Keefer and Lucy Crum, all of Jeannette.

The flood kept on down Brush creek to about 300 yards east of Jeannette. Here the Pennsylvania railroad embankment checked the torrent, now a deep and comparatively quiet lake covering over 20 acres of ground. It is here, as the water swirled and eddied before losing its torrential force, that it is expected the greater number of the bodies of victims will be found. It will be several days before the flood subsides sufficiently to allow a satisfactory exploration.

There was no staying the flood. The torrent coursed down through Jeannette and flooded the south end of the town. No lives were lost here, however, although many had narrow escapes. There were a great number of heroic rescues from flooded homes.

Penn, but a short distance from Jeannette, was the next victim. Here, in part of this busy glass town, the water was 20 feet and there are known to be three victims. Mrs. Liga, colored, with her four children, occupied a small frame house. The building was carried away and but two of the children saved.

When the news of the disaster reached Jeannette the mayor and other city officials took prompt action looking toward the recovery of the dead and the relief of the living.

The fire bells were rung to call the firemen together, warning was sent out to the police to gather at headquarters, and it was but a short time before a large and thoroughly equipped rescue party was organized.

DEAD OF THE DAY.

Mrs. Calhary Morris.

Laporte, Ind., July 6.—Dr. Camillus S. Fahnestock, a member of the faculty of Hahneman medical college, Chicago, died at Laporte of apoplexy and stomach hemorrhage. He was born in Ohio in 1847.

A. C. Cass.

Denver, July 6.—A. C. Cass, first vice president and traffic manager of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, died at Redstone, Cal., at the summer home of John C. Osgood, where Mr. Cass had been visiting. Death was due to a general breaking down of the system and from overwork. Mr. Cass was born in Wisconsin in 1850.
